ANTI-LYNCH BILL SCUTTLED WHILE BACKERS BLUSH

Wagner Is Target of Political Gibes.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—The corpse of the Wagner-Van Nuys anti-lynching bill, which was killed just a month ago when the senate refused to adopt a cloture rule to pass it, was removed from the floor today by a vote of 58 to 22.

Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, a supporter of the anti-lynching bill, made the motion to lay it and take up instead the administration's 250 million dollar supplemental relief appropriation measure. Proponents of the anti-lynching bill thus were placed in the embarrassing predicament of having to vote to lay it aside.

Most embarrassed under a barrage of merciless Republican jeering was Senator Robert F. Wagner [D., N. Y.], whose efforts to disclaim any political interest in the bill merely encouraged his adversaries.

Postponement Is Defeated.

"I know I am on a spot, but I never evade responsibility," Wagner protested. "I have pioneered in this body for federal relief legislation. I could not and I would not stand in the way of enacting a measure that will provide employment for suffering human beings."

Wagner sought to amend Barkley's motion so that the anti-lynching bill would be laid aside only temporarily, until March 28, but Vice President John N. Garner sustained a point of order against his amendment.

"I had hoped," Wagner said, "that some of us might go to the country with this issue and that by rousing public sentiment and public indignation we could induce other senators to vote for cloture."

"I wouldn't vote for cloture if every person in Christendom asked me to," replied Senator Hiram Johnson [R., Cal.], a supporter of the bill.

Calls Filibuster Feeble.

"There has been no sincere effort to pass this bill. This filibuster has been a pink tea affair—a feather duster filibuster. Senators talk about speaking for six days or eight days when they mean speaking from noon until 5 o'clock. What kind of a filibuster is that? Why haven't we had night sessions if you wanted this bill passed? You are just playing a game."

"Uh, uh, uh," Senator Wagner muttered, his face reddening. "It is difficult to keep a quorum here for night sessions. We have had some trouble keeping a quorum in the daytime."

"Of course," said Senator Johnson, "if senators are not willing to stay here, you've got no real feeling for your bill. There is no sincere support for it."

Tries to Blame Republicans.

Wagner then sought to blame the Republicans for refusing to support cloture, pointing out that Senator Johnson and others had voted for cloture on previous occasions. To which Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, the Republican leader, replied:

"If every senator on this side had voted for cloture the first time it would have failed by 10 votes and if every Republican senator had voted for cloture the second time it would have failed by seven votes. Responsibility for the failure of this bill cannot be blamed on the Republicans.

"The bill failed because there was no attempt in good faith to pass it. It could have been passed if the President of the United States had supported it. There will come a time, however, when the Republicans will have a majority and then it will be passed."

Barkley Charges Cheap Politics.

Majority Leader Barkley accused McNary of playing "cheap politics" and recalled that the Republicans had a majority for 12 years prior to 1932 and did not pass the bill.

Ten Republicans voted against the Barkley motion, their strategy being to place full responsibility for shelving the measure upon the Democrats. They were joined by 11 Democrats and one Radical, Ernest Lundeen of Minnesota.

Voting for the motion to lay aside and take up the relief bill were four Republicans, 51 Democrats and three Radicals—Norris of Nebraska, La Follette of Wisconsin, and Shipstead of Minnesota. Senator William H. Dieterich [D., Ill.], voted to shelve the lynch bill, while Senator James Hamilton Lewis [D., Ill.], was absent.

DETROIT MAYOR WARS ON C. I. O. RELIEF CHEATS

Police Probe Fraud Complaints.

BY WILL O'NEIL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Squads of city policemen today began investigating the relief situation in Detroit, which authorities assert is shot with fraud as a result of the part taken in relief administration by the United Automobile Workers of America, a main cog in John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization.

Mayor Reading.

This unusual action was ordered by Mayor Richard W. Reading in his determination to stamp out irregularities which have been found in as many as 58 per cent of the cases recommended or sponsored by the auto workers' union. The mayor appealed to all citizens who have any knowledge of relief frauds to report directly to his office.

Mayor Reading last fall defeated Patrick H. O'Brien, the Committee for Industrial Organization candidate for mayor. Now Reading declares that he is trying to keep the C. I. O. from wrecking his administration.

Strike Used as Wedge.

The U. A. W. A. forced its way into the relief problem a year ago when the Chrysler corporation sit-down strike was in progress. The outlaw strikers seized the company's books and relief authorities had to turn to the union for information about employés who applied for relief.

This tieup with the union was revived last November when Relief Administrator G. R. Harris, his offices swamped with applications from victims of the depression, permitted the U. A. W. A. to make preliminary investigations of relief applications.

But the inefficiency of the union's investigations have become glaringly apparent. Police Inspector George Hertel said he and his men already have discovered irregularities in 175 out of 300 cases approved by the C. I. O. organization.

More than 200 complaints of relief fraud were turned over to four police squads today. Four more squads are scheduled to join the inquiry tomorrow. More will be supplied if needed, officials promised.

Pledges Business Administration.

Mayor Reading last week ordered Relief Administrator Harris to discontinue using the C. I. O. group in checking relief applications.

"The C. I. O. says I'm not going to run the relief business," Mayor Reading said today. "They are wrong. It is a public business and neither the C. I. O. nor any other organization outside the duly constituted authorities is going to run any city business.

"We are going to save every cent of city money that we can. As near as it can be done in a political organization, Detroit is going to be run on a business basis."

Although he refused to discuss the point, the mayor is reported to be facing trouble from within his relief organization as well as from the U. A. W. A. There are approximately 1,500 persons on the relief staf, administering city relief. Administrator Harris estimated that at least 200 of these people belong to a C. I. O. union of relief workers, but police officers asserted the number is much higher.

Relief Staf Favors Union.

The C. I. O. relief workers, it was said, help the union by favoring U. A. W. A. applicants for relief over nonunion applicants. Mayor Reading was reported to be worried over the practice of telling men who are not members of the union:

"You elected Reading; now you've got to suffer for it."

The mayor is said to be disturbed over Administrator Harris' sympathy for C. I. O. organizations.

The Detroit Welfare commission will meet Wednesday morning and the reports on the 300 U. A. W. A. sponsored relief cases will be presented to the commission then. The commission has the power to remove Harris, subject to an appeal to the civil service board.

Quiz in Exile's Killing Turns to Secret Friends

Investigation of the mysterious murder of Dr. Max Bernhard Sammet turned suddenly last night to a circle of wealthy friends whose identity he guarded carefully from student friends at the University of Illinois college of dentistry.

Police believe they may find the key to the murder if they can locate some of these secret friends. They suspect that Dr. Sammet may have been involved in some intrigue relating to the Nazi régime, which he is known to have blamed for his departure from Germany after fifteen years as a specialist in throat ailments caused by dental troubles.

Found Shot to Death.

Dr. Sammet, who came here last fall at the age of 43 to study for an American dentist's license, was found shot to death Sunday beneath the steps leading to an abandoned residence at 229 South Paulina street. Because he was not robbed, police believe that the murder was carefully planned.

Students with whom he fraternized at the college, at 1838 Harrison street, said he hinted that he was with wealthy north side friends at dinner on numerous occasions.

Dr. Sammet, a Jew, had often said he left Germany because of persecution of the Jewish people.

Names and addresses found in Dr. Sammet's room indicated that he was acquainted with well known Chicagoans and a number of celebrities. Among them were the names of Dr. Harry S. Gradle, who has offices at 58 East Washington street; Edward Lundsberg, president of the United States Brewing company; Burton Holmes, the travel lecturer, and Julius Samuels of 4516 Lake Park avenue.

Movie Stars Named.

Friends said that he had done dental work for Marion Davies, the late Irving Thalberg, Norma Shearer, and Lillian Gish at the fashionable health resort with which he was connected at Bad Nadheim, Germany, and that some of these persons had been his patients since he came to the United States. Dr. Gradle said he did not know Dr. Sammet personally, but that he came here highly recommended by Dr. Franz Gradle of New York, the Chicagoan's cousin.

One of the most mystifying phases of the case was the discrepancy police found in the chronology of Dr. Sammet's movements the day before he was murdered.

Miss Edna Anderson, 28, an X-ray technician at the Illinois Research hospital, told them she met Dr. Sammet in the loop at 4 p. m., went with him to a movie and then to dinner, and then went to her home at 4736 North Kildare avenue in his company. He left for his hotel at 1622 Jackson boulevard at 11:30 p. m., after inquiring the street car route, she said.

But two employés said he was in the hotel shortly before 5 p. m. One said he accepted payment of Dr. Sammet's bill and gave him a receipt.

'400' STRIKES AUTO; MOTORIST IS KILLED; LOCOMOTIVE DERAILED

Kenosha, Wis., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—The locomotive of the North Western southbound "400" train was derailed at the Park avenue road crossing three miles south of Kenosha at 8:40 tonight when the train collided with an automobile driven by Nathan Garb, 55 years old, a Kenosha lether merchant. Garb was killed. He was alone in his car.

Only the front truck of the locomotive left the rails, and it ran on the roadbed for more than a mile before the high speed train could be stopped. None of the cars left the rails. They were uncoupled and brought back to Kenosha to be picked up and taken to Chicago by another locomotive.

PAGE BOYS ASK CONGRESS TO PAY THEIR SCHOOLING

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—(AP)—The knickerbockered boys who run errands for congressmen passed around a petition today demanding a new deal in education.

The house and senate have about fifty of these youngsters employed as pages at $4 a day. Out of that they pay their living expenses and contribute $8 to $15 a month toward the operation of a special school at the capitol. The boys attend the school when not working.

The difference between the total cost of the school and what the pages contribute is supplied by congress, but today they were getting up a petition to have congress take over the whole cost.

Navajo Can't Talk, So U. S. Can't Try Him for Assault

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Somewhat perplexed, deputies of the United States marshal were looking today for an interpreter for a deaf mute Navajo Indian named Toyaltehe, which means "can't talk." They contessed they had no training in a sign language for Navajos. Federal Judge Dave W. Ling ruled that Toyaltehe, accused of assault, couldn't enter a plea until some way of conversing with him is found.

Slayer Wright Is Found Sane; Will Be Freed

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Paul A. Wright, former airport manager, who shot and killed his wife and his best friend, John B. Kimmel, after surprising them in an embrace in his home, was held sane today. Judge Ben B. Lindsey announced the ruling based on the unanimous findings of four alienists.

Judge Lindsey explained, however, that he could not free Wright for five days under California law. During this period the judge said the district attorney or others might ask for a jury trial to determine if Wright is sane.

Vociferous Legal Battle.

Before the judge's ruling the sanity hearing had developed into a vociferous battle between attorneys and close questioning of alienists. The hearing was the outgrowth of a verdict of temporary insanity, returned last Wednesday, which followed Wright's conviction on two counts of manslaughter.

Surprise testimony came from Dr. M. J. Rowe, superintendent of the Norwalk State hospital, who said that Wright has not sufficiently recovered his mental status to be safely released. He expressed the opinion, however, that Wright is as sane now as he ever was.

Asks About Future Conduct.

J. Miller Leavy, assistant district attorney who aided in Wright's prosecution, asked Dr. Rowe:

"If Wright is returned to society, isn't it possible that some set of conditions similar to those which caused him to slay again may make him insane?" [Wright said he saw Mrs. Wright and Kimmel in an embrace just before the slaying.]

"It is only assumption that he was insane on Nov. 9" [when the tragedy occurred], Dr. Rowe answered.

Judge Lindsey interrupted with:

"You are assuming, Mr. Leavy, that the jury was right in finding the defendant insane?"

Says Liquor Played Part.

Dr. Rowe, questioned by the court, said he believed Wright's physical history might tend to make him more susceptible to the effect of emotional shock, adding that liquor had played an important part in the crimes for which Wright was tried.

"If the three of them [Wright, Mrs. Wright, and Kimmel] hadn't all been drinking, the tragedy wouldn't have happened?" Judge Lindsey asked.

"Yes, that's it," Dr. Rowe said.

VOTE TODAY ON DICTATOR DEALS TO WARD OFF WAR

AUSTRIA CURBS NAZIS; HOPES TO SAVE FREEDOM

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VIENNA, Feb. 21.—After giving the Nazis a free rein for two days, Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg's government tonight launched a counteroffensive to save Austria's independence.

With the significant approval of Dr. Arthur Seyss-Inquart, the pro-Nazi minister of interior, the government issued confidential instructions to district leaders of the Fatherland Front [the government party] throughout the country. The leaders were told in effect to make it clear to the 2,500,000 members of the organization that the Nazis are not going to have everything their own way from now on.

"Heil Hitler" Forbidden.

According to the circular, the following prohibitions on Nazi activities will be maintained as in the past:

FIRST—Nazis must not shout "Heil Hitler" or greet friends in such a manner.

SECOND—They must not display swastika [the Nazi emblem] in any form—except in the case of visitors from Germany at hotels which cater principally to them.

THIRD—They must not wear Nazi buttons or uniforms.

FOURTH—They must not sing Nazi songs unless expressly authorized by local officials.

FIFTH—They must not broadcast accounts of Nazi party meetings in Germany in public places unless they are retransmitted from Austrian stations as well.

Instructed on How to Act.

Members of the Fatherland Front are instructed on how to behave towards Nazi comrades. They are reminded they must not persecute any one for privately expressing Nazi convictions, but they are not to stand for organized and military Nazi activities. Distribution of Nazi leaflets, painting the swastika on walls, and selling buttons for Nazi charities will not be tolerated.

The circular advises Fatherland Front members not to stage counter demonstrations against the Nazis during this unsettled period, particularly demonstrations having a legitimatist character. They also are requested not to be alarmed by Nazi exuberance or by rumors circulated by them.

Particularly interesting is the statement that Nazi demonstrations in the last few days have been due to a "misunderstanding of the situation" on the part of the Nazis. Nazi street demonstrations will not be tolerated after tomorrow.

Police Scatter Paraders.

The police tonight showed increasing firmness in dealing with crowds which again paraded throughthe heart of Vienna. Foot and mounted police kept them from concentrating at stra-

Friends of Ousted Eden Hustled Out of Parliament.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain tonight apparently won his fight to treat Adolf Hitler of Germany and Benito Mussolini of Italy with kid gloves instead of iron fists.

The prime minister, who discarded Anthony Eden as foreign minister because he feared the young statesman's vigorous attitude toward dictator nations of Europe would lead to war, will be forced to test the British government's strength in the house of commons tomorrow.

He will face a vote on a motion of censure by the Labor party for throwing Eden "to the wolves." But Chamberlain is practically assured of enough votes to defeat his foes.

Tories Support Chamberlain.

The powerful Conservative party met in caucus tonight and gave the prime minister its unqualified support. The small National Liberal group of thirty-three members also decided to stick with Chamberlain. If the ranks of Tories hold, he will be assured of 416 votes. Against this the Labor opposition, the second largest party in parliament, probably will muster only 199 votes.

Chamberlain boldly told the house of commons that his government will begin negotiations with Italy at once in hopes of obtaining a friendly settlement. He said he favored such an accord and "general appeasement throughout Europe which will give us peace." He said he had recalled the earl of Perth, British ambassador to Italy, to receive instructions.

The prime minister put forward a four-power peace plan designed to eliminate the dangers of war in Europe. As members of the pact, he advocated Germany, Italy, France, and Britain.

Urges Powers Get Together.

"The peace of Europe must depend on the attitude of four major powers—Germany, Italy, France, and ourselves," he said. "Glaring at each other across frontiers are Britain and France on one side and Germany and Italy on the other.

"If we can bring these four nations into friendly discussion and into a settlement of their difference we shall have saved the peace of Europe for a generation."

Chamberlain's quarrel with Eden precipitated a demonstration in the lobby of the house of commons while the prime minister was engaged in an amazing battle of words with his resigned foreign secretary.

Shout "We Want Eden."

Five hundred sympathizers of Eden, mostly young men and women, invaded the building and shouted: "Chamberlain must go! We want Eden!" Police rushed up and hustled them into the parliament square. There the demonstrators distributed pamphlets demanding that Chamberlain be thrown out, the government dissolved, and that Britain and Soviet Russia unite against dictators.

Eden was the first to address commons. He was cheered heartily as he entered the house. He has become a popular hero in the eyes of thousands of Britons by resigning rather than "bowing to the will of dictators," as his friends put it.

He pulled no punches in his telling just how much he disapproved of Chamberlain's policy of peace at any price.

He said the immediate cause of his resignation was his refusal to open talks with Italy on various Anglo-Italian problems until Mussolini gave signs of good faith by withdrawing his troops from Spain and stopping the flood of anti-British propaganda in the near east.

Hits Pacts Made on Threats.

"Agreements that are worthwhile never are made on the basis of threats," he said. "The conviction has grown on me of late that there has been too keen a desire on our part to make terms with others rather than that others make terms with us.

"I do not believe we can make progress in European appeasement if we allow the impression to gain currency abroad that we yield to constant pressure."

"It is time for Britain to stand firm," he cried.

Eden based his objection to beginning negotiations with Italy on the fact that Italy had done nothing about getting her troops out of Spain, and "that is the chief obstacle to success."

He added that he opposed the talks also because "the attitude of the Italian government in international problems in general, and to this country in particular, is not yet such as to justify this course."

Eden cited Italy's consistent violation of an agreement not to spread anti-British propaganda. He himself was pledged to the house of commons, he reminded the members, not to negotiate with Italy until this propaganda was halted.

Despite a specific clause in a "gentlemen's agreement" made last year, Italian propaganda "was scarcely dimmed for an instant," he exclaimed.

Resents Eden's Charge.

Chamberlain was greeted with boos and cheers as he began his address.

He expressed his resentment at Eden's charge that he had surrendered to Italian threats.

"For Britain to refuse Italy's desires for negotiations to attain a new understanding would bring relations to a point at which ultimately war between us might become inevitable," he said.

"There is no question at this stage of what the terms of an agreement with Italy will be. What we are seeking to do is to get general appeasement through Europe which will give us peace."

Chamberlain said that the Italians are so convinced that the British are nursing a grudge against them that it was essential to remove their suspicions regardless of how they had acted in the past.

Calls Action a "Surrender."

Clement R. Attlee, leader of the Labor opposition, spoke after Chamberlain and cried:

"This is a pitiful surrender to a bankrupt dictator. It will have a most serious effect in the United States. In America they will say 'John Bull is playing power politics again.'"

He said the situation was comparable to the dismissal of Theophile Delcasse as French foreign minister in 1905 to placate the German government.

Chamberlain again stepped into the debate to defend himself against charges of bowing before dictators. He accused Labor party speakers of misrepresenting the situation, and insisted that Britain could not demand important concessions before agreeing to negotiate a political or commercial pact with another country.

Confers with Rome Envoy.

The prime minister disclosed that he had conferred with Count Dino Grandi, Italian ambassador to London, earlier in the day. Chamberlain said he told Mussolini's representative that his government was eager to reach a friendly settlement with Italy. The prime minister insisted that any settlement depended upon a solution of the Spanish problem. He also told the Italian ambassador that any Anglo-Italian agreement would be presented to the league of nations. He revealed that Grandi had told him that Italy accepted Britain's plan for getting "volunteers" out of Spain.

Few doubt that Eden's row with Chamberlain will induce the ex-foreign secretary to attempt to split the Conservative party. He is a stanch Tory. The general view is that he will stick with his party and probably return to the cabinet some time in the future.

Lord Halifax Acting Secretary.

Lord Halifax, lord president of the council, is holding down the post of foreign secretary for the time being. Chamberlain himself undoubtedly will play a big part in the activities of the foreign office.

"The ill effect of this resignation, will be felt, we fear, especially in the United States, where already there has been a pronounced tendency to suggest that any understanding with Britain must be undesirable and unsafe because the government already has shown inclinations to prefer, if necessary, associations with dictatorships to coöperation with democracies."

FRANCE CHARGES BRITAIN 'DESERTS' CENTRAL EUROPE

Paris Diplomacy Wrecked; Cabinet Shakeup Seen.

PARIS, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Talk of a possible cabinet shakeup circulated freely tonight as France consulted her European friends on changes in diplomacy forced by the resignation of Great Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos, whose policy was tied closely to that of Eden, was considered in danger of being forced out unless French diplomacy is readjusted quickly.

Members of the chamber of deputies said Premier Camille Chautemps already had talked with a number of ministers about enlarging the cabinet to include more conservatives. The whole question will be placed before the cabinet tomorrow, deputies said.

In Close Touch with Russia Soviet.

Meanwhile, Delbos kept in contact with both Czechoslovakia and Russia. He had a long talk with Jacob Surits, soviet ambassador, and was said to be in close touch with Prague.

Ambassador William C. Bullitt of the United States visited the foreign office this afternoon, but both the American embassy and French officials said he went only to find out what was happening and to say "good-by" since he is leaving Thursday for a holiday in the United States.

Sources close to the foreign office said the government's chief concern was over Britain's "abandonment" of central Europe. Officials left little doubt that nothing would be done by France on European problems until it was settled what London's new foreign policy would be.

The main hope at the foreign office was that the British government would find Anglo-Italian conciliation impossible without virtual capitulation to the Rome-Berlin combine and would learn how much Britain needs French support.

London Silent to Plea.

The foreign office, it was learned, suggested Britain join Paris in a second warning to Reichsfuehrer Hitler that the two nations were concerned about Nazi plans in Austria and show that they still were backing Czechoslovakia, but no reply was received from London.

It was reported that Delbos telephoned Eden Sunday night urging him to remain in the cabinet. At the same time Chautemps was said to have sent a telegram to Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain telling him France's views on the questions which led to Eden's resignation.

Delbos and Chautemps summoned the British ambassador, Sir Eric Phipps, last night and expressed hope Eden might stay in the cabinet, but Phipps replied it was too late. He said, however, the change would not affect Britain's policy of close collaboration with France.

Chinese Fall Back Before Japanese Offensive

Japanese (whose occupied territory is indicated by vertical line shading) today reported steady advances in southern Shansi province. Chinese troops defending the Lunghai railway were reported withdrawing to the south bank of the Yellow river and westward to escape being trapped by Japanese forces closing in from both the north and south.

ITALY ACTS QUICKLY TO GET BRITISH O. K. ON ETHIOPIAN CONQUEST

ROME, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Hope that the resignation of Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, would bring the long coveted British recognition of Italy's conquest of Ethiopia was expressed by government officials today.

One purpose of the visit of Count Dino Grandi, Italian ambassador in London, to No. 10 Downing street today was understood to have been to find out what Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain intends to do now that Eden no longer opposes him in the cabinet. Recent exchanges between Grandi, Chamberlain, and Eden were received here with skepticism, but officials said today they had fresh hope that progress in clearing up Anglo-Italian differences might be made.

Exuberance over "Sanctionist" Eden's retirement was manifest equally by officials and ordinary citizens. "A great victory for Il Duce," and similar comments were heard.

NAZIS' POLICY A LESSON TO CHINA, TOKIO DECLARES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Feb. 21.—An official statement by a foreign office spokesman today expressed Japan's pleasure over Germany's recognition of Manchukuo, the Japanese puppet state, and adoption of an "immutable far eastern policy."

"Hitler's announcement will serve as an important lesson to the Hankow government, which is seriously mistaken in its fundamental policy toward Japan, and which continues to commit various blunders resulting therefrom," the spokesman said.

Tokio was pleased particularly by that part of Hitler's speech in which he declared that Germany has no territorial ambitions in the far east. Although official quarters did not comment, it was generally regarded here that this meant that Germany has no desire for the return of mandated [Caroline and Marshall] islands in the South seas.

CHINA PROTESTS NAZI ATTITUDE ON MANCHUKUO

HANKOW, China, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The Chinese government strongly protested today against German recognition of Manchukuo, the Japanese dominated state which was carved out of China's Manchurian provinces in 1931-33.

The government especially resented Reichsfuehrer Hitler's remark that the Chinese were unfitted mentally to resist any bolshevist attack on them and that a Japanese victory in the far east would be better than a bolshevist victory.

German businessmen here who have been struggling against odds to promote German trade in China, expressed dismay and disappointment over Hitler's decision. There already was talk of a Chinese boycott on German goods.

Mrs. Ogden Goelet Wins Divorce in Reno Court

Reno, Nev., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Mrs. Enid Goelet obtained a divorce today from Ogden Goelet of Roslyn, N. Y., on grounds of desertion. The suit was uncontested. Agreement was reached out of court on the custody of their child, Enid, 3 years old. Mrs. Goelet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Connfelt of Brookvile, N. Y., was married to Goelet in September, 1933. The wedding was one of the important social events of the season.

tegic points, and when 2,000 or 3,000 started to march into the Jewish quarter, they were turned aside.

The Nazis so far have avoided violence, but they obviously are seizing every opportunity to show their strength and numbers and create an impression of irresistible force which will overawe all but the fanatical loyalist elements.

Nazi demonstrations have shown that a handful of enthusiastic Nazis can lead 200 or 300 curious onlookers down the street and gradually join other similar groups until a big crowd is set loose.

By repeating these tactics over and over the Nazis hope to convince every Austrian who is not a Nazi that every other Austrian is one and so build up a demand for a plebiscite in which anti-Nazis would go to the polls believing in advance their cause was lost.

JAPANESE FREE BRITISH VESSEL DETAINED A WEEK

HONGKONG, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Four British officers and the British ship Asian were reported today to have been detained by a Japanese destroyer for more than a week at Port Mako, Pescadores islands.

The Asian, formerly under Chinese registry, was seized near Gaprock, a mile outside British waters, on Feb. 12. Capt. Creer, First Mate Eldridge, and two engineer officers, Easdale and McCormick—all British subjects—were cross-examined at length by the Japanese at Port Mako. The Asian's Chinese crew also was held. It was reported that armed guards went aboard the Asian and would not allow the officers to go ashore.

Eventually, the Japanese contacted the Asian's owners, the Williamson company of Hongkong. The company immediately notified authorities in London and representations were made to Tokio which resulted in the Asian being released Feb. 19.

CHINESE DEFEND NEW BATTLE LINE ON YELLOW RIVER

Many Troops Withdrawn to Escape Trap.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Feb. 22 [Tuesday].—Japanese sources reported today that Chinese defenders of the Lunghai railway in north central China had withdrawn to the south bank of the Yellow river to continue their defense of the huge railway corridor.

It was further asserted that a large number of 400,000 Chinese soldiers who had been defending the zone had been withdrawn westward, to prevent being bottled up in the corridor.

The Japanese claimed advances north of the river and westward in Shansi province. The columns in Shansi were said to be closing on Linfen, temporary capital, which is only sixty miles from the Yellow river.

Chinese forces were counter-attacking in the region north of Nanking and near Pengpu. The Chinese were said to have occupied Changpalin, a town on the Tientsin-Pukow railway line only fifty miles north of Nanking. Other forces were attacking Mingkwang and Tingyuan, near Pengpu.

Japs Board Russian Vessel.

TOKIO, Feb. 22 [Tuesday].—(AP)—The newspaper Hochi Shimbun reported today the commandant of the Tsurugga fortified zone had forcibly boarded and examined a Russian ship found anchored in the Hakodate harbor after a snow storm. The newspaper said the commandant found the ship was a hydrographical vessel masquerading as a liner, and had a number of soviet navy officers and hydrographers aboard.

MISSION HOSPITALS LOOTED.

Six Americans from the Congregational foreign missions hospitals at Tehchow and Lintsing in Shantung province were forced to remain in the coast city of Tsingtao recently until order had been restored in that sector by invading Japanese troops. They returned to find both hospitals thoroughly looted.

News of this was received yesterday by Dr. Robert L. Cooke, associate professor of education at Wheaton college, Wheaton, Ill., from his sister, Dr. Alma L. Cooke, superintendent of the hospitals. Others in the group with Dr. Cooke were Miss Lucia Lyons, Miss Alice Reed, Miss Helen Dizney, Albert Hauske, and Lewis Gilbert, all of the hospital staf.

COLONIES FOR US, TOO, POLES ECHO HITLER'S DEMAND

WARSAW, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Gen. Stanislas Skwarzynski, leader of the national movement, tonight followed up Reichsfuehrer Hitler's demand for colonies with a declaration that Poland also needs more territory.

"Our birth rate is so high that some Poles must emigrate," he asserted. "Also, we need raw materials. Hence, the present generation should make it a point to secure colonies."

Regarding the Jewish question, he observed:

"Jews are an obstacle to the normal evolution of the Polish masses. This must create bad feelings between Poles and Jews. The national movement protests against any demagogic and terrorist activity against the Jews, which is both harmful and discreditable to the Polish nation. The only solution to the Jewish problem is a radical diminution of their number."

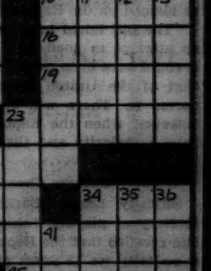
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED



BRITISH EVENTS EASE U. S. FEARS ON HITLER TALK

Arms Parley Discussion Is Even Renewed.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Anxieties stirred in official Washington by Dictator Adolf Hitler's reichstag speech yesterday were largely dissipated by the events of today in London.

A general feeling of relief is prevalent tonight. Hitler's speech demanding return of the former German colonies and foreshadowing the expansion of Nazi hegemony in middle Europe inspired fears of a new world war which were calmed by the course adopted by the British government to preserve peace.

The sacrifice of Foreign Minister Anthony Eden by the British government in order to come to terms with Benito Mussolini of Italy and the immediate opening of the negotiations by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain have inspired confidence that the danger of war has been averted.

Arms Parley Talk Revived.

There is even renewed talk of a new arms limitation conference if the negotiations set afoot today bring about a substantial appeasement in Europe.

President Roosevelt has rejected all recent proposals that he take steps toward a navy limitation agreement to take the place of the Washington and London treaties which were brought to an end by the action of Japan. He takes the position that in the present state of national ambitions and fears it would be fruitless to promote an international conference on disarmament.

If, however, the European powers reach a settlement of the rivalries and disputes that have threatened the world with another war the time will be ripe, according to administration officials, for an arms limitation conference.

Future Course Undefined.

Whether the course of the administration in relation to other questions will be influenced by the outcome of pending negotiations in Europe is a matter on which officials were unwilling to express their views. Apparently the British government is prepared to extend recognition to the Italian empire, including Ethiopia, in connection with the understanding with Mussolini.

It is possible that considerations arising from a European settlement would cause Mr. Roosevelt to recognize the Italian conquest of Ethiopia. So far, however, the President has stood squarely on the principle enunciated by the Hoover administration in the case of Manchukuo that no governmental entity set up by force in violation of treaties will be recognized.

Borah Voices Optimism.

Senator William E. Borah [R., Idaho] took an optimistic view of the situation in Europe when asked whether he believed Hitler was pushing toward war.

"I do not think he is pushing toward war," he said. "In one respect he might be because he wants his colonies back, but in my opinion this will not lead to war. He will ultimately get his colonies back without war. These colonies do not belong to England except through the power and effect of war. There is no righteousness in England's title, and Germany will get them back. This is not a new idea with me because I asserted it on the floor of the senate some eighteen years ago.

"If you eliminate the injustices of the Versailles treaty, there is nothing extraordinary about the present situation in Europe. It is merely a swing back to the conditions that preceded the treaty. The situation has no particular reference to dictatorship. The Versailles treaty made the dictator.

"In my opinion, the correction of the Versailles treaty injustices will take place and it won't require war to do it."

Others Less Hopeful.

Other senators were far less sanguine. Senator Alva Adams [D., Colo.] believes that Hitler's program will make it easier for congress to vote a big navy. It may not be absolutley necessary, Senator Adams said, but it certainly seems advisable that the United States navy be strong enough to protect both our coasts.

The senator compared Europe to a septic tank and demanded that the United States abandon the Hull trade treaty program. He said Secretary of State Cordell Hull's reciprocal trade agreement policy apparently is more apt to promote conflict and adversity than it is to advance peace and prosperity.

Cites Latin American Outlook.

Commenting on the rise of Nazi influence in Austria and Hitler's speech, Senator King said that Germany has become the most powerful nation in Europe.

"This is disturbing to me," he said, "because it means she will push her economic policies in Latin America, and two nations there have many German citizens already. I refer to Brazil and Argentina."

Senator Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.], said he believes the European developments mean the United States should be doubly resolved that it will have nothing to do with any entanglement.

Senator Elmer D. Thomas [D., Utah], member of the senate foreign relations committee, observed that for the first time in his life he has become an alarmist. He said he saw in Germany's recognition of Manchukuo a collapse of the moral pressure against Japanese aggression.

ELEANOR HAKANSON.

Because his best girl friend failed to invite him to her birthday party a few days ago, Edward Rybicki, 16 years old, a sophomore at Bowen High school, shot himself below the heart with his father's pistol yesterday. He was taken to the South Chicago hospital in a critical condition. The boy was found, wounded, in the yard of his home at 11006 Green Bay avenue. East Side police said a note in his pocket addressed to the girl, Eleanor Hakanson, told his disappointment and his love for her.

GERMANS GLOAT OVER DEPARTURE OF A FOE—EDEN

Believe Taunts by Hitler Hastened Resignation.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Feb. 21.—For Nazi Germany Anthony Eden's resignation as British foreign secretary proved an ideal climax for Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's speech to the reichstag yesterday. And today most Nazis were firmly convinced that Eden's disappearance from the British cabinet, for which they had been hoping for months, was finally hastened by Hitler's slighting remarks about him.

[The German dictator in his speech taunted Eden sarcastically as an apologist for bolshevism who did not know what he was talking about.]

The Nazi press was triumphant. Newspapers said the "world recognizes that Hitler's speech marks a turning point in Europe's history," and realizes "Germany's great strength" as well as the "superiority of Hitler and his politics."

Diplomats stationed in Berlin seemed perturbed. Andre Francois-Poncet, French ambassador to Berlin, who for months has been cultivating only his Nazi friends, suddenly appeared at the Russian embassy with his wife this afternoon to display France's friendship for soviet Russia.

See No Speedy Coup.

The diplomatic corps believes that no German surprise move is to be expected in the next few weeks. Diplomats suspect the Nazis will first give their associates in Austria time to firmly entrench themselves in their new political positions and prepare for a future advance.

Hitler will give a banquet tomorrow night for generals of his National Socialist [Nazi] army. It is understood an invitation has been extended to Gen. Werner von Fritsch, resigned commander-in-chief of the army.

Gen. Walther von Brauchitsch, new chief of the German army today received foreign military attachés. In a speech he told them that Germany would increase armament at great speed until "all the reich's interests and the living space of Germany are strongly protected." He failed to specify what was included in "living space."

Predict Czechs Next Target.

BERLIN, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Foreign diplomats and private Nazi sources are agreed that as soon as Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler feels his new influence in Austria is sufficiently developed he will turn to Czechoslovakia.

This new development came tonight even as foreign diplomats were expressing fears that Hitler's proclamation of himself to the reichstag as protector of German minorities in central Europe easily might lead to international complications.

The Fuehrer was expected soon to invite either Premier Milan Hodza or Foreign Minister Kamil Krofta to Berlin to talk about the 3,500,000 Germans in Czechoslovakia.

Hitler Presses Advantages.

Hitler usually presses his advantages and an advantage is seen here in the resignation of Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Great Britain in defiance of settlement with Germany and Italy. Hitler has engineered all his principal coups when his opponents were at difficulty at home or elsewhere than with Germany.

The Fuehrer's boastful assertion to the reichstag that "whatever we have accomplished has been accomplished without the slightest aid from abroad" was considered a clear intimation that Germany will take whatever she thinks necessary.

LOYALIST MINES BLAST TERUEL AS REBELS ADVANCE

City of Ruins to Be Prize of Major Battle.

WITH THE SPANISH REBELS ON THE TERUEL FRONT, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Explosions heard in Teruel tonight indicated government forces surrounded in the besieged city were blowing up their munitions dumps, as fighting raged at close quarters in the outskirts.

[Dispatches received at the French border indicated the loyalists had mined the entire city, using the network of tunnels which the rebels themselves dug early in the war as bomb refuges.]

Government forces estimated by the rebels at 1,200 to 1,600 men continued to occupy the city, attempting to hold off their besiegers with machine guns.

As the fighting approached a climax Gen. Francisco Franco's artillery advanced to new positions and heavily bombarded enemy positions east and south of Teruel. A large air force again coördinated artillery fire.

Rebels held all strategic positions controling the city, including Santa Barbara and Teruel cemetery.

Cavalry Used for Pursuit.

Cavalry, used effectively in the conquest of the Alfambra river valley, rounded up enemy troops fleeing east of Teruel and took many prisoners.

Rebels declared Franco's recent offensive, which took more than 400 square miles of new territory north of Teruel, and the recapture of Teruel would prove to be a decisive stroke, leading to a break in government morale and a speedy final victory for the rebels.

They estimated government casualties in the battle lasting over two months at 60,000 which they termed virtual destruction of an entire army.

While fighting raged around Teruel, another rebel force launched a new offensive against the Sagunto highway, advancing five miles southeast of Teruel, forcing loyalist troops to retreat on both sides of the important road to the sea.

Americans Withdrawn.

BARCELONA, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Physicians returning today from the middle Aragon front said the 15th brigade of Americans, Canadians, and English fighting near Belchite, about twenty-five miles southeast of Saragossa, had withdrawn last week for rest.

[A report from rebel headquarters at Salamanca had said that American and Canadian international brigades had been "decimated" in furious fighting around Teruel, which is nearly seventy miles from Belchite.]

German Mail Plane Falls and Burns Near Paris

VERSAILLES, France, Feb. 22 [Tuesday].—(AP)—A German mail plane crashed in flames today at a farm near Montmorency, just north of Paris, burning to death all the occupants. The plane was nearing Le Bourget on a flight from Cologne when it fell in the early morning mist. A crew of three was believed to have been on board.

FIND ARMY OFFICER SHOT TO DEATH IN HOTEL IN HYDE PARK

Lieut. Col. Tingle.

Lieut. Col. Clarence H. Tingle of the United States army quartermaster corps, assigned to the 6th corps area, was found shot to death last evening in his apartment in the East End Park hotel, 5242 Hyde Park boulevard. Beside the body was a .38 caliber revolver. Lieut. Michael Woods of the Hyde Park police said Col. Tingle apparently had taken his own life. This finding was concurred in by army investigators headed by Col. Robert Sterrett, Col. Tingle's immediate superior.

Finding of whisky glasses and a bottle in the room led police to believe at first that other persons might have been with the officer shortly before his death, as he was known to be an abstainer. Water in two glasses was found to be stagnant, however, indicating it had been there several days.

Friends said Col. Tingle had been depressed of late because both his wife and a daughter, Mrs. Josephine Hebsen, of Port-au-Prince, Haiti, have been under treatment in a Milwaukee hospital for nervous disorders.

REDS STOP WORK OF 14,000; LIE ON RAILWAY TRACKS

VALENCIENNES, France, Feb. 12.—(AP)—A score of communist miners, lying prostrate across the tracks in front of a Lens roundhouse, today prevented 14,000 other coal workers from doing an extra hour's work asked by the government.

Delegates of 100,000 miners met at Lens Sunday night and approved an agreement to do sixty-two hours of work this year to help increase the nation's coal output. The communists quit at the usual time and prevented movement of donkey engines taking coal out.

EDEN OUT; BALTIC SEES GERMANY AS BOSS OF EUROPE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Feb. 21.—The Baltic press, commenting today on the resignation of the British foreign secretary, Anthony Eden, said it signified another defeat for the league of nations. The Baltic press asserted it indicated that England is not willing to be drawn into any European conflict, thus leaving Germany a free hand in Europe.

The Moscow Pravda, official newspaper of the communist party, expressed the belief that unless the British cabinet crisis results in new elections the Chamberlain government may succeed in restoring European unity by a four power pact with Italy, France, Germany, and England, but leave Russia isolated.

NAVY WILL SHOW ITS STRENGTH IN PACIFIC GAMES

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—(AP)—The navy department announced today that the Pacific fleet maneuvers, beginning in March, will cover an area of nearly 12 million square miles and involve more than half the officers and enlisted men of the navy.

The maneuvers will be held in an area west of the United States to Hawaii and Midway island and southward from Alaska and the Aleutian islands to Samoa.

About 150 ships and 500 planes will take part in the war games, lasting six weeks. They will be manned by 3,600 officers and 55,000 enlisted men, under Admiral Claude C. Bloch, commander of the fleet.

SCENIC MOUNTAIN BEAUTY THRILLS MANILA VISITOR

Primitive Tribesmen Spy Upon Travelers.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MANILA, P. I.—[By Air Mail.]—A visit to Manila would not be complete without a trip to Baguio. Located 164 miles north of the capital, Bagulo is the gateway to the scenic mountain country.

Leaving Manila at 6 a. m., one arrives at the airport for the takeoff at 6:30. The plane is a small, single motored five passenger ship, very suitable for its purpose. The first seventy-five miles is flown at the low altitude of 1,000 feet, which gives one an excellent opportunity to see the harvesting and stacks of rice. The latter greatly resemble small straw stacks. One also sees many grass roofed huts of farmers and hundreds of carabaos [water buffaloes] at work wallowing in the mud.

The terrain is flat, with the mountains straight ahead. The huts are fairly far apart, giving one the idea that the natives are industrious in working considerable acreage. Many pigs, chickens, babies, and dogs surround all of them. The farmer has plenty of food. The layout of crops is not picturesque, like in China. It is more like ordinary corn and wheat fields.

Passenger Criticizes Pilot.

Bad flying, a passenger pilot thinks, because altitude should have been gained before reaching the foot of the mountains. The little plane, however, performs beautifully and climbs 1,500 feet per minute. Up over the first peak at 7,000 feet Baguio appears, nestled in a little valley straight ahead.

The pilot shuts off the motor and glides down to a perfect landing on a small one way field sloping uphill to the east. Good for landing, but bad for takeoff, if loaded. A friend meets the plane and I am taken to his home in Baguio, three miles away, for breakfast. People in the Philippine Islands are exceptionally hospitable.

The town has a population of 13,000 and is at an altitude of 5,000 feet. The climate is delightful the year round. One readily realizes why its far flung fame as the summer resort for Manila. Only an hour and a quarter from the heat of the lowlands, one is perfectly comfortable here. Fires are in order at night. Many beautiful views are to be had from vantage points around town.

Flowers Seen Everywhere.

Small parks and terraced landscapes are laid out. Flowers, as in Manila, are everywhere. The bougainvillas and hibiscus seem to have an added brilliance in the mountain atmosphere. The forests of tall pines add their share. Scores of workmen are beautifying the gardens and improving the woods.

To the north lies the territory of the primitive Igorot tribe. Residents say that in the old days, due to Spanish invasions from the south and attacks from neighboring clans, the tribe was compelled to keep sentries posted at all vantage points and that today a person cannot reach Baguio without being observed by an Igorot outpost.

Within an hour's ride in opposite directions are the Benguet and Balotoc gold mines, the richest in the islands. The town boasts one good hotel and many schools and churches. Hospital and other essential accommodations are ample.

Leaves by Railway.

To leave Baguio by railroad, it is necessary to take a bus thirty miles to the train at the foot of the mountains. The drive is on a toll road down the brim of a winding gorge several hundred feet deep. There is a rock wall two feet high and eighteen inches thick all the way down the rim of the canyon.

A beautiful waterfall about 100 feet high is observed halfway down the mountain. The roadway is pretty narrow for two cars and the curves are sharp, but otherwise it is good. At the end of the toll line is loose gravel, very dusty. It is five miles to the station at Damortis.

The train is comfortable, with one air conditioned first class coach, a diner, and three third class coaches. At the end of the train is an extra car for automobiles. One may ship his automobile to Manila for less than gasoline costs.

COUNTY STARTS SALE OF 640,986 '36 TAX CLAIMS

The sale of 1936 delinquent real estate tax claims was started yesterday by the county treasurer's office under an order entered by the County court last week. The delinquency in 1936 realty taxes totals $33,772,386, and involves 640,986 parcels of property.

Treasurer Horace G. Lindheimer said the 1936 tax sales will be held concurrently with the offering of 1935 taxes, which is now about half finished. He said that thus far approximately $450,000 of 1935 claims have been purchased by tax speculators.

Under the Cook county practice, the property itself is not sold for taxes. The speculator buys the tax claim from the county and ultimately acquires a tax lien against the property. This lien entitles the holder to 24 per cent interest in the event the property owner redeems the claim.

The board of tax appeals yesterday continued a hearing on the complaints filed by several holding companies, due to the illness of Paul Drymalski, one of the two board members.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Norman Ridgley, house painter whose elbows planted on the counter of Ishbel MacDonald's Old Plow inn have been a familiar sight to the village of Speen, Buckinghamshire, is ready to move behind the counter as the husband of the daughter of the late Ramsay MacDonald. The village handy man will help her pull beer. Miss MacDonald, who was her father's official hostess when he was prime minister, for more than a year has been manager of the historic brick "pub" which is famed for its ancient beamed rafters.

She declared emphatically her marriage to Ridgley, who beats the drum in the village band, would not mean giving up the inn.

CAROL PUTS NEW CONSTITUTION UP TO SUBJECTS

Sets Up Guild System; More Power to King.

BUCHAREST, Feb. 21.—(AP)—A drastically revised constitution centering greater power in the crown was offered Rumanians today by King Carol, who asked for quick national approval in a plebiscite to be held Thursday.

Foremost among the 100 articles of the document were stipulations giving the king absolute veto power over legislation and authority to appoint half the senate members; a declaration of equality for all Rumanians without racial distinctions, and religious freedom, with the Orthodox Rumanian church recognized as the state religion.

Heading the government would be the king and his ministers, with parliament consisting of two chambers, a house and senate, both sharply reduced from their present size. Deputies would be elected by professions, rather than political parties, according to membership in three guilds—farmer-labor, commerce-industry, and intellectual professions.

Military Service Required.

All citizens would be equal, despite differences of opinion, under laws abolishing class lines. All Rumanians would be required to fulfill military service. Capital punishment would be restored in time of war, and in time of peace by order of the cabinet for attempts on the lives of the king, members of the royal family, or heads of state.

Only Rumanian citizens would be permitted to own property in villages, but minority rights would be upheld, a provision interpreted as meaning Jewish civil rights would be respected.

Many of the proposals were aimed at clipping the wings of Cornelius Zelea Codreanu, whose Fascistic Iron Guard has grown intensely authoritarian. Among them was one providing that no one could become a minister or premier whose family had not been Rumanian at least three generations.

Codreanu to Dissolve Party.

That they had the desired effect is seen in the announcement tonight that Codreanu, whose grandfather was Polish, has agreed to dissolve his pro-Nazi party. He refused to comment on his decision, but government circles said that he had the choice of voluntarily dissolving his party or being forced to do so.

Hungarian, Jewish, and German minorities were reported to be still translating the 100 articles of the new constitution, so that they can study their provisions before the vote Thursday.

IOWA FARMER'S WILL CANCELS $67,820 OF DEBTS OWED TO HIM

Dubuque, Ia., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Under the terms of the will of Michael H. Sauser, 78 years old retired Cascade farmer, 25 persons who were indebted to him for a total of $67,820 will have their debts canceled and in addition will share in the residue of the estate proportionate to their obligations.

However, a sister, Mrs. Susan Bisenius of White Lake, S. D., and some of his 15 surviving nieces and nephews have filed exceptions to the will. Most of the beneficiaries who borrowed from Sauser were farmers of the Cascade, Bernard, Dyersville, and Dubuque farming areas.

Sauser never married and after he retired from the farm near Cascade about 30 years ago, he was engaged in the lumber business there until a short time before his death last Jan. 11.

U. S. GOOD WILL PLANES TO VISIT SANTIAGO, CHILE

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Six United States army "flying fortresses" which flew from Miami, Fla., to South America for the inauguration of President Roberto M. Ortiz, of Argentina, were fueled tonight to start the return trip tomorrow.

The planes were scheduled to take off for Santiago, Chile, at 6 a. m., Chicago time.

The flyers planned to stop over night at Santiago, fly to Lima, Peru, on Wednesday for a night's rest, and hop to Panama Thursday with a possible refueling stop at Guayaquil, Ecuador. They will await further orders at Panama.

House Passes Bill to Permit Mailing Liquor

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—(AP)—The house passed and sent to the senate today a bill to legalize the mailing of small samples of wines and liquors.

KRUETGEN WILL GET LEGION'S AWARD AT MEETING TONIGHT

Postmaster Ernest J. Kruetgen will be presented with the loyalty and efficiency award by the Department of Illinois, American Legion, at the Skyline athletic club, 188 West Randolph street tonight at 8 o'clock. The presentation will be made at the past commanders' night meeting of Van Buren post, No. 401. Many officials of the legion will be present.

ESTONIANS MARK 20TH SELF-RULE YEAR THURSDAY

More than 50,000 Estonians in Chicago and elsewhere in the United States will celebrate the twentieth anniversary of their declaration of independence from Russia on Thursday. Soon after the declaration, on Feb. 24, 1918, the country was occupied by the Germany army, which remained until after the armistice. Russia then attempted to repossess the country, this action bringing on the Estonian war of independence which ended with the treaty of Tartu on Feb. 2, 1920.

Adults are taking their cod liver oil vitamins this easy modern way

WHO wouldn't prefer this modern form of the vitamins? Easy-to-take tablets instead of spoonfuls of cod liver oil! That's why people by the thousands are availing themselves of this winter protection, and delighted there's a way so pleasant.

Try it yourself, as a safeguard against low general resistance. Start this very day with Adex!

Only three Adex tablets a day give you as much Vitamin A, the factor which contributes to good general resistance, as five teaspoonfuls of cod liver oil.* They also supply "sunshine" Vitamin D.

Both vitamins come from healthful natural sources, such as good cod and halibut liver oil. This helps explain why they will do you so much good.

There are other reasons, too, why you can count on results with Adex. The tablets are lastingly protected from the destructive action of air so there's no loss of vitamins. Finally, after careful tests, their vitamin content is guaranteed.

No matter how many other tablets or capsules you have tried, you'll never be more certain of results than with Adex. Get into the habit of taking it every day. Adex is now at any reliable drug store.

*3 Adex tablets equal 5 teaspoonfuls of U. S. P. XI minimum standard cod liver oil in Vitamins A and D, or 3 teaspoonfuls of Squibb's.

THE RULES

WHO CAN ENTER? This game is open to everybody—men, women, boys, and girls everywhere—except employes of the Chicago Tribune and members of their families.

WHAT TO DO? Every week day a picture containing the scrambled name of a movie star will be published until 36 have appeared. Unscramble the name. Use every letter in the picture. Write or print the name on the picture or a facsimile. Hold all pictures until you have the complete set of 36. DO NOT SEND THEM IN SEPARATELY.

WHERE TO SEND? Mail your entry by First Class Mail to "Movie Stars," Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 1718, Chicago, Illinois. With your entry send a letter, giving your name and address and telling in 50 words or less, who is your favorite movie star and why. Letters will be considered only in the event of ties in naming the stars. Entries must be in the office of the Chicago Tribune by midnight, one week after Name No. 36 has appeared.

BASIS OF AWARDS. Entries will be judged by a committee appointed by the Chicago Tribune. Entrants agree that the judges' decisions will be final. Awards will be paid to the persons who send in the nearest correctly solved, complete sets of unscrambled names. Neither handwriting nor elaborateness will count. In case of ties, duplicate awards will be paid. In fairness to all, the Tribune cannot engage in any correspondence or discussions on this contest.

INDICT HARBUT, THE SANE-INSANE TERROR ROBBER

State's Attorney Orders Case Pushed.

John Harbut, notorious gunman who escaped a penitentiary sentence for forty robberies in 1933 by being declared insane, was indicted yesterday on a charge of robbery with a gun.

John Harbut.

Immediately after the indictment was returned before Chief Justice Cornelius J. Harrington of the Criminal court Assistant State's Attorney Robert Wright was selected by State's Attorney Courtney to prosecute the case and was ordered to devote his entire time to the job. Harbut is to be arraigned before Judge Harrington tomorrow.

Study Record of Release.

Wright's first action last night was to begin examining Harbut's record of imprisonment in and release from the state hospital for the criminal insane at Chester. The prosecutor announced that he intends to find out if the robber's comparatively light punishment and brief stay in the institution was the result of favoritism.

Wright's examination thus far of the files supplied by Dr. J. M. McManus, head of the Chester institution, gives the following case history of the Harbut case:

While awaiting arraignment in the county jail five years ago Harbut "acted strangely," according to jail guards. His behavior was reported to the court and on March 8, 1933, Dr. Harry R. Hoffman, head of the Criminal court behavior clinic, made a preliminary examination. The psychiatrists reported symptoms of a traumatic psychosis [insanity due to injury] and an insanity petition was filed by the public defender's office.

Dr. Hoffman Finds Him Insane.

On March 22 a complete examination by Dr. Hoffman resulted in a report to the jury before Judge John Prystalski that Harbut was insane. The jury agreed and, as provided by law, Harbut was committed to the Chester institution.

Three months after his arrival he was given a routine examination with other patients by staf psychiatrists and found to be "confused, irritable, and not coöperative." Subsequent examinations each three months for the next two years showed, according to the files, that he was improving.

Early in June, 1935, he was placed in charge of the silverware in the hospital dining room. Periodic examination led to the staf psychiatrists' report to Dr. Paul Schroeder, state criminologist, and Dr. H. Douglas Singer, state alienist, that Harbut had improved sufficiently to be returned to the custody of the Criminal court.

Robbery Charge Not Pressed.

However, Harbut was kept at Chester until Aug. 25, 1936, when, after a final examination by Drs. Schroeder and Singer, A. L. Bowen, state director of public welfare, ordered Harbut released to the custody of the sherif of Cook county. Reëxamined by Dr. Hoffman, Harbut was found to be sane and the psychiatrist so testified before a jury in the court of Judge Robert C. O'Connell.

The robbery charges were nol prossed and Harbut was freed. The old indictments were not reinstated by the state's attorney's office because Harbut's incarceration for three years in the Chester Prison for the Insane was believed a bar to successful prosecution.

Presumably sane, Harbut was in trouble soon after he was freed. Early last year, he was seized on a charge of malicious mischief and sentenced to the Bridewell for six months. A week after his release, on last Tuesday morning, he terrorized a young couple in an automobile at Milwaukee avenue and Paulina street and robbed them of $98.

Tell Grand Jury of Holdups.

The victims, Miss Wanda Dziewitz, 21 years old, 963 Milwaukee avenue, and William Pryz, 23 years old, 924 Noble street, testified before the grand jury last Friday to details of the robbery. They declared Harbut posed as Paul Harrison, the mad hammer slayer who was recaptured several days ago after his escape from the Chester hospital, and threatened to kill Miss Dziewitz. Harbut was seized by the Racine avenue police shortly after he had ejected the pair from Pryz' automobile and had driven it away.

Sued by Father

ELEANORE WHITNEY.

Hollywood, Cal., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—While his daughter, Eleanore Whitney, film actress, is enjoying a $500 a week salary, Allen Whitney has only 72 cents to his name.

Thus Whitney described matters today when he filed suit in Superior court to compel his talented daughter, who is 20, to contribute towards his support.

Long since divorced from the girl's mother, according to the suit, Whitney asserts that he is unemployed and in need of clothing and medical attention. He wants Miss Whitney to give him $200 for these. In addition he asks that the court order her to pay him $25 a week for his maintenance.

ROBBED OF WATCH, AUTO, $30.

FREE POLICEMEN OF BLAME IN BAT MURDER MISTAKE

Excused for Failing to Stop Licenseless Car.

Capt. Ray Crane reported last night on his investigation into a Hyde Park police squad's failure to arrest the ball bat murderers of Lloyd Rourke on Feb. 10 when they drove past the Del Prado hotel in a car without a license plate immediately after clubbing Rourke. Capt. Crane said he has exonerated the policemen on the ground that they were obeying orders to protect deliveries of coal from strike terrorists surrounding the hotel at 5307 Hyde Park boulevard.

The policemen are Edward Barchard and Charles Dean, squad 83. They saw the men the authorities say were the killers nod to terrorists seated in a parked car across the street from the hotel and then drive on. Because the killers' car bore no license plate Capt. Crane demanded to know why it had not been halted.

The Policemen's Story.

The policemen's story, as told to Capt. Crane and the state's attorney's staf, is this:

"When pickets in the Del Prado strike stopped the regular deliveries of coal we were assigned to convoy trucks delivering coal from the Illinois Central railroad siding at 53d street near Cornell avenue to the hotel.

"Our orders were to see that the trucks were not stopped between the siding and the hotel.

"We drove out of the alley east of the Del Prado, turned west into 53d street, and swung past a parked car in which three men were sitting, on the north side of 53d street. Then we noticed a car without license plates passing, eastbound. It was a black 1937 coach. One of the men turned his head and nodded to the men in the parked car.

Stick to Job.

"Ordinarily we would have turned around and tried to stop it, but we had one job, to watch the coal deliveries, and we didn't think we ought to leave that to make an arrest for a minor trafic code violation. It might have been a trick to take us away from the hotel so the deliveries could be stopped.

"We drove on west and got a radio flash to telephone the station. We went there instead, as we were within a block of it. We were told to go over to the Fairfax hotel at 1369 Hyde Park boulevard, seven blocks from the Del Prado.

"When we got to the Fairfax, they told us Rourke had been slugged and described the sluggers. The descriptions fitted the men we saw in the car that had no license.

"We telephoned the station and had a description of the car and the men broadcast on the chance that the park police might be able to catch the men. They had turned north on the outer drive after passing us."

Agrees with Squad.

Capt. Crane agreed with the squad that in the disorder of a strike a licenseless car might have been sent to distract the attention of the police. He said also that his men had definite orders to concentrate on protecting the coal deliveries.

Thirteen business agents, pickets, and organizers arrested in the Del Prado violence faced disorderly conduct charges in the South Wabash avenue police court yesterday, but Judge Joseph B. Hermes continued their case until March 31 to give police more time to investigate the murder of Rourke.

Ben Cohn, another of those seized in the investigation, won a continuance until March 4 on a charge of assault with intent to kill brought by Paul Stoddard, victim of a previous clubbing. Cohn is chauffeur for William J. Donovan, secretary and treasurer of the Inside Laundry Workers and a power in the hotel strike.

WRONG NUMBERS ON VOUCHERS TRIP UP U. S. OFFICER IN CCC FRAUD

Boston, Mass., Feb. 21.—(AP)—A government clerk was credited tonight with uncovering what a federal attorney said was the theft of $9,612 in government funds by a former New England civilian conservation corps officer. James R. Johnson, 39 years old, of Quincy, was arrested today at the army base on a charge of embezzlement. United States Commissioner Howard W. Robbins held him in $10,000 bail for hearing March 7. Johnson failed to post bond.

Assistant United States Attorney Arthur J. B. Cartier reported that the first information on the case came from an employé in the adjutant general's department in Washington, D. C., who noted that numbers on some of the government vouchers were higher than the number allowed for the New England district.

Cartier said Johnson was reduced to a clerk in the CCC at the army base about two weeks ago. As deputy disbursing clerk he issued pay checks amounting to large sums.

LEAVES HIS ROOM AFTER 7 YEARS FOR SANITY TRIAL

Found insane by a commission of two physicians, McNutt was committed to the state asylum at Manteno for treatment.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. McNutt, said they had been trying to heal his mind with prayer. McNutt had been unbalanced, the father said since 1922, when he was injured in a fight with schoolmates.

2 TELL OHIO JURY OF SHAKEDOWNS BY LABOR HEADS

Cleveland, O., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—A jury of six men and six women, who will determine whether John E. McGee and Donald A. Campbell, Cleveland labor leaders, are guilty of extortion, today heard two contractors testify to shakedowns by Campbell and McGee to permit completion of construction jobs.

McGee, president of the Laborers' District council, and Campbell, president of the Painters' council, are charged with having used their positions to extort $1,200 from Vernon Stouffer on May 1, 1936, on threat of preventing completion of Stouffer's new restaurant.

Andrew T. Christiansen, New York contractor, testified he personally paid Campbell $350 in cash and at Campbell's direction, paid a man named "Schultz" an additional $150 in order to proceed with work on two Thom McAn shoe stores.

Joseph K. Vanis, owner of a Cleveland building supply and lumber company, told the jury how he tried to defy Campbell, but how vandalism that followed induced him to pay Campbell "$40 or $45."

French Police Discover Second Munitions Cache

PARIS, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The second arms seizure in two days was announced today by Surete Nationale authorities who reported discovery of 1,000 hand grenades in a château near Evreux, capital of the Eure department, 67 miles northwest of Paris. Two tons of arms and ammunition were found in a cave at Annet-Sur-Marne, near Meaux, yesterday.

15 MANHOLE LIDS TAKE A SKYRIDE IN GAS EXPLOSION

Fifteen manhole covers were hurled high into the air yesterday when gasoline that had escaped into the sewer between 27th and 28th streets on Ashland avenue exploded. Flames leaped out of the sewer at 26th street and the river, causing a small blaze in the fences and docks there.

William R. Matthews, department of sewers engineer, said a spark evidently ignited the gasoline. Manhole covers of the future won't be blown out by explosions, he said, because the city is gradually replacing the solid covers with grillwork models.

Flush Kidneys of Acid and Poisons

Gain in Health and Stop Getting Up Nights

When kidneys are clogged they become weak — the bladder is irritated — often passage is scanty and smarts and burns —sleep is restless and nightly visits to the bathroom are frequent.

The right safe harmless and inexpensive way to stop this trouble and restore healthy action to kidneys and bladder is to get from any druggist a 35-cent box of Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules and take as directed—you won't be disappointed.

But be sure and get GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules—the original and genuine—right from Haarlem in Holland —a grand kidney stimulant and diuretic. Remember also that other symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble are backache, leg cramps, puffy eyes, moist palms and nervousness.

RUMORS BUZZING IN CAPITAL OVER M'NUTT FLIGHT

Colonel Who Flew Plane Is Transferred.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Col. Johnson.

Reports persisted that President Roosevelt personally was responsible for what was regarded as a punishment for Col. Johnson. Sources close to the White House said the transfer was intended as an unusually severe reprimand for Col. Johnson because he piloted a plane which flew High Commissioner Paul V. McNutt ot the Philippines from San Francisco to Denver last Thursday. This enabled McNutt to attend a political meeting which he otherwise would have missed.

President Reported Irate.

The President was reported irate because official courtesy was extended McNutt on a tour which has been publicized by his friends into a boom for the Democratic nomination for the presidency in 1940. Mr. Roosevelt is known to feel disgruntled about the McNutt candidacy. He is said to feel not only that it is premature, but is hurt because it was started without his approval.

Amid the excitement army headquarters continued to insist that the Johnson transfer was a routine matter and had nothing to do with the McNutt flight. Lieut. Col. A. D. Surles said that the fact that the transfer order had come through the day after the McNutt flight was a mere coincidence. Col. Johnson's new job is a very important one, he declared, and could not be considered as a punishment.

Chanute Considered "St. Helena."

Other army officials said, however, that Chanute field is considered the "St. Helena" of the war department. They pointed out that Col. Johnson was completely in charge at Hamilton field, whereas he will be second in charge at Chanute field, in answer to this, Lieut. Col. Surles declared that Col. Johnson will be supreme in command of the training school at the Illinois field, second only to a commandant of general rank yet to be appointed.

Commissioner McNutt, interviewed at Bloomington, Ind., said there was nothing out of the ordinary about his flight to Denver. He pointed out that all transportation, communication, and financial matters for the office of high comissioner is handled by the war department.

Commander Provides Plane.

"I went directly to Maj. Gen. George Simonds, commander of the ninth corps area," said McNutt, "and I asked him to arrange for me to fly to Denver. Gen. Simonds told me a plane would be ready to take me the following morning.

"I didn't know who was going to pilot the ship. I knew nothing about the arrangements that were made. When I boarded the plane I learned it was piloted by Col. Davenport Johnson. I had no discussion with him about the transportation arrangements.

"If I had known I was causing trouble of any sort, I would have made the trip on the train. I was merely doing the natural thing. I was accompanied only by my administrative assistant, Wayne Coy. There was no one else in my party."

Salary $209,100

KAY FRANCIS.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Warner Brothers, movie producers, reported to the securities commission today that the top salary paid last year, $209,100, went to Kay Francis, actress. She was also the highest paid employé in 1936 when she received $227,500. In 1937 Hal Wallis, production head, received $208,083, and Dick Powell, actor, was paid $176,249. Corporations are required to report the salaries of the three highest paid officers or employés each year.

GETS 9 MONTHS FOR ROBBERY.

Edward Zaborowski, 22 years old, 1314 Bosworth avenue, was sentenced to nine months in the Bridewell and fined $100 yesterday by Judge Oscar S. Caplan in Felony court for taking $23 from a filling station at 6756 Cottage Grove avenue Feb. 11.

DAVEY ACCUSER SENT TO CANADA, COMMITTEE TOLD

Columbus, O., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Lee Bradley, self-described contact man for Gov. Martin L. Davey in Davey's 1934 campaign, testified today that Francis W. Paulson, Ohio's Democratic chairman in 1935 gave him $400 and told him to "get the hell out of the United States and stay in Canada until I tell you to come out."

Bradley, now a Cleveland asphalt salesman, said he stayed 87 days in Canada, until he telegraphed his wife to come to see him. Then, he told a senate committee which has been investigating state purchases, a federal man showed up at his hotel.

Bradley continued his testimony despite a warrant charging him with perjury, sworn to Saturday by Gov. Davey after the witness had told the committee Gov. Davey had dealt with motor companies and utilities for campaign funds.

MAGAZINE WON'T CONFIRM FARLEY WILL GET $125,000

New York, Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Editors of the American magazine refused to confirm reports that their publication is paying Postmaster General James A. Farley $125,000 for his autobiography, which will appear serially in the magazine. They did say that the magazine has acquired Farley's life story but that any announcements regarding such things as price and other plans must come from the postmaster general.

According to reports in Washington, the autobiography will appear in five magazine instalments. It then will be published in book form and syndicated through newspapers. Farley is now in Florida on vacation.

Byfield Denies Cruelty in Reply to Divorce Suit

Ernest L. Byfield, president of the Hotel Sherman, yesterday filed a formal answer in the Circuit court, denying charges of cruelty made by his wife, the former Kathryn Prest, when she filed suit for divorce recently. The answer was filed by Attorney David Levinson, who asked an early hearing, indicating there would be no contest. The hearing was tentatively set for March 8.

2 Serve 5 Years; Pardoned When 'Victim' Confesses

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Jack and Marion Ammons, who served more than five years in prison for a crime which, the state now admits, they did not commit, walked out of prison late today, free men. The two, sentenced from Asheville in 1932 after being convicted of mutilating John Hart, received pardons from Gov. Clyde R. Hoey. The pardons were issued, the governor said, after he was informed that Hart had confessed he operated on himself. Jack Ammons had been sentenced to 30 to 40 years and Marion Ammons, his nephew, to 20 to 30 years.

If you're wondering why your bowels don't work right—stop and think about what you eat. Bread, meat, eggs and potatoes. All good nourishing foods—but all concentrated, lacking in "bulk." And you need "bulk"! Some food that forms a soft, spongy mass in the bowels—helps them move.

If it's this lack of "bulk" that's causing your constipation, Kellogg's All-Bran is just what you need. It soaks up water and softens like a sponge. And this soft mass helps your bowels move. In addition, All-Bran gives you Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B₁. Eat this crisp crunchy cereal every day, drink plenty of water, and enjoy happier days. All-Bran is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

NINE WILL ENTER COUNTY PRIMARY VOTE UNOPPOSED

Three Are Democrats and Six Republicans.

BY PARKE BROWN.

After County Clerk Michael J. Flynn closed his office at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the deadline for filing petitions of candidates for local offices in the April 12 primaries it was found that nine candidates on regular organization slates—six Republicans and three Democrats—have no opponents and therefore are considered as having already won their nominations.

The Republicans are:

County judge—Theodore F. Ehler.

Probate judge—Robert W. Dunn.

Criminal court clerk—Otto H. Larson.

County school superintendent—Clyde V. Winkler.

Assessor—Raymond J. Peacock.

President, county board—Henry D. Lindblad.

Three Are Democrats.

County Clerk Flynn was one of the three Democrats. The other two were Probate Judge John F. O'Connell and Assessor John S. Clark. All three are seeking reëlection.

In the eleventh hour filings those that attracted the most interest were petitions circulated by minority organizations—the Republican petitions circulated by Charles S. Deneen's followers and a last minute surprise batch presented by the Horner-Courtney-Jarecki Democrats.

Deneen headquarters announced that in addition to the nine aspirants to local office previously listed as having been aided in getting into the Republican contest they also count William F. Cunnea Jr., the first man who filed for clerk of the Appellate court, as one of those the faction will consider when it holds an indorsement meeting some time this week.

The List from A to Z

Homer J. Byrd, former county commissioner and now assistant state director of registration and education, announced the makeup of the Horner-Courtney-Jarecki country towns ticket. It is headed by the five candidates for the county board, who are the following:

Edward T. Arnold, city prosecutor, Evanston.

Albert H. Brandt, mayor, Oak Lawn.

William P. McAndrews, oil company executive, Oak Park.

John A. Zimny, city commissioner, Chicago Heights.

"All the way from A to Z," said Byrd as he gave out this list.

The same organization, he said, will support Attorney Ralph E. Sinsheimer of Winnetka, a justice of the peace, for state senator from the 7th district against Senator Charles F. Baumrucker, who is backed by the Nash organization. The Horner-Courtney-Jarecki candidate for state representative against the one Democratic incumbent in that district, Emmett McGrath, will be Attorney Robert J. Burdette of Homewood.

TELLS NEW BOMB TERROR METHOD OF RACKETEERS

Bomb terrorists trapped while trying to force shoe repair shop owners into a racketeer organization were using a new method, Lieut. Andrew Aitken disclosed yesterday—bombing their victims with tear gas and powder first and then asking them to join.

The terrorists began with owners of shoe repair concessions in large department stores. If they could force these owners to surrender, the terrorists believed, they would be able to show small shop owners the futility of resisting.

By tracing the buyer of the tear gas unit of one bomb Aitken captured Ray Walters of Franklin Park. On information Walter supplied the police arrested Richard Burke and Paul Hendricks, ex-convicts, and Irving Sandler, former head of a shoe repair men's organization. Aitken said two of the prisoners have confessed.

COMMERCE ASS'N APPROVES 262 CHARITIES IN CITY

In its annual review of charitable institutions, the Association of Commerce announced yesterday that 262 philanthropic and charitable organizations have qualified as worthy of public support for this year. Total annual expenses of the 262 approved last year amounted to $24,819,189, while total assets were $127,645,429.

The report said that nine agencies were added to the list, seven dropped, and two consolidated with other approved agencies. Indorsements sought for 52 others were rejected and six were given provisional approval. The association has investigated all institutions which seek donations in cooperation with the police.

Law Society Honors Judge Fisher

THUGS ATTACK SUPPORTER OF JUDGE JARECKI

Lawyer Beaten After 42d Ward Speech.

Indications that the approaching primary campaign in Cook county will be a rough one, due to the Democratic party split over the candidacy of Judge Edmund K. Jarecki, were seen last night in the slugging of Attorney Marvin J. Bas.

Bas, who is 33 years old and lives at 10 East Elm street, is a minor politician in the 42d ward. He espouses the candidacy of Judge Jarecki, who was dropped from the regular Democratic ticket. On Sunday night Bas spoke before 100 workers of the Horner-Courtney-Jarecki faction in a hall at 800 North Clark street.

Assails Leadership of Connors.

He assailed the party's leadership in the 42d ward of which State Senator W. J. Connors is the recognized boss.

"This is the beginning of a political war," said Bas. "The issue is honesty at the polls. We intend to rid the city of thugs and vote thieves. Judge Jarecki's record of jailing vote thieves proves he is for honest elections. He will clean up the city. In this ward in particular there are far too many men walking the streets who should be in jail."

Yesterday morning at Clark street and Delaware place Bas was approached by two men who fell upon him with a pistol and a blackjack. He suffered a possible skull fracture, one of his fingers was broken and his head was covered with welts and bruises. The thugs left him lying insensible in the street. At Henrotin hospital last night his condition was serious.

Early in the evening Bas' wife was threatened by telephone. She notified the state's attorney's office and two detectives were assigned to escort her to the home of relatives.

Seek to Prevent Fraud.

Meanwhile, Alexander J. McKay, chairman of the election board, acted to prevent fraud at the polls on primary day by dropping 535 former precinct judges and clerks from the rolls because of complaints against their previous service. Fifteen hundred have been cut from the list of applicants, disqualified because of relationship to precinct captains and other public officials, he said.

Submission of applicants' names to the detective bureau resulted in disqualification of 125 more. Some of them, records showed, had served prison sentences or had been tried for robbery, rape, or murder.

Also in the interest of honest elections, the Chicago Association of Commerce has appealed to its members to urge their employés to volunteer to serve as election officials. The association emphasized that its appeal is nonpartisan.

Attended by 800

More than 800 persons honored Judge Harry M. Fisher of the Circuit court last night at a dinner sponsored by the Decalogue Society of Lawyers in the Hotel Sherman for his twenty-five years on the bench.

Among those at the speakers' table were United States District Attorney Michael L. Igoe, Congressman A. J. Sabath, Judges Will W. Sparks and E. J. Major of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, Justices Francis Wilson and Warren H. Orr, of the Illinois Supreme court, Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby of the Municipal court, Attorney General Otto Kerner, Judges John J. Lupe, John M. O'Connor, David F. Matchett, Denis E. Sullivan, and Oscar Caplan, and Ald. J. M. Arvey.

A two minute silence was observed in tribute to Judge Joseph B. David, long a colleague of Judge Fisher, who died last week.

NOBLE B. JUDAH, FORMER ENVOY TO CUBA, IS ILL

Col. Noble Brandon Judah, former ambassador to Cuba, war veteran and lawyer, was reported seriously ill last night in his home at 232 E. Walton street. It is not expected that he can survive long. He is under the care of Dr. Anson Cameron and Dr. Charles K. Kahlke.

"Col. Judah's condition is extremely critical," said Dr. Cameron last night. "He has long been ill from a malignant tumor. His recovery now seems doubtful." On Jan. 6 Col. Judah's right eye was removed in an operation in the Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltomore, Md.

Col. Judah, 55 years old, and a native Chicagoan, served as captain on the Mexican border in 1916 and a lieutenant colonel in France during the world war, and won decorations for distinguished service. He was ambassador to Cuba from 1927 to 1929. Since then he has devoted his time to his law practice.

A little black pig came to a pool in Wisconsin and grunted and waded in and the water barely came to his chin and he churned in it and he rolled and . . . he lost his chance to be a TRIANGLE HAM for THAT was a mud puddle.

Map Campaign as Filing Deadline Passes.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—State Representative Richard J. Lyons of Libertyville, seeking the Republican nomination for United States senator, and his five running mates for statewide offices, today filed their petitions with the secretary of state and went to a downtown hotel where they mapped a joint campaign tour to start next Monday.

The six candidates filed their petitions in advance of a spectacular jam of candidates, Democrats and Republicans alike, who crowded into the index division of the secretary of state's office before the 5 p. m. deadline for filing April 12 primary nomination petitions.

Tour to Start Downstate.

The Republican regulars who filed with Lyons are William R. McCauley, Olney, for state treasurer; Wiley B. Garvin, Mascoutah, for state superintendent of public instruction; Simon E. Lantz, Congerville, and Frederick A. Virkus, La Grange, for congressmen at large, and George Lambur Jr., Chicago, for clerk of the Supreme court.

Prior to their meeting tonight Republican leaders, including the candidates, said they probably would start their campaign next Monday by a tour of downstate cities. The candidates who have the support of the County Chairmen's association will appear as a unit, they said, in the belief this method will be more effective than splitting into separate caravans. The last two weeks before the primary will find the candidates in Chicago.

Prospects of a rival Republican organization in the primary seemed to have faded away. Of a group reputed to have the backing of Charles Deneen, Chicago Republican leader, only the petition of Warren Wright of Jacksonville for state treasurer was filed. The Republican group indorsing Lyons and the others said Wright had filed on his own initiative, as did several others.

Members of the Lyons group said they would not publicly oppose the candidacies of these so-called independents in the campaign. Instead, the plan calls for concentrating on issues.

Lyons Issues Statement.

The only formal statement to come from the Republican group was made by Lyons and dealt not with the immediate campaign, but the war scare.

"European developments in the last forty-eight hours," Lyons said, "indicate more strongly than ever that the Republican party must take its place definitly as the anti-war party of the United States.

"This does not mean that the Republican party is opposed to adequate defense. But it does mean that the Republican party is vigorously opposed to collecting and spending American tax dollars for the defense of other nations with whom President Roosevelt may have entered into secret treaties."

Although official tabulation of the last day's filing for the primary was incomplete, other petitions filed today for major offices included those of Frank A. Jenson, La Salle, Democrat, and Thomas M. Enright, Chicago, Democrat, for superintendent of public instruction; Senator T. V. Smith, Chicago, Democrat; Harley D. Jones, Chicago, Republican, and Stephen A. Day, Evanston, Republican, for congressman at large; Wright for state treasurer, and Cecil D. Johnson, Chicago, Republican, and Joseph P. Burke, Chicago, Democrat, for Appellate clerk, 1st district.

Officials in Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes' office said they did not believe the petitions of Charles W. Vail of Chicago for clerk of the Supreme court and Jay J. McCarthy of Chicago for senator had been received.

Thieves Loot V.F.W. Safe; Leave 2 Books Telling How

Revere, Mass., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Studious robbers today looted the Veterans of Foreign Wars safe of approximately $1,000 and fled, leaving behind two loose leaf typewritten notebooks containing full instructions on the cracking of strongboxes.

TWO IN TRUCK CAB REVIVED.

Two men who were overcome by carbon monoxide in the cab of a truck yesterday at 2850 26th street were revived by an inhalator squad under the direction of Lieut. Ralph Scavone of the Brighton Park police. The men, Dell Breckenridge, 29 years old, and Curtis Henderson, 23 years old, had driven here from Colfax, Ill., to deliver a load of corn.

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

WASHINGTON AND THE TEMPO OF THE TIMES

By CALEB

SOMETHING of the tempo of revolutionary days clings still to Mount Vernon. The carriage stable, the smoke-house, the sweep of lawn, the great veranda overlooking the placid Potomac, have all a flavor and texture of deliberation, of relaxation and repose.

George Washington did not spare his energy. Nevertheless, the various important, disconcerting, and demanding influences which could impinge upon a man's life from outside in those days could arrive no more hurriedly nor frequently than post-horses or special messengers.

Today a European dictator addresses members of his government one hour—the next the radio is carrying a summary of his speech the wide world around. Three hours later newspapers of the world's capitals are commenting upon his remarks. So delicately interwoven are the interests—actual or presumed—of political subdivisions and factions, of peoples and of governments, that a constraining knot of discord one place in the web is felt elsewhere at once.

If the world partakes of a dual nature—power on the one hand and circumstances on the other—where circumstances are most trying, power to stand against them is more than ever required.

The power of character within the individual is the only power that can fend rightfully for itself, and for others, in the maelstrom of these times.

If the character of Washington was a great asset to his country, the country needs today, more than in Washington's time, staunch character. Character is the only thing which can grow within a man, and yet tower without bounds. With the weary world's worries impinging now on public men wherever they stand, unswerving strength, unswerving character is the world's one hope.

George Washington is a good man for men to dream upon.

DETROIT MAYOR WARS ON C. I. O. RELIEF CHEATING

Police Squads Check Up on Fraud Complaints.

averted late today when Mayor Reading ordered that $150,000 out of $1,000,000 set aside as the city's contribution to WPA projects be placed in the bank for direct relief. Daniel Ryan Jr., accountant for the welfare administration, said this afternoon that he had only $29,000 in the bank to meet the rest of the cash needs for the month.

$900,000 Owed for Groceries.

Emergency relief, granted before a full investigation can be completed, is given in grocery orders rather than in cash. By March 1, Ryan said, the city will owe $900,000 in these items and there are no funds in sight to meet the deficit.

During the last month the city borrowed $500,000 of its state funds for March in addition to the $530,000 it was allotted by the state for February. Ryan did not know just how much money will be available to meet estimated needs of $1,953,500 for March, but said that a large loan from the state undoubtedly will be necessary.

There now are 34,000 cases on the direct relief rolls. Relief authorities hope this will be brought down to 17,000 cases by April 1, because of assignment to WPA projects, but there are said to be nearly a quarter of a million people out of work because of the closing of automobile plants.

One expert on the situation said Mayor Reading may run into trouble with the state relief board, which allocates state funds, because Richard T. Frankensteen, right hand man of President Homer Martin of the U. A. W. A., is a member of the board. Frankensteen has denounced Reading repeatedly for refusing to allow the U. A. W. A. to put whomever it wants on the relief rolls. The union leader was active in the campaign against Reading last fall.

Despite trouble on the horizon, both reliefers and those who minister to their needs have been far better off here than in Chicago. Each case here received an average of $38.50 last month, while those in Chicago received slightly more than $27. A large part of this is accounted for by the fact that full rents for every one are paid here, while only half rents for part of the cases are paid in Chicago.

Social Workers Dictate.

Social workers dominate the actual relief administration here, as they do in Chicago, but emphasis here is placed on ability to handle relief problems and on flexibility of organization to meet emergencies, as well as on social work.

Much of the stress on the organization during the present depression has been relieved by using the city's 70 fire stations to take relief applications, and having firemen, who volunteered for the work, make primary investigations of cases. Before this method was adopted, the five district relief offices were said to have been jammed with applicants.

The spread of the work to the firemen makes it possible to conduct a preliminary investigation within 24 hours after the applicaton is received, and to grant emergency relief at the conclusion of this investigation.

MEN KEPT IDLE BY GUFFEY ACT CALL A STRIKE

Marion, Ill., Feb. 21.—(AP)—A strike of United Mine Workers closed a number of wagon mines in Williamson and Franklin counties today, but operators said many of the 90 small shafts already were shut down because of the Guffey coal act.

The strike was called at a mass-meeting yesterday at which Ray Edmundson, president of the Illinois U. M. W. A., said 1,000 men working in the wagon mines were paid but $1.50 to $2 a day. A resolution demanding that strikers be placed on relief was adopted at the meeting.

INDUSTRY BEARS RELIEF BURDEN, SAYS GREGORY

Private industry has 'done more than its share toward solving the national relief problem, members of the Cook County Federation of Women's Clubs were told yesterday by Walter L. Gregory, chairman of the Illinois council on relief and employment, who addressed the women at the Auditorium hotel. His statement was made in answer to a skeptical delegate who put the question during Gregory's address.

"Industry has paid most of the tremendous relief bill," he declared. "Also it has employed at various times many more persons than business conditions verified. It has done far more than its share."

Gregory urged that the women forget foreign affairs and the troubles of the rest of the world and concentrate their energies on the problem of relief for one-eighth of the nation's population.

Tired of Playing Second Fiddle, Sues for Divorce

Mrs. Roberta Peters Pilot, 4449 North Spaulding avenue, said yesterday that she had no intention of playing second fiddle to a bass viol. She filed suit for divorce in Circuit court, charging cruelty, and declaring that her husband, Robert, a dance band musician, paid more attention to his bass viol than to his wife.

CADET TURNED BANDIT GETS A YEAR PROBATION

Edward Rathbun, 17 years old, a cadet at Howe Military academy in Howe, Ind., until he decided at Christmas time to become a Chicago bandit, was given probation for a year yesterday by Judge Robert Jerome Dunne in Criminal court.

His father, Ross H. Rathbun, general sales manager of the Westinghouse Electric Elevator company in New York, said he was taking the youth back to his home. He promised the court to take better care of him. The boy blamed his father's refusal to let him come home for Christmas for his foray into crime.

CHURCHES PUT ALL GAMBLING ON TABOO LIST

Federation Assails Bunco, Raffles, Prizes.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Gambling in churches or for church purposes was put on the taboo list of the Chicago Church federation yesterday following a meeting of the federation's commission on civic relations. Letters to this effect were sent to all pastors and to the eighteen denominations affiliated with the federation.

The letters asked officials of all the denominations to make a survey of their churches and institutions.

"If you find gambling of any kind, such as bunco, beano, bingo, raffles, and door prizes, we urge that vigorous action be taken promptly to stop or discourage this practice," the letter urges.

Prize Giving Called Gambling.

The commission discussed gambling for church benefit in hotels and at other places not church property, laying stress on bridge prizes and door prizes given by missionary, ladies' aid, and youth organizations. All such practices, members of the commission said, constitute gambling and are illegal.

Reaffirming a statement of policy made in 1935, the commission said:

"Some churches have winked at the evil [of gambling] to fill ther treasuries, and have destroyed the ideals of youth ,who lose faith in preaching which is contradicted in practice. Churches and other organizations do not seem to realize that raffles, bunco, roulette, certain slot machines, and other games of chance are in violation of the laws of Illinois."

Federation leaders pointed out at that time that if gambling is to be attacked effectively, the church must enter the fight with clean hands.

Follows Edict by Bishop.

Yesterday's action by the federation closely follows a demand by Bishop George Craig Stewart of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago that Episcopal clergymen stop gambling in their churches. The Episcopal church is not a member of the federation.

Bishop Stewart's demand resulted from the disclosure by the Venerable Frederick G. Deis, archdeacon of Chicago, that many of Chicago's Episcopal clergy favored gambling as a way to increase church income and to add spice to church affairs.

MACFADDEN WINS VERDICT IN SUIT FOR LOVE THEFT

New York, Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Bernarr Macfadden, magazine publisher, today won a verdict in the $100,000 alienation of affections suit of S. C. Adams, Boston cafeteria manager, who had charged that the publisher, now 69 years old, seduced his wife, Abbie, 45 years old, in a Battle Creek sanitarium owned by Macfadden. Mrs. Adams was employed there as a nurse.

Macfadden took the stand to deny the charges after Mrs. Adams, now a masseuse in Joplin, Mo., testified she left Adams and became intimate with Macfadden because she liked him better.

POSTAL CLERK, 20, LEAVES GIRL; DIES OF FUMES IN CAR

Milton A. Nowlin, 20 years old, a Houston, Tex., postal clerk, was found dead of carbon monoxide fumes yesterday in his auto on Lake Shore drive at Greenwood avenue, Evanston. A hose extended from the exhaust outlet through a window of the car.

The car, owned by a drive-yourself agency in Houston, had been rented Friday.

$13,789 in Stolen Bonds Are Returned to Owner

Stolen bonds valued at $13,789 were returned yesterday to their owner, Frank Sauer, 66 years old, 2626 Wayne avenue, a retired Kansas farmer. They were part of $34,000 in bonds taken from his home in a burglary last Oct. 6. The recovered securities were handed over to Sauer by Walter Zuczek, 20 years old, 2004 Huron street, who said he found them in North Ashland avenue last Saturday.

Tells of Death Leap

[TRIBUNE Photo.]
Mrs. Ethel Scott.

A verdict of suicide was returned yesterday at a coroner's inquest into the death of John Walter Scott, 51 years old, of Marion, Ark., planter, who on Sunday leaped from the sixth floor of the Lake Shore Drive hotel. His widow, Ethel Scott, and a friend, Mrs. Elizabeth Carroll Scott of Memphis, Tenn., testified he had been despondent since the death of a business associate.

The two women, who are not related, had brought Scott to Chicago for a vacation that was intended to make him forget his worries. They were knocked down in an attempt to halt his leap. Deputy Coroner Edward Edelstein directed the inquest.

SEATTLE'S GOOD GOVERNMENT MAN LEADS FOR MAYOR

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Councilman Arthur B. Langlie, advocate of sound municipal financing, was assured of one nomination for mayor in today's nonpartisan primary. Lieut. Gov. Victor A. Meyers, former swing band leader, backed by the C. I. O., captured the other nomination over Mayor John F. Dore, supported by the American Federation of Labor. Langlie and Meyers will compete in a runoff at the election March 8.

Langlie, 37 years old, candidate of the Cincinnatus group, pledged to improve municipal government, received more than the combined votes of Meyers and Dore. The complete unofficial vote gave Langlie, 50,389; Meyers, 27,263, and Dore, 21,369. Six other candidates trailed far behind.

$50,000 BOASTER HELD IN ROBBERY ON $30,000 BONDS

Peter Connolly, 31 years old, 1957 Chicago avenue, boasted to police a few days ago that he had gone through a $50,000 legacy left by his father before he turned to crime. Yesterday he was held to the grand jury in bonds of $30,000 by Judge Oscar S. Caplan in Felony court on charges of attempted robbery and assault with intent to kill.

Connolly and two others, who are still sought, attempted to hold up the Newark Electric company at 323 West Madison street Feb. 1. Abraham Poncher, the manager, fired on them as they fled. Adam Gladzinski, 38, of 2819 South Keeler avenue, a watchman, was shot twice by the bandits as they returned Poncher's fire.

KILLS SELF WITH SHOTGUN.

Lavern Uteg, 26 years old, 1638 Cleveland avenue, a shirt cutter, committed suicide in his home early today by shooting himself with a shotgun. His widow, Annabelle, 24, could give no motive for his act, she said.

HUNT EDUCATOR AFTER STAINED AUTO IS FOUND

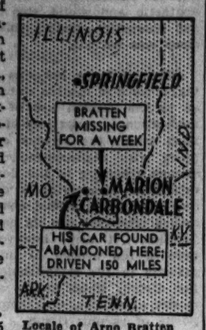
Carbondale, Ill., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Belief that Arno Bratten, former principal of the township high school at Marion, Ill., has been slain was expressed tonight after his blood stained automobile was found abandoned in the Carbondale business district.



Locale of Arno Bratten Mystery.

Bratten, who was 55 years old, has been missing from his home at Marion for a week. Last Monday night he put fifteen gallons of gasoline in his automobile and left for a political meeting, his wife said. She said, however, that he was not planning any long trip because the meeting was in Marion. His relatives have heard no word of him since.

Car Driven 150 Miles.

Five gallons of fuel remained in the tank when the car was found today, indicating it had been driven about 150 miles before being abandoned. S. J. Brewer, Jackson county deputy sherif, said the unlocked car had been standing on the street for five days.

The automobile and Bratten's rain coat were identified by his son, Gilbert Bratten, who lives in Chicago. He went to Marion to aid in the search when he learned his father was missing.

Since Bratten gave up his post as principal at Marion five years ago he has been employed selling textbooks for George L. Shuman & Co., 203 North Wabash avenue, Chicago.

Investigators suggested a robbery motive for his disappearance when they learned Bratten usually carried moderately large sums of money from which he paid his expenses, but members of his family said they found $150 intact at the home.

Interested in Politics.

Bratten was well respected in Marion, where he has made his home for many years. He was keenly interested in politics and was a Republican candidate for county treasurer four years ago. He lost by less than 100 votes.

He has four adult sons and daughters. They are Gilbert, who is employed by the Inland Consolidated Coal company, 37 West Van Buren street, Chicago; Mrs. Marvin Owen, whose husband teaches in the Herrin, Ill., public schools; Miss Esagene Bratten, a teacher in the Marion schools, and William, who was graduated from the Marion High school last June.

Rain Brings New Threat of Flood in Arkansas

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Rain started to fall again in Arkansas late today, adding uncertainty to a flood situation that had appeared almost under contral. The Arkansas, White, and Ouachita rivers were falling in their upper reaches, but crests still had to strike at least one major danger zone in the vicinity of Pine Bluff in southwest Arkansas. A curve in the river near Pine Bluff was causing considerable bank caving.

High Cost of Labor Retards Home Building, Expert Insists

Building in Chicago is being retarded almost solely by the high cost of labor, H. M. Stanton, manager of the Associated Builders of Chicago, told the city council housing congress yesterday in the city hall. The level of hourly wages for the building trades is higher now than during the building boom of 1929, he said.

"The high hourly rates do not mean higher annual earnings," Stanton asserted. "On the contrary, lower hourly wages might well result in a greatly increased average annual earning. It can be contended fairly that if the hourly rates were substantially reduced, building would be stimulated and far more men would be employed."

Building trades leaders contend that because the men do not work regularly the hourly wage must be high to maintain a fair standard of living throughout the year, Stanton said. Lower labor costs, however, would tempt prospective home owners to build, he believes, resulting in longer terms of employment.

Refutes High Rate Argument.

"Labor leaders oppose a decrease in rates on the ground that a similar decrease in 1932 failed to stimulate building," Stanton asserted. "This argument ignores all the fundamental differences between that period and the present.

"No financing whatever was available during the depth of the depression—people had no purchasing power. Witness the almost frantic efforts of the administration in the last few years to provide money for construction purposes."

The high cost of materials is another stumbling block in the way of a long range building program, Stanton said, which may be met by new methods of construction.

Sullivan in Reply.

Patrick J. Sullivan, president of the Chicago Building Trades council, replied that the cost of labor is about 20 per cent of the total cost of any building and that wage scales cannot be held wholly responsible.

"The high cost of materials, the profits demanded by contractors, and fees for architects and others must share this responsibility," Sullivan said.

Several experts discussed the relation between city planning and housing during the morning session of the congress.

"Housing is coming to be regarded as more of a civic and public obligation than in the past," said Eugene S. Taylor, manager of the Chicago Plan commission. "It is the function of city planning to designate what portions of the city shall be reserved for dwellings."

Other speakers included F. A. Cushing Smith, landscape architect; Paul Opperman, assistant director of the American Society of Planning Officials, and Ernest M. Culligan, of the United States Housing authority. The congress will continue through Friday.

REASONS FOR THE ROOSEVELT DEPRESSION.

The United States finds itself today in one of the most serious depressions this country has ever suffered. We are in it because of Mr. Roosevelt and his policies.

Today there are 13 million men and women out of work. The average price of stocks declined 39 per cent in 100 days. The aggregate value of the stocks and bonds listed on the New York exchange declined 21 billion dollars. The decline in factory production has been the most rapid in American history. Interest rates are at record lows, with consequent suffering among those dependent on the interest from the savings. The price of farm products has dropped sharply, not because of an oversupply but simply because buying power, even for necessities, is lacking.

The more important reasons for all this devastation and the accompanying misery are as follows:

1. Fear. This is the principal one. Fear, today as always, has to be overcome before any one will embark on any new enterprise. When to the normal fear of failure is added fear of the unknown and fear of government hostility, the obstacle is too great to be overcome. Fear wins.

2. Excessive Taxation. There is always an element of chance in every commercial enterprise. People will embark on an enterprise when they feel that the chances of success outweigh the chances of failure. When, as in recent years, the government takes an inordinate portion of the profit in the event of success and contributes nothing in case of failure, all incentive is destroyed.

3. The Capital Gains Tax. When the market goes up, people do not sell because they know that because of this tax they will have to pay the government a large part of the profit. They hold their securities and thus create a false bull market. When, for any reason, the market goes down to the purchase price, they almost invariably sell, thus making an artificial bear market.

4. The Undistributed Profits Tax. This tax has prevented the expansion of plants. Thus it has caused unemployment both of those who construct buildings and machinery and of those who would be required to man the new facilities if they were built. The law, by preventing the accumulation of an adequate surplus and compelling the distribution of dividends, has converted times of mild depression into times of great depression.

5. Unreasonable Requirements in Flotation of Securities. Except in times of speculative excitement, it is difficult enough to put out securities. When unreasonable restrictions are added, it becomes impossible to sell securities and we have financial stagnation.

The Roosevelt legislation was passed on the theory that it would injure the rich and only the rich. Instead we find that it has caused unemployment and therefore injured those dependent entirely upon their labor. It has also destroyed the return on investments and therefore has ruined the industrious and thrifty who have earned and saved their money to protect their old age and their heirs.

MAKING A JAIL TERM AGREEABLE.

The New York state commission of correction recommends more recreational facilities for prisoners in the state penal institutions. The commission finds that "demoralizing idleness is the outstanding quality of life within this jail [Westchester county] as well as jails generally throughout the country." "Outstanding" is a pet word of the intelligentsia and we borrow it to remark that an inclination to make the punishment of criminals as little a punishment as possible seems to be an outstanding idea in prison reform.

This urge is not shared, it seems, by the sheriff of Westchester county. He does not think that it would be fair to taxpayers to provide ping-pong tables and bowling alleys for the prisoners, and he points out that the men exercise all day long in the corridors and have all the recreational opportunities that any other gaol in the state offers. He points out that the suggestion for letting prisoners resort to the roof for recreation would call for more guards and, generally, in his view of the matter, an ambition to make the Westchester jail a popular resort does not seem to be outstanding. The commission, noting that there is insufficient wholesome activity and too much profanity, would make more provision for the former and thus correct the latter, but the sheriff, remarking that the men in cells are not Sunday school superintendents, seems to doubt that the organized recreation prescribed for them is likely to produce the results expected by the commission.

Committees of well meaning citizens are naturally offended by the moral and mental atmosphere of penal institutions and they seldom seem to consider that it is produced by the prisoners rather than the keepers. No doubt the latter are not perfect, but it is very unlikely that public security will be served by trying to turn our jails into country clubs or by providing such plentiful recreational facilities for criminals that a term in jail will compete with the cruise agencies and the resort hotels. That, at least, is a form of government competition with private enterprise that we can do without.

WEATHER AND CLIMATE.

The mild weather we have been enjoying will bring forth the hopeful theory that our climate is changing, is growing milder. It is a pleasant theory which, like so many other pleasant theories, has a very narrow and fragile foundation. Weather changes day by day, season by season. Climate changes by epochs.

Our fallacy is partly a trick of memory. We remember extreme weather—the storms, the blizzards, the prolonged drouths or wet spells. We forget the moderate weather. So our picture of the past is highly dramatic and greatly distorted. We compare the mild weather of today with the excessive weather of the past, which is all we can recall.

Our fallacy is also the result of our leaving out of account the wonderful progress of man's conquest of his physical environment. La Salle nearly perished in making his way one winter from the Illinois to the St. Joseph. He was days in the struggle. Today he would make it in a few hours in a heated limousine. Yet it is the same country and the same climate. If a modern man should try this journey in the bad weather we have nowadays, as they had it in La Salle's time, if he should go afoot, avoiding the roads and bridges, and plunging across country, he would have as hard going as La Salle and, if he were not uncommonly fit, harder. He might very well die of exposure, as La Salle nearly did.

It is not the climate that has changed but man's defenses. Thoroughfares are firm and cleared of obstructions. Houses and vehicles are better heated. Journeys are shorter over the same distance, and when they are long we take them in warm Pullmans or warm motors. But the weather is there and when anything goes wrong with our elaborate contrivances for comfort we soon discover that mother nature has not turned kind for our benefit.

Our generation is more given to complain of the defects and shortcomings of the world in which we now live than to giving thanks for the vast betterments we enjoy over our forbears. We take the good things for granted, giving little heed to what they replaced or to what they cost, or how they were achieved, or what is due from us to preserve them. Perhaps an experience of primitive nature, the nature which is all about us still waiting to break through our hard won defenses, would give us a better spirit and more intelligent ideas of how to preserve and perfect them.

IMPORTING THE PURGE.

Another little bit of Moscow has been transferred to the American shore as might have been expected. The bolsheviks say that you cannot export a revolution, but some people do not believe they believe it. We have imported one and the customs marks show it was made in Russia. Some of it has come over in parts and accessories. The new accessory is the purge, adapted to the uses of the novice.

Communism to be complete must have schism, counterrevolution, wrecking, and purges. It must have plot, murder, counterplot, and the bumpoff. The American approach to perfection naturally consults our own folk ways and also defers to our communistic immaturity.

The Stalinite Daily Worker of New York accused an alleged Trotzkyite counterrevolutionary center in this country of murdering Patrick Corcoran, the Minneapolis labor leader who was assassinated some months ago. The Daily Worker, having said that the Trotzkyite center was composed of gunmen, gangsters, wreckers, and murderers, has been sued for several hundred thousand dollars. The Trotzkyites accept that challenge. Their attorney is Alfred Goldman, who was Trotzky's attorney in Mexico when John Dewey's commission gave the exile a hearing to defend himself against Stalin's indictment of him for treason and assassination.

Benjamin Stolberg, a member of the Dewey commission in that hearing, has recently completed a survey of the Stalin communists' activities in the C. I. O. There has been little refutation of what he wrote but a great deal of abuse of him as a Trotzkyite wrecker, counterrevolutionary, and public enemy.

The Russian importations now include the vocabulary and terminology of the soviets and methods of action will probably become more direct with greater maturity.

Editorial of the Day

WORTH THE MONEY.

[Baltimore Sun.]

The "cut" which, it is reported, Judge Samuel Rosenman will receive from the sale of "The Public Papers and Addresses of Franklin D. Roosevelt" is reckoned at 35 per cent. If Judge Rosenman's part in the business had been that of a mere contact man the commission might be described as generous. But Judge Rosenman's job is to edit the collection, and the man who edits the public papers and addresses of Franklin D. Roosevelt is clearly entitled to all the trade will bear.

The editor of such a work has on his shoulders the task of making his subject's public thinking appear to be a consistent and progressive entity, proceeding from point to point by logical and reasonably predictable steps. He has to make the Franklin D. Roosevelt of Sept. 29, 1932, who begged to be assigned the "task of reducing the annual operating expenses of the national government," with the Mr. Roosevelt of subsequent dates. His is the task of reconciling the Roosevelt of 1933, urging coöperation in industry as against "cutthroat" competition, with the Roosevelt of 1938 breathing fire on the hot trail of monopoly. He has also to find some points in common between the Roosevelt of 1933, who sought to raise commodity prices as a means of restoring prosperity, and the Roosevelt of 1938 who attacked monopoly for responding with alacrity to the suggestion of higher prices.

All this must have required a lot of editing, and Judge Rosenman is entitled to the congratulations of his contemporaries. He is also entitled to the 35 per cent, and if this commission tends to restore prosperity among editors of public papers and speeches, perhaps the whole nation will participate in the consequent revival of purchasing power. At any rate, the nation will have an opportunity to note the effect of Mr. Roosevelt's public documents when laid end to end.

Version of a Favorite Washington Story.

George Washington attended a celebration, crossing to the opposite side of the river to do so. A number of Indians were present and during the athletic games an Indian buck challenged Washington to a wrestling match. Washington threw him with ease. The following day a visitor to Mount Vernon, or perhaps Washington was still at Williamsburg, was told Washington "threw a buck across the river yesterday." That's the way they tell it down east, writes W. P. Breen.

LXXIX.

These lilting lyrics seem to me ofttimes
No more than feeble piping in the wind;
What purpose can there be in peaceful rhymes
When men know only hate? We all have sinned
So long that fear and cold intolerance
Are all that rule our hearts; we only heed
The drums insistent in the barren dance
Of death; the Gentle One who sought to lead
Our steps to love has been forgot so long
That kindly words are flowers in a path
Beneath the iron hooves of ruthless wrong
The while we blindly serve the gods of wrath.
Love rewards love, and hate is born of hate,
This we must learn, but shall we learn too late?

She Didn't Know Her Onions.

ONE OF THE FINEST privately owned collections of etchings in Chicago is that of Edward C. Crossett, some fine examples of which are now on loan to the Dayton Art Institute. Greer Marechal, head of the institute, in town recently, was glowing with pleasure over Mr. Crossett's promise to send some of his treasures to him for exhibition. Probably the two finest in the extensive collection are McBey's "The Camel Patrol" and Whistler's "Kitchen." Mr. Crossett owns Rembrandts, Durers, Zorns, Forains, and Hadens. He has a complete collection of Briscoes, and is pleased because he liked his work and started buying it when Briscoe etchings sold for a fraction of their present value. Heintzelman dedicates at least one plate a year to Mr. Crossett, who owns some 200 of his etchings.

ANOTHER FINE COLLECTION of etchings is that of the late Herbert F. Perkins. A memorial exhibit from his collection is planned for the Chicago Art institute, to be held shortly. Stanley Field is an etching collector. Few know about his fine collection of Rembrandts. Potter Palmer is the leading old print collector of the town. Many of his fine early Italian and German prints are hanging at the Chicago Art institute.

There's a Big Apple cocktail now. Scoop out a large apple and fill the interior with two parts applejack, one part grenadine, and one part lime. After consuming the cocktail eat the apple. It has a bang like a cocoanut dropped from the Tribune Tower. Hearsay. Not tested.

THE ONLY PRIVATELY owned street in Chicago is Robbins terrace, a short, no thoroughfare avenue, running between Clarendon avenue and Marine drive at 4300 north. There are three houses on the street, all owned by members of the Robbins family. An iron gate keeps out strangers at Clarendon avenue and a fence encloses the terrace at the other end. Mrs. Nett W. Robbins, who died some years ago, was the widow of a circus man who had settled on the north shore when Eugene Field's house at Clarendon and Kenesaw was almost the only residence in the vicinity. When he built his house there the lake came almost to his east wall. The land on which Robbins terrace was later laid out was a result of receding water and "made" land. A daughter of Mrs. Robbins, Mrs. China Robbins Logeman, occupies one of the three houses and her children the other two. Old time residents in the vicinity recall the truck garden the late Mrs. Robbins used to have, cultivated by an old Negro retainer. By then property values had risen to a point that, considering both taxes and land values, it was estimated that the tomatoes raised were worth about $350 apiece.

OBESITY TREATMENT AIDED BY BENZEDRINE SULFATE.

THOSE who are grossly overweight usually are fagged out. They become weary lugging around huge rolls of fat. On slight exertion they manifest abnormal fatigue, and as they become more indolent—doing little but eat—more food adds more poundage.

Struggle as he may against mounting avoirdupois, the effort may be futile unless the victim can be pushed over the hilltop into a situation where a strong control over the food intake can be acquired, whereupon lessening weight will lead to more exercise.

Many of these individuals waken in the morning too tired to get out of bed, and here is where benzedrine sulfate, carefully watched and given in small doses, may be of great value. The drug acts by stimulating the nervous system and relaxing the digestive tract. It prevents drowsiness better than caffeine and counteracts the characteristic "I don't want to move" attitude.

Lesses and Myerson report forty obese patients who were put on a 1,400 calorie diet—approximately half what each had been accustomed to use. The dosage of benzedrine was so low that no elevation in blood pressure occurred, and sleeplessness at night—common after taking caffeine—was not noted. The amount was increased or decreased according to the reaction. No one was given a prescription for the chemical, nor was any hint dropped as to its possible influence. The findings of these authors indicate that, when the psychic effect of the drug was the greatest, the reduction in weight was most marked. Not one complained of insufficient food, and there was no craving for additional quantities.

It should be understood that the compound itself has nothing whatever to do with removing fat, but it gives the person—at least for the time being—a sense of power, and the desire to take on an overload of calories vanishes.

A young woman of 24 was carrying fifty pounds of excess fat. A reducing regime without benzedrine was unsuccessful although adhered to for nearly eleven months. Inasmuch as her blood pressure was within normal limits, it was decided to offer her the benefit of the chemical. She lost sixteen pounds in the first month. Nervousness and crying spells disappeared, and she overcame entirely the habit of lunching between meals, saying, "I'm not hungry any more." Without the drug she started to gain, but with less than half of the usual dose she sustained a total loss of twenty-nine pounds in seventeen weeks.

A housewife of 45, who became exhausted easily, stated that she had been heavy all her life. At the time of the first visit to her physician she was ninety-five pounds above the average for her height and age. Within twenty-five weeks she lost forty-eight pounds. Appetite was substantially diminished, and there was a marked advance in comfort and physical efficiency. Instead of being apathetic and stolid she became alert and energetic. During this entire time sleep was normal.

Although these histories sound alluring, a word of caution should be uttered as to the general use of any sort of medication to assist loss of weight. We must recall the serious experience of many with dinitrophenol, in some instances resulting in the development of cataracts. Benzedrine is not foolproof, and only under critical observation of a skilled physician can its employment be justified. It may, however, offer the type of aid needed to initiate certain patients in the establishment of a low fuel dietary which finally will become a matter of routine, unaccompanied by deposits of surplus tissue.

The sense of weakness and incapacity can be understood thoroughly when we realize that fifty pounds of unneeded flesh must be not only carried about by the muscles and skeleton of the body, but likewise nourished and fed by the circulation. Thus the heart is required to do more work, and the blood is obliged to furnish more nutriment.

MORE MEAT HELPS.

C. H. W. writes: Recently you spoke of alkalosis. What is the primary disturbance? The cause? The remedy?

REPLY.

An excessive amount in the body over and above that which the blood can neutralize with ease. If this condition is detected one should stop taking alkalis by mouth and use more meat in the diet. If this does not relieve the condition, hydrochloric acid may be given. The whole régime should be under the watchful eye of your physician.

FOOD FOR OLD PERSONS.

Mrs. R. T. writes: If eggs seem to agree with the stomach and are satisfying, do you think elderly folks [nearing 70] may make them take the place of meat almost entirely?

REPLY.

Both eggs and meat furnish complete proteins. Egg yolk is high in cholesterol; so is the fat of meat. Diets for the elderly should not contain too much of this material. One or two eggs daily plus a small amount of lean meat will suffice.

FROM ACROSS THE SEA

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON.—British war planes will "raid" every big industrial center in England, most of the big ports, and all armament centers in the next three months. It will be the biggest series of mock air raids ever staged. The various objectives will be darkened during the course of the raid.

For the first time the royal air force will work at full strength. Instead of the one or two aircraft normally used in "black-outs," several squadrons will carry out maneuvers over the darkened areas. Each black-out will be a rehersal of an air raid both from attack and defense points of view.

This biggest and most ambitious test program yet devised by the air raid precautions department of the home office started with a mock raid on Jan. 28 at Leicester.

London alone is to be missed, because a black-out of that metropolis would mean holding up business at a cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars an hour.

Anti-aircraft units are to be tried out under the nearest approach yet to realism, while bomber squadrons will be given an opportunity of showing their ability to locate important targets in the "hidden" areas.

The railway companies are putting special equipment on their locomotives to screen the glare from the fire boxes and funnels, and lights in passenger trains are to be extinguished.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON.—Babies as young as six months have been used in British government research laboratories to test a new gasproof baby bag, designed by the home office air raids precautions department for the protection of infants in event of war.

Several tiny children whose names Whitehall is keeping secret have taken part in the tests. Inclosed in the new gas bag they have been carried into chambers filled with choking tear gas. The babies suffered no harm from the experiments, according to research experts.

Gas masks at present are being made in three sizes, the smallest of which can be worn by a child of four. The new baby bag is intended for the protection of younger children.

It consists of a cylinder, somewhat longer than a pillow case, but made of a light mackintosh fabric and open at each end. It is fitted with a big transparent mica "window" through which the child may be seen. The baby is slipped inside and the ends of the bag then are closed with strong elastic bands.

Attached to the bag is a small pump and respirator. The bag is "pumped up" with filtered air which remains fresh for about fifteen minutes before more pumping is necessary.

Straps enable the mother to carry the baby on her back or arm and pump in air at the same time.

Wing Commander E. J. Hodsoll, air raids precautions chief, disclosed that the new device first had been tried out with a baby belonging to an official of his department. He indicated the British government will begin mass production of the new baby bags soon.

ESTATE DEBTS.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—The proprietor of a small business died insolvent. Inventory slightly less than debts [business]. There is no probate.

1. The deceased's son [not previously connected with the business] steps in and manages the business. There are no other claims to the property. Six months later a creditor asks payment of a bill of $16 for merchandise purchased twelve months before.

The new proprietor, while not assuming responsibility for the account [2] promises to pay as soon as it becomes possible.

The creditor then writes he is willing to go along with the firm and [3] suggests that a small amount, say $3, be paid monthly. One month later the account was given to a lawyer for collection, who threatens to take it into the courts.

4. Can the lawyer force collection?

R. H.

1. In general, the remedy of the creditor of a deceased person is to force probate of the estate and file his claim in the probate. The percentage of payment would depend on the ratio between assets and liabilities.

2. The enforcibility of this promise would depend on whether it is in writing, whether there is a legal consideration for it, etc.

3. You do not state whether the payment was made.

4. It does not seem likely that suit will be brought for so small an amount in view of the doubtful facts.

LOUD SPEAKERS.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I would like to know whether there are any laws or regulations prohibiting or restricting the use of a public address speaker [loud speaker] in a café, the purpose of which would be to bring the music to the sidewalk. We have been considering the installation of one of these devices if they are permissible. J. J.

Section 4184 of the General Ordinances reads: "No person shall make, or cause, permit or allow to be made, upon a public street, or in such close proximity to a public street as to be distinctly and loudly audible upon such public street, any noise of any kind by crying, calling or shouting or by means of any whistle, rattle, bell, gong, clapper, hammer, drum, horn, hand organ, mechanically operated piano, other musical instrument, or similar mechanical device or wind instrument, for the purpose of advertising any goods, wares or merchandise or of attracting attention or inviting the patronage of any person to any business whatsoever; provided, that the said restrictions shall not apply to any public alley in the city between the hours of 11 a. m. and 6 p. m.

"Every person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not less than $2 nor more than $50 for each offense; and such person shall be deemed guilty of a separate and distinct offense for every day during which such person shall continue such violation."

INHERITANCE TAXES.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. A wills to B a house and lot. Is B subject to inheritance tax on this real estate?

2. A is deceased. A's widow, B, has her real estate property in A's name. B, the widow, has a son, C, with identical name as A, namely, a senior and junior. Can C receive this real property from his mother, B, without going through the formality of changing the title into C's junior name?

3. A's will left his entire estate to widow B. A's will was probated. Does this fact help C in regard to question 2?

A. M. G.

1. Depends on the value and the degree of relationship. The Illinois exemption on a gift as from husband to wife is $20,000 worth.

2. Probate would be necessary to bar the rights of creditors and establish the rights as to heirship. It is not merely a matter of changing the title into another person's name.

3. Probate is all that is necessary in order to place the title in B. After probate a conveyance from B to C would be sufficient. We do not clearly understand your question.

NELLIE.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 17.—The New Dealers still talk about "capital being on strike." Until human nature has been completely legislated out of existence there will be no strike of capital so long as that capital is given the opportunity to flow into legitimate investment.

I wonder if these New Dealers have ever read the story of "Nellie, the Beautiful Cloak Model"? In the first chapter the villain tied Nellie to the railroad track. In the second chapter he beat her up. In the third he threw her in front of a buzz saw. In the climax of the last chapter he asks: "Nellie, why don't you trust me?"

H. E. ZIMMERMAN.

STILL FOR ROOSEVELT.

Chicago, Feb. 18.—Every time I turn on a radio or pick up a paper all I hear or see is criticism of President Roosevelt and his administration. You never read or hear comment on any good things they do. I do not think if Roosevelt or the New Deal policies were so terrible that he would have carried the last election with such a tremendous landslide.

I do not think there is another man in the United States could handle the job more efficiently than he, considering the coöperation he has received. He is doing his best to build this country back up to where it should be, and I think if these so-called knockers would give their coöperation instead of their criticism they would be of much more service to this country.

He has had to fight the whole battle all the way alone and then you folks cannot understand why he has not made more headway.

As for the national debts he is making, did you folks ever stop to think this country is just like a rundown farm or business, and you all know you cannot take a rundown place of business or farm and put it up in first class shape or on a good paying basis in a short time or long time without spending some money on improvements and modernization.

MYRLIN STRAUSSER.

DOUBLED AND REDOUBLED.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—We used to go to the corner movie to kill a couple of hours and get home early.

This double, triple, quadruple feature era that has been thrust upon the moviegoer is sure tough. One has to be in excellent physical condition to sit and take it.

Nowadays a man should shave before going to the movies to avoid being taken for a tramp on his way home—but he can't take time to shave, because his wife has the dishes already stacked in the sink and is impatiently adjusting her new flower pot hat while waiting for him to finish his coffee. Maybe we can persuade the movie managers to put electric plugs under the seat. Then we can take along our electric razors we got for Christmas and freshen up a bit during the news reels and shorts.

If you don't eat an exceptionally heavy dinner you should pack a box lunch so you can have a snack along about 11:30. However, I have heard recent rumors that some of the movies are planning on opening cocktail lounges and hamburger stands in the lobbies.

We used to be able to get the little high school girl upstairs to stay with junior for two hours, but now we have to arrange for some one to stay all night.

We bring in the milk and morning TRIBUNE when we come home from the show.

ALIENS' RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—The house of representatives again excluded aliens without citizenship papers from WPA rolls. It has not excluded these aliens from paying taxes, serving this country in case of war, or of losing their life savings in an American depression.

The "American system" seems to be based on papers. If you have a birth certificate or citizenship papers, you may be a hoodlum, a bum, or anything else and be eligible for relief, WPA, and all of the country's privileges. However, if you are a decent law abiding resident, loyal to the United States, its constitution and its institutions, but you have no papers, well, then, you must starve.

ALIEN.

THE MORE ABUNDANT LIFE.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—I know of three persons who are by reason of age entitled to old age pensions, but because of inability to furnish actual birth certificates they are prevented from being enrolled.

Two of them are man and wife, over 75, who celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary almost four years ago. They were born in small towns where, and when births were not recorded and, of course at their age, no one is still living who could vouch for the events, yet their second son, now 48, is a veteran, injured in the world war, and, as such, is receiving a small pension. Since he was 1 year old his parents have been residents and voters of Chicago. The elder son, over 50 years of age, has been a helpless invalid for the last four years.

For over a year both parents have been in desperate physical condition, both suffering from advanced heart trouble and needing medical care, which is impossible at present, due to husband having lost his employment, because of his age, last summer.

Unable to make the endless trips to "follow up," it is quite evident that they will be buried before the question as to their right, as citizens, to the pension, be granted.

They never asked for relief, and only because of extreme need did they ask for the pension. On both sides the fathers and uncles were civil war veterans, yet any foreigner coming here can, because of military rules, always furnish certificates of birth or citizenship papers and take precedence over native born Americans whose ancesters were born in the United States.

Another woman, a widow past 70 years of age, very frail of health, also has to face a stone wall because no records can be furnished of birth. Affidavits of reputable citizens who know of the age of all three are refused as not good evidence.

Will some one explain who are eligible for the pension, for it would avoid much worry and false hope for those who have felt they were entitled to the pension because of age and necessity? This is not written in spirit of antagonism, but actually from bewilderment at discrepancies in what should be plain business. I am not old enough to apply, so I hope my request for information will be granted, not misunderstood. H. L. N.

WHAT? NO MASSMEETING?

Chicago, Feb. 14.—Lloyd Rourke grew up in Hyde Park and had a lot of good friends. Now that he has been pounded to a pulp for the crime of exercising the right of a freeborn American citizen, I am writing to you to find out when and where the massmeeting is going to be held to protest against his murder.

You remember that last spring a lot of "peaceful pickets," who were armed only with slingshots that will break the skull of even a politician, some miscellaneous clubs and a lot of assorted nuts and bolts, went for a walk on Memorial day. Then some of them got shot.

After that, Prof. Paul Douglas of the University of Chicago, the Rev. Mr. Fisk, and a lot of other bleeding hearts hired a hall over at the Civic Opera house and found that the savage coppers had killed a lot of men who were just going out to pick daisies. Since they were so much worried about murder, I want to find out when and where the hearts will bleed again to find out who murdered Lloyd; or is killing okay if it is union made?

SAM R. HASTING.

REFERRED TO DR. CUTTER.

Chicago, Feb. 18.—In every office you will find at least one gossipy trouble maker, who is constantly prying into other people's affairs. However, it is best to overlook this type of person, as the psychopathist tells us he is an introvert, with an advanced inferiority complex; in other words, a psychopath or mental case. So don't crown him, as you might like to do. EMPLOYE.

DIRTY STREETS.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—The streets of Chicago are without a doubt the filthiest in the whole country. Mayor Kelly, please don't wait until just before election before cleaning them. There is enough money appropriated to keep them clean the whole year through if it is used for that purpose. R. S. W.

TECHNIQUE OF SQUEEZE PLAY.

[Copyright: 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

Only a few years ago I was reluctant to publish hands involving squeezes, because I realized that not more than 2 or 3 per cent of readers could follow and appreciate such plays. Today it is a different story. Players have discovered that there really is nothing occult or mysterious about a squeeze. I do not mean to imply that many squeeze plays are not highly involved and, therefore, difficult. But it is a fact that most squeezes can be executed by any player who will take the pains to "look ahead" and handle his entries in an intelligent manner. Let us set up a typical squeeze hand and follow each play from declarer's position.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
2 spades	Pass	3 hearts	Pass
4 hearts	Pass	6 no trump	Pass
7 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

I do not recommend this bidding, but let us pass it by because we have more important matters to consider, namely, "Can South bring home the contract?"

West opens what he considers the safest suit, the eight of spades. Declarer reads this for the "top of nothing" and, of course, does not risk a finesse at the very first trick. He has too many other excellent chances. He wins with the spade ace, mentally placing East with the guarded queen, and counts his sure tricks. He sees two spades, five hearts, three diamonds [if the suit fails to break], and two clubs, one short of the goal. If diamonds break 3-3 the hand will be a laydown, but, of course, the test of a real bridge player is to assume bad breaks and guard against them whenever possible.

Right at the first trick South can make an important observation, namely, that if one defender [presumably East in this case] has to guard the spade suit and the other, holding four diamonds, has to guard the diamond suit, neither will be able to keep sufficient clubs to stop declarer's own third club.

Well, let's see what we can do as South. Why not try out three rounds of diamonds? If the suit breaks our troubles are over. If it doesn't, we still have our squeeze position. On the third round East shows out, discarding a heart. Now we know that West must guard diamonds. Let's cash the spade king and then run the heart suit. On the third round we can safely let go one spade from dummy and East can do likewise. On the fourth round West must discard a club and we let go dummy's next to last spade. East must, of course, hold his spade queen, so he lets go a club. The fifth heart is the pincer on both West and East. West must let go another club, reducing to two. Now dummy lets go the diamond, and it is East's turn to squirm. He still must hold the spade queen to top dummy's nine, therefore must reduce to two clubs. We lead to the club ace, back to the king, and, lo and behold, our club deuce is good.

Good Morning!

The manner in which the technicolor camera has caught and brought to the screen the Golden State's colorful beauty is enough to set anybody singing wistfully:

"California, here I come!"

California's gold laden mountains, her valleys lush with wheat and fruit, background the stirring tale depicted. The time—the 70's when occurred the historic battle between agrarians and hydraulic miners.

The ruthless activities of the latter sent floods of mud, rock, and debris hurtling down the hillsides to lay waste the proud crops of men who had settled the Sacramento valley and nourished and brought forth rich rewards from the soil.

Heartache, fury, violence! Then, at last, a court injunction that put a stop forever to hydraulic mining. . . .

Against this curtain of real occurrence is depicted an appealing love story—the romance between the daughter of an old settler and a young mining engineer.

The latter comes to the valley to work in the interests of a San Francisco mining syndicate. . . . He runs smack into war—and love!

Olivia de Havilland and George Brent make an alluring twosome. Claude Rains, usually cast as a sinister somebody, proves that he can act to advantage in reverse. He plays Olivia's father. Other rôles are handled expertly.

Both Miss de Havilland and Miss Lindsay fit warmly into the color scheme . . Out of door shots are marvelous. Golden wheat! Golden ore! Luscious fruits amid their rich foliage! Misty hills! Azure skies! Lovely!

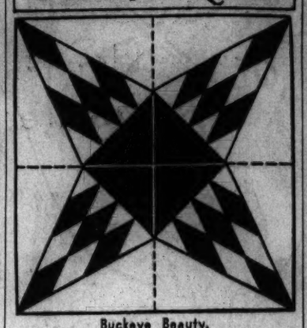
TODAY'S QUILT



Buckeye Beauty.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Buckeye Beauty," also known as "Rockingham Beauty," is a native Ohio quilt, but there is a distinct resemblance to the "Star of Many Points" which was designed in Texas in 1862. The difference is in the center block. "Buckeye Beauty" is in solid color, while "Star of Many Points" has 16 small triangular patches forming the center square. Both quilts are pieced, although one may create a combination pattern by applying the star to a white background. The 16 inch "Buckeye Beauty" blocks are set together in an alternate arrangement with plain ones, and surrounded by a 5 inch border and a half inch bias binding.

Youthful Dash Marks Spring Suits of 1938

BY RHEA SEEGER.

There should be all sorts of medals presented to the suit designers for the outstanding spring models now on display. A suit is no longer just a combine of dull jacket and slightly more uninteresting skirt. The 1938 numbers have a dash and youthfulness hard to beat in any sort of a spring wardrobe.

Skirts, for instance, are plaited in narrow, sharply pressed creases. Most of them are stitched well down over the hipline to assure slim smoothness. When the skirts are unplaited, they are cut to fit just as smoothly over the hipline, and then flare crisply either because of the gores or the cleverly cut front fullness.

The materials are soft and superfeminine, and all the jackets are examples of much originality. Bands of the material, braid, embroidery appliqued designs of either silk or contrasting material, quilting around the edges, and similar workmanship make the spring showings widely different from former seasons.

Many of the newest jackets swing loose and free, just clearing the waistline, many swing free and unbuttoned, cut with rounded edges in front, copied from masculine smoking jackets.

Daring and unusual color schemes are achieved with silks, as well as wool as thin as silk. A pumpkin yellow wool smoker jacket lined with black is worn over a straight lined dress of black wool with the bodice top of pumpkin yellow crêpe.. Another has a blouse top of dark red and white dotted silk, a third has a snowy white blouse of lastex linen to contrast the skirt and jacket.

A Few Glares Hit Wine Chest of Washington

A number of the club women celebrating Washington's birthday in advance by a tour of the Chicago Historical society yesterday glared disapprovingly at the society's latest find. This recent addition to the society's famous Washington collection is the original wine chest used in Mount Vernon by Washington. The first President was a Virginia gentleman and loved his wine, according to H. L. Shattuck, director of the museum.

Within the little wooden chest, which appears well worn, is space for five of the very large bottles with cut glass tops then in use. The chest is from the collection of the late Senator William E. Mason of Illinois.

It further supports the society's claim to the best collection of Washington items in the midwest, said the director. He hopes that today, the 206th anniversary of Washington's birth, Chicagoans will acquaint themselves with the interesting lore of the time suggested by the society's Washington rooms.

Another new acquisition is a large weatherbeaten shingle from the roof of a barn which was used by Washington and his staf as headquarters in August, 1777. The barn belonged to a farmer at Hartsville, Pa., and was on the old York road. The item is a gift from Joseph R. Wilson of Philadelphia.

In the society's collection of Washington portraits are several which present a different Washington from the idealized version of the statesman created by most artists. One of Mr. Shattuck's favorites is the protrait by Charles Polk, made in 1777 when Washington was at Trenton.

"It shows the officer and the man, without any idealization," he said. "In it he is tough, hard bitten. Well, he was tough. His powerful nose, his weatherbeaten, sandy complexion, the straight hair which was his own, not his wig, all contribute to this impression."

The director also prefers a portrait by Rembrandt Peale to the highly prized example of Gilbert Stuart's best work. Peale's portrait, like Polk's, made at the height of the campaigns, shows a strong, virile type. Disillusion as well as a fighting determination are expressed in his cold blue eyes.

"At this time he had his back against the wall," said Shattuck. "His army was not loyal to the continental congress, which did nothing for the army and only wrangled with itself, but was loyal to him. Washington at the time was sick at heart, but militant and determined, all of which is in that portrait."

In the large room which is a reproduction of the senate chamber in Congress hall, Philadelphia, where Washington's second inauguration took place, hang three colonial gowns, faded and yellow, but still exquisite. Two were worn at the inaugural ball, one by Miss Emily Bibby, daughter of Gen. Bibby of the English army. Its full skirt and tight bodice are embroidered daintily in flowers. The other, whose wearer is unknown, is a tiny affair of white satin.

The third is a wedding gown worn by the wife of Gen. Nathaniel Greene of revolutionary fame, and was given to the society recently by Miss Anna Peck, a former Chicagoan, now of London. The black velvet coat and knee breeches worn by Washington at the second inauguration and his embroidered waistcoat are shown here.

Children will be admitted free to the Chicago Historical society building in Lincoln park today and may see colored talking pictures on the life of Washington and his times for a nickel.

Parochial and public schools, the banks, the Board of Trade, the stock exchange, the courts, and most of the offices in the County building and city hall will be closed today. The Chicago post office and branches will be closed, but mail will be collected from street letter boxes.

Five hundred men and boys of Episcopal churches throughout the city will commemorate the birth of Washington, an Episcopalian, in St. James Episcopal church this morning.

Another motion picture concerning Washington will be shown in Simpson theater of the Field museum at 10 and 11 a. m. free of charge. These films will be presented by the James Nelson and the Anna Louise Raymond Foundation.

Senator James Hamilton Lewis will address the Chicago Bar association at luncheon. At a Washington birthday forum in the afternoon in the Covenant club Floyd E. Thompson, former chief justice of the Illinois Supreme court, will speak.

Wheaton college's annual Washington banquet will be in the Stevens hotel at 7 p. m. William J. Cameron, Ford Motor company executive, will speak.

The Illinois Society of the Sons of the American Revolution will hold its Washington birthday banquet tonight in the Orrington hotel, Evanston, with Judge John P. McGoorty the speaker.

The plaster model of the proposed statue of Washington and two other revolutionary war patriots, Robert Morris and Haym Salomon, is complete, and the first bronze casting will be made soon, Barnet Hodes, co-chairman of the Patriotic Foundation of Chicago, sponsor of the memorial, said yesterday.

Apron Makes Perfect Gift

WOMAN'S AND MISS' APRON.

Wedding bells will be ringing soon for a large crop of spring brides. That means plenty of showers in their honor, and we'd like to give you a tip. Make several aprons like the one illustrated today. They make excellent gifts which every future homemaker will appreciate.

The garment is styled much like a dress. That is, the bodice is fitted to the figure, and the shoulder straps are created to stay in place. The waistline is snug and belted, while the skirt has a generous flare. This apron is easy to put on and take off. Its neckline is so large that it never will upset the coiffure.

Bias binding is the recommended trimming, since it is so inexpensive and easily applied. It trims the neckline, armholes, and hem. You may select a plain shade or a print. Either is attractive.

Style No. 3455 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 2¾ yards of 39 inch material, with 11 yards of rickrack braid.

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune.]

The simplest pudding becomes a party dessert when topped by rum sauce. The plainest cake tastes like a birthday surprise with a rum cream filling.

Wines and spirits were widely used to flavor food brought to the tables of well-to-do families in George Washington's time. Within the last few years this early American and continental custom has been revived, and the flavor of rum has gained a popularity second to none, unless it be sherry wine.

Rum Pudding Sauce.

[Two and a Half Cups.]

2 egg yolks
6 tablespoons rum
1 cup cream, whipped
1 teaspoon vanilla

Beat the egg yolks until light and add the rum slowly. Beat until blended. Fold this mixture, with the vanilla, into the whipped cream. Use on a steamed or baked pudding.

Rum Cream Filling for White or Chocolate Cake.

1 cup milk
¼ cup flour
1 egg
6 tablespoons sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons rum

Stir the flour to a paste with a little of the cold milk, meanwhile scalding the rest of the milk in the top of a double boiler. Add to scalded milk and stir and cook until thickened and smooth. Beat egg, sugar, and salt together thoroughly and add to the thickened mixture. Cook over hot water for 3 minutes longer. Cool slightly and stir in the rum.

Rum Chiffon Pie.

1 tablespoon gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 cup milk
3 eggs
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 tablespoons rum
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup shredded toasted almonds
1 cup whipping cream
3 tablespoons sugar
Shaved chocolate

Soak the gelatin in the cold water for 5 minutes. Heat the milk in the top of a double boiler, meanwhile beating the egg yolks until light and adding the sugar. Pour the hot milk over the mixture and cook in the top of a double boiler, stirring constantly until the custard becomes the consistency of thick cream. Remove from heat and add soaked gelatin, vanilla and rum. Cool and chill until nearly set. Then whip mixture until fluffy. Beat the egg whites until stiff with the salt and fold into the custard. Add toasted almonds and pour mixture into a baked pie shell, a cookie or graham cracker crust. Chill until set. Whip the cream and add sugar, also a little flavoring if desired. Spread over pie and sprinkle the top with grated chocolate, sweetened or unsweetened.

Cherry Rums.

[For a Party.]

¼ cup butter, creamed
2½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar
¼ cup rum
Maraschino cherries
Chopped toasted almonds

Work half the sugar into the creamed butter, then add rum and sugar alternately, mixing until smooth. Drain the cherries thoroughly and cover with a coating of the rum fondant. Roll in chopped toasted almonds or in other nuts, finely chopped.

Achieves Three Costumes with One Black Dress

[Acme Photos.]

Film actress Margaret Lindsay shows how one basic dress of black crepe can become the center of three costumes through the use of smart accessories. At the left she adds a sleeveless bolero of black, silver and red metal cloth; a clip at the front of the neckline and a peaked turban of black velour and she has a dashing afternoon costume.

In the center Miss Lindsay uses two triangles of contrasting crepe, the pointed ends tied at the back of the neck, while the crepe is caught at the waistline as it falls to the hem of the skirt. At the right, gold mesh cuffs and gold kid flowers at the neckline make the crepe dress appear as another complete wardrobe change.

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

Maurice Evans, who has leaped into popularity as a Shakespearean actor within the last year, brought his production of the infrequently acted historical tragedy, "Richard II," to the Grand Opera house last night. This staging of a work which most playgoers have never seen before is rich with medieval atmosphere and apparel, and is acted with the proper classic stroke in courtly speech and martial declamation. It is one of the fine achievements of the period in dramatic poetry, and stands on a plane with the best Shakespearean traditions.

Mr. Evans, whom Chicago has already seen as the Romeo to Katharine Cornell's Juliet, has the grace and eagerness of youth, an engaging personality, and the vocal power to deal in ringing style with any high-flown speech that can be found in the Shakespearean text. In this play he has made a reputation as the fair-haired boy of Shakespeare; but next week, in a special performance, he will demonstrate his capacity for more rugged and virile rôles by appearing as Falstaff in "Henry IV., Part I."

"Richard II." gives Mr. Evans a character that the text and also historical records stamp as effeminate. He deals with this aspect of the rôle frankly but without simpering affections. His Richard is always charming even when in his cattiest mood, and in the long passages of self-pity after Bolingbroke's revolution he communicates an intense pathos. The psychopathic tendencies in Richard are revealed chiefly by reflections from "the caterpillars of the commonwealth," Bushy, Bagot, and Green, who are a decidedly sinister clique.

The structural weakness of the drama, which dawdles along like most of Shakespeare's historical chronicles, finds compensation in the great poetic speeches with which it is brocaded. Here are some of Shakespeare's finest flights of extended eloquence, strongly and intensely declaimed by Mr. Evans, Lee Baker as John of Gaunt, Lionel Hogarth as the Duke of York, and various others.

The frequent use of rime in "Richard II." and the long passages of eloquence prevent an interpretation in the modern colloquial manner. This drama must be acted in the old school style, with fire and lung power. Mr. Evans and his associates follow the older standard with eminently successful results. Playgoers will find no difficulty in hearing the lines no matter where they are seated.

Looking at Hollywood by Ed Sullivan

Wild Cheering Marks Concert by Nelson Eddy

BY EDWARD BARRY.

It is Nelson Eddy's wont to reveal himself once a year to his Chicago followers. As he stood on the stage of the Civic Opera house last night a soft light turned his hair to an unearthly gold and shone mystically on his upturned, inscrutable face.

Wherever this handsome 6 foot baritone turned his eyes he saw people. The ticket office tallied 4,280 and the giant theater was filled to the last inch. Hundreds sat upon stage chairs, so near to Mr. Eddy's entrance and exit route that the stir in the air caused by his passing must have been fully perceptible.

The audience was not always hushed and reverent. There were little catches of the breath and nervous gigglings as the house lights were dimmed for the singer's first entrance. Squeals of ecstasy mingled with the turmoil which greeted his appearance. Each song, of course, let loose a perfect thunder of applause.

Although Nelson Eddy has achieved his unique position by means of his movie and radio activities, the program kept stubbornly to quite a different sort of music. It opened with a Bach air, went from that to German lieder, then to an excerpt from "Hans Heiling." Even the encores included such things as the song to the evening star from "Tannhäuser."

Because Nelson Eddy is fantastically handsome and possessed of a personality so attractive that the more sensitive are apt to swoon in his presence, the actual quality of his singing has never received its proper need of attention. He is an amazingly good singer, and could command respect in the world even if he were a wizened little fellow at whom nobody would look twice.

His voice has a beautiful hornlike quality in lyrical passages, a fine resonant robustness where the music calls for such an effect. In reserve is a head voice of exquisite delicacy. When he is content with simple, musicianly phrasing Nelson Eddy is quite able to adhere to extremely high standards of performance.

Occasionally he yields to the temptation to try to decorate the simple line of a song and brings a listener down to earth with a start. An example was the closing phrase of "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes."

Theodore Paxson, Mr. Eddy's accompanist and assisting artist, played a Liszt Rhapsody with a curiously muffled tone. Could the hundreds of people on the stage have been responsible? Perhaps we are used to hearing the tone of a piano echoing back from bare walls and stage. In response to enthusiastic applause he added the F-sharp major nocturne of Chopin.

Nelson Eddy's 1939 appearance here will be on March 4 at the Civic Opera house.

Greet Visitors at Girls' Latin School Today

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE Alumnae association of the Girl's Latin school will hold the annual open day today. Mothers and fathers of students at the school as well as the alumnae are invited to be the association's guests for an entire day of festivities.

Guests will visit classes in the morning and at 12 o'clock they will be entertained by the school dramatic club which will present "The Romance of the Willow Pattern," by E. Van Der Veer in the school auditorium.

At 1:30 o'clock there will be a luncheon after which a basketball team of alumnae will play the school team. At this same time there also will be a reunion of the alumnae of the various classes represented.

At 4 o'clock Miss Elizabeth Singleton, headmistress of the school, will give a tea for the alumnae. Mrs. Frank H. Woods Jr., the new president of the alumnae association, and Miss Marion Gordon, the outgoing president, will pour. Mrs. John T. Windle, the alumnae trustee, will be among those who will assist Miss Singleton, as will Mrs. F. Strother Cary Jr., who is secretary of the alumnae association.

Expect Busy Day at Winter Club.

Since Washington's birthday is a holiday for some school children, the skating rink of the Winter club at Lake Forest probably will be crowded with youngsters this afternoon. But they will not be as festive looking a group as they were last Saturday when the Winter club had its ice carnival. There were eighteen races for children of all ages with prizes for all the winners. A march, with about 200 children participating, each one of them in some sort of original

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

These, to us at least, are the melancholy days. The winter wardrobe seems pretty awful, so does the weather; a cruise, a new costume, or learning that we'd fallen heir to a fortune is what we'd like to freshen up the outlook.

In lieu of such out of reach spirit lifters we turn to a new perfume. It's a good idea. If you're in the midwinter doldrums we suggest you try it, too.

A young college girl led us to our latest perfume love. It's been about since before Christmas, but we must confess that we made the fatal mistake of judging it then by the first sniff. And thereby we missed what it now develops is an excellent bet.

It's a strange perfume, this, created by a French designer. You can't possibly judge of its beauty by sniffing it from the bottle. We thought it was pretty peculiar then and we had no enthusiasm for it for several minutes thereafter. But it has mysterious tricks. The scent changes on the skin—and changes to a heavenly fragrance that is gay and bright, but not without sophisticated undertones of languor.

This curious transition from mediocrity to sheer beauty makes this a most interesting perfume to us. As it dries it seems at first to be just another floral blend. Give it a bit longer time for the warmth of your own flesh to change it and you'll find it one of the most provocative perfumes you ever used. Just exactly what you need if you've the midwinter blues. It has buoyancy and mystery. It gives you a lift, makes you feel that life is rosy and romantic after all. And it's a perfume, incidentally, that lasts. Use it sparingly; the scent deepens and clings.

GUNHAMMERED GOLD

By Luke Short

[Copyright: 1938: By Frederick Dilley Glidden.]

SYNOPSIS.

Abe McCandless, who framed Poco St. Vrain and made him an outlaw, owns a gold mine on a mountain peak. Two insurance agents, sent to bring down the gold, are murdered by two different bands of outlaws. Two-Way Hornbeck, leader of one band, persuades Poco to pose as one of the agents. At the mountain camp Poco finds Hasty Cardowan, killer gunman, posing as the other agent. Shayne, the mine manager, has a lovely daughter, Kate. Cardowan crowds Poco off the cliff and takes the gold. He joins forces with Two Way. Posing as prospectors they are given an army escort to Rincon. Meanwhile Kate helps rescue Poco. He confesses his identity and promises to recover the gold to save her father from blame. In Rincon Poco saves the life of a stranger, Van. He tricks Two-Way and Cardowan into admitting they put the gold on a stage-coach. Poco rides off after the coach. Two-Way, double-crossing Cardowan, promises McCandless to lead a posse to St. Vrain and the gold. But Cardowan learns the hotel clerk has the gold which was put off the coach and rides off with it, also kidnaping Kate Shayne. The posse catch up with Poco on the coach. When they find no gold McCandless turns on Two-Way. In an exchange of gunfire both are killed. The mob returns to the hotel with Poco, and when they find Cardowan and the gold gone, turn on Poco. The stranger, Van, appears and announces himself a United States marshal. When the mob turns on him he and Poco take refuge in the sheriff's office.

INSTALMENT XXXII.

TWO AGAINST A MOB.

When Harry saw the upstage heave into sight ahead in the moonlight, he whoaed the horses, set the brake, wrapped the lines around it and climbed down. Erect, he was squat, unshaven, ragged and solid looking. The upstage pulled to a howling stop and Harry walked forward to exchange amenities.

When they were over, Harry said, looking up at the driver, "Wanta' finish my run for me, Lew?"

The driver on the upstage said nothing for a second, then he drawled, "Why hell-fire, Harry, you only got five more hours into the Willow Wells station. I just took over."

"I got business back there. Want to do it?"

Lew swore good-naturedly and wound the ribbons around the brake. "I never turned down a chanst to sleep yet. Sure."

He swung down, and when he was on the ground, Harry asked, "Any passengers?"

"Two to Rincon."

Then Harry waved his guard goodbye and climbed up to the seat of the upstage.

In less than a minute he had it out of sight of the downstage heading for Rincon at a speed that choked off any objections the passengers might make.

It was well after sunup when he pulled into Rincon, and when the rumble of the stage died down a bit, he could immediately pick up the sound of gunfire over the town. Swinging into the main street, he was flagged to a halt by one of the possemen holding a rifle.

"What's goin' on here?" Harry called down.

"You better take her in the alley behind the hotel. There's a couple of hombres forted up in the jail and the boys are tryin' to smoke 'em out.

Harry grinned, knowing that would be Poco, wheeled the stage around, sought the back alley and pulled up behind the hotel, where the two passengers climbed out and received their luggage.

Then he took the stage down to the stable.

The Maricopa saloon could be approached from the direction of the feed stable, and Harry made for it.

At the bar, Harry asked of the barman, "Which room's Steamboat got?"

The barkeep studied him in ill-natured silence, then said, "Last door on your right at the end of the hall."

Harry climbed the stairs to the balcony, off which ran a long corridor onto which many doors opened. He knocked at the last, and was immediately bid come in.

Steamboat was standing at the window, still wearing the purple silk dress which showed off her slim, full busted figure to dangerous perfection. When she looked at Harry, her dark eyes were sultry with anger, and her pert, powdered little face twisted grotesquely in a crooked little smile.

"Hello, Ape," she said dispiritedly, and turned to look out the window again.

"You're worryin' too, huh?"

"Why shouldn't I?" Steamboat said savagely. "They'll kill him, a better man than the lot of them together."

"What happened?"

"Nobody'll talk, but he forted up with a U. S. marshal that's arrested him. I don't know why."

Harry whistled under his breath. "Just two of 'em? It won't be another hour before somebody thinks to burn 'em out."

"Yes," Steamboat said bitterly.

"You sort of like him, don't you, kid?" Harry asked.

"I'd die for him if it would help," she said simply.

Harry thought a minute. "You know, he must have a hard-shootin' rifle over there. I notice nobody is on the store-roofs because those slugs likely tear through the false fronts. If they ain't on the roofs, they can't see if we're on 'em. That there sheriff's office is bound to have a stove, and a stove has to have a pipe that sticks through the roof."

"Well?"

"I can buy a saw here and you can slip it down to them through the pipe hole. If I did it, this here marshal might suspect I was tryin' to help Poco escape. They can saw through the roof and then we can load them on the upstage, knock the marshal in the head, cut loose one horse and Poco's made his getaway."

Steamboat considered a few seconds, and then she truly smiled, a smile of hope.

"Remember," Harry pointed out, "if this jasper is a U. S. marshal we'll have to dodge till this blows over. If they get you, it's just plain tough."

Steamboat said slowly, huskily, "I don't mind that. Poco St. Vrain has got me out of a dozen jams, loaned me money, nursed me when I was sick over in Silver City, fought for me and crippled men that didn't treat me right. I never claimed to deserve it, Harry, but he's treated me white all down the line. I'd do anything, anything to pay back some of it."

Harry nodded and stood up. "I'll go buy a saw. You write a note to the marshal."

After some careful maneuvering outside to avoid the blistering fire that was lacing the street, Harry ended up in a hardware store where he bought a brace and bit, a saw, and a length of rope.

Steamboat was waiting in her room when he returned. She led Harry across the hall to a vacant room that looked out on the roofs of the adjoining buildings to the flat, tar-paper covered roof of the jail.

Harry opened the window and let her down the eight feet to the neighboring roof, then followed her. Once the jail roof was reached, they had to crawl on their stomachs to the farthest of two stove pipes which jutted up through the roof.

Reaching it, Harry pulled off the pipe, then took the bundle of tools and the note and motioned for Steamboat to take over.

He whispered. "You got to make him believe it, kid. You got to."

When the the pipe was twisted off, a shower of soot sanded down to the floor. Poco, kneeling under the window, was the first to see it. He signaled Van at the other window. Poco's sixgun was out, ready, for he expected to see an arm, gun in hand, appear through the hole.

Instead, a strange bundle of tools, a paper wedged in the handle of a saw, was lowered by a rope. Poco was closest and he crawled to it keeping low so that the slugs which were raining in through the window could not reach him.

The note was addressed: "U. S. Marshal."

"Quiet Sort of Girl" Scolds Fun Loving Boy

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Alice thinks she has a complaint. Personally, I think the husband-to-be is getting the worst of the bargain. If there were more like him, this world wouldn't be such a bad place to inhabit.

The young lady's letter is quite revealing, to my way of thinking, and not at all flattering to her.

"I have been going with the same fellow for the last fifteen months. I am, as I would classify it, sanely in love. In other words, I love him, but I see his faults.

"His intentions are serious. He keeps planning for our marriage just as soon as business picks up a bit. Now the question arises as to whether I ought to take the plunge of matrimony with such a man.

"I am a reserved and quiet sort of person. He's just the opposite, with no apparent desire to settle down and be serious, I mean to stop acting like a child. When we're with friends I never know what he's going to do next that's impulsive and juvenile. He never has gotten over the stage of sliding down bannisters and other such silly things.

"I have tried my best to change him, and I'm just living in hopes of succeeding. At times I'm so embarrassed I cry. His family keeps asking me when I'm going to quiet him down. After all, he is past 30 years of age, and it really is high time he decided to change.

"The things he thinks are funny only make me grouchy and annoyed. I wonder if I ever could be happy with a man of his ways. He tries to be courteous and polite, then all of a sudden he forgets and does something that seems rude to me. I'm in a daze wondering if we ever could be happy."

Personally, I think Alice is the one who needs reforming. A little play and fun in life never did any one any harm, and they often have helped things to go much better.

The young woman ought to be delighted that he has so much boyishness and pep. She'll appreciate them later, even if she does fail to see their value now.

Mark Brotherhood Day with Talks on Religious Tolerance

Brotherhood day was observed yesterday at meetings at the Carson Pirie Scott tearoom and at the Hotel Sherman when representatives of Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish groups spoke of progress in interreligious and interracial understanding. The former meeting, held under the auspices of the Chicago Round Table of the National Conference of Jews and Christians, was one of more than 2,000 similar meetings throughout the country which the conference sponsored. More than 200 persons were present.

The speakers were Dr. Shailer Mathews, former dean of the divinity school of the University of Chicago; Judge John P. McGoorty of the Superior court; George B. McKibben, Chicago banker, and Lester N. Selig, president of the Jewish Charities of Chicago.

The Hotel Sherman meeting was held under the auspices of the Advertising Men's post of the American Legion. Dr. Horace Bridges of the Chicago Ethical society, Rabbi Charles Shulman of North Shore temple, and Attorney Augustine Bowe, 127 North Dearborn street, were the speakers.

Teachers of Deaf.

The 21st annual meeting of the Society of Progressive Oral Advocates ended yesterday at the Hotel La Salle. Delegates, representing teachers of the deaf and vocational educators visited the Bell, Mitchell and Parker schools after a business meeting. Miss Alice Coburn of Chicago and Dan Cloud of Jacksonville were elected vice presidents. All other officers were reelected.

WONDERFUL SKIN FOR THESE FAULTS

Wonderful, thousands say, how the soothing penetration of Cuticura Soap and Ointment helps banish ugly skin irritations due to external causes. Wonderful, how this mildly medicated Soap cleanses and soothes—how the Ointment relieves and helps heal! Wonderful, you'll agree, as even the first application aids and comforts. At druggists everywhere. Ointment 25¢. Soap 25¢. Write for FREE sample to "Cuticura", Dept. 50, Malden, Mass.

CUTICURA SOAP & OINTMENT

BUST THAT COLD WIDE OPEN

Don't Merely Humor It!

Deal with a cold in earnest. Deal with it in seriousness.

A cold is too fraught with danger to be taken lightly. Many a case of flu and pneumonia has started with nothing more than a "common cold."

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine (LBQ tablets) are what you want.

They are made expressly for the treatment of colds and not for all kinds of ailments.

First, they open the bowels.

Second, they check the infection in the system.

Third, they relieve the headache and fever.

Bromo Quinine tablets are a proven preparation. They have been on the market over 40 years and are the world's largest-selling cold tablet.

Bromo Quinine tablets come in 35c and 60c sizes. The 60c size is the better "buy." It gives you almost 20 per cent more for your money.

When you feel a cold coming on—don't wait—don't procrastinate—but go right to your druggist and get a package of Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine (LBQ tablets).

Say "No" to substitutes!

The contests for the figure skating championships provided thrills for all, "Debbie" Smith winning the title for the senior girls and Mary Birch Broeksmit for the junior girls. In the chariot races the team of Jaicks and Jaicks, composed of Mary Birch Broeksmit, Agar and David Jaicks, was first.

Farwell Smith took first prize for the skating races in the 10 year old class, John MacDonald coming in second, and Wesley Dixon third. Alice Keith Carpenter won the 12 year old girls' race, with Louise Young second, and Barbara Straw third.

Winter sports, luncheon, and dancing are on the program for the parents and friends of students at the Northwestern Military and Naval academy who will spend Washington's birthday as guests of the school, at Lake Geneva, Wis. A play by the dramatic club and a formal guard mount are included in the day's entertainment.

Prolong Stay at Sun Valley.

Mrs. A. Watson Armour III. and Mrs. Franklin G. Clement enjoyed their holiday in Sun Valley, Idaho, so much that they stayed longer than they planned originally. They arrived at home yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Armour are celebrating their second wedding anniversary today.

Mrs. Phelps Hoyt will leave for Hobe Sound, Fla., where she has been vacationing for a number of years, about March 1. She will have her two daughters and her grandchildren with her over Easter as Mr. and Mrs. T. Philip Swift and Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Cummings plan to join her just as soon as their children leave school for Easter vacation.

Mrs. Harry Spenser-Brown has returned from Paris where she has been visiting her daughter, Comtesse de Gramedo, for the last nine months. Mrs. Spenser-Brown is stopping at the Pearson hotel.

Andre J. Perrys Parents of Son.

Andre James Perry Jr. is to be the name of the son born on Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Andre James Perry [Helen Barkhausen] at the Passavant hospital. The Perrys live in Fond du Lac. Mrs. Perry's mother is Mrs. Henry Barkhausen.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McBirney Johnston of Lake Forest became the parents of their second child, a boy, on Saturday at the Evanston hospital. The baby has been named Hugh McBirney Johnston for his paternal grandfather, the late Hugh McBirney Johnston, as well as for his father.

Mrs. Johnston is the former Miss Deborah Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Peabody Butler. Mrs. Hermon Beardsley Butler of Winnetka is the baby's great-grandmother.

The son born last Thursday at St. Luke's hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hill Robinson [Alice May Dickinson] will be named for his father. The baby is a fifth generation Chicagoan, being a great-great-grandchild of the first Mrs. William Gold Hibbard. His paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ives Robinson.

Yale Clubs Elect Seven Chicagoans.

Seven Chicagoans at Yale have been elected to junior fraternities. Brooks McCormick was chosen by the Fence club and Bowen Blair and George C. Merrick were chosen by Delta Kappa Epsilon. Charles F. Carlton was pledged to the Sachem club; Frederick G. Wacker Jr. was chosen by Chi Psi, and Arthur A. Burrows Jr. and Walter Trowbridge Kuhlmey were elected to Alpha Sigma Phi.

Several dinner parties will be given before the North Shore Art league's Mardi Gras ball tonight at the Winnetka Woman's club.

WEDDING

Announcement is made of the wedding last Friday in Phoenix, Ariz., of Miss Jacqueline F. Corboy, daughter of Mrs. Florence F. Corboy of Los Angeles and John A. Corboy of Chicago, and granddaughter of Henry J. Fitzgerald of Chicago, to John Phelan Shirley Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Phelan Shirley of Bel Air, Cal. The bridegroom, who has been engaged in business in Phoenix, is a graduate of Yale university and studied engineering for three years at the University of Minnesota. He and his bride will make their home in Los Angeles.

Feel Tired? Authority Says It May Be Only Idea You Have

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

The spring song, for which Mendelssohn never composed any light-hearted, airy dancing rhythm, has a local theme which you hear chanted time and again this time of year, "I am so tired!" In other words, that tired feeling becomes the great menace of the early spring period.

Your energy, mental and physical, seems extraordinarily low. You're lethargic, drowsy. You find it hard to concentrate. And your interest in things, people and in everything is gone for the time being. You are depressed, over what you may not know, but you know you are depressed.

What to do about it?

Milton Wright in his invaluable book on how to get along with yourself, called "Managing Yourself [Whittlesey House] tells us a few things about this tired feeling.

Of course you are in a bad way, he says, when you have all the symptoms, but what are you doing about it?

"Walk over to the window," the well known authority on self-help orders us. "Open it if it happens to be closed. Take a slow, deep breath, filling your lungs as full as you can. Take another. Another.

"Now stand erect. Rise up on your toes. Stretch your arms above your head. Reach for the ceiling. Stretch and stretch to make your body as long as possible. That's enough. Drop your arms. Stand straight with your arms at your sides, head back. Draw in your abdomen, away in. Hold it.

"Now, where is your tired feeling? Gone. Gone are the black clouds that were hovering about you, blown away. Gone is the physical and mental fatigue, and gone with it all the pessimism, timidity, and fearsomeness."

Test yourself, you are told. Stand in that erect position, try to feel depressed, Mr. Wright pleads. Try to feel fearful or pessimistic. Try to feel defeated. Try to feel that you can't do any more thinking just now.

No use. You can't get back any of the old feeling of tiredness. As long as you maintain that erect position you just have to feel buoyant and confident. Proving, our authority reminds us, not that deep breaths and an upright posture rest and restore worn out fibers, but that you were not tired, mentally or physically. You merely thought you were.

Wise Mother Tries to Get Child's Idea

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

You and your 2 year old are miles apart—no, more than that—aeons apart in your relation to the world.

I often wish it were possible for us to see with our little children's eyes, hear with their ears, and understand how they assimilate this evidence of their senses. Yet if we think about it and use our imagination and our memory [dig as far back as you can and keep digging—you'll be surprised!] and observe our little boy or girl carefully we can go a far way in understanding him.

You and your child are miles apart in outlook and experience, but if you will try to get his viewpoint you can come close together. He can't get yours, obviously, but you can, if you will take the trouble, get his.

Never mind abstract ideas of obedience. Never mind what this relative or that family friend may think you ought to do. ["Spank him! Make him mind." And so forth and so forth.] Deal with your child on the basis of trying to understand what he thinks and feels and how things look to him. You'll be surprised at the amount of success and satisfaction and pleasure in him that will follow.

What should be the product of your new, open minded attitude of trying to learn what your child is like and what he needs? The product will be an understanding of the fact that he is not bad nor even trying to be; that he is new to all the things we take for granted in the material world and the world of people, and that it is a natural, normal urge for him to want to find out all about everything over a period of years. This last means that he will be curious, eager, and constantly active. He must be so in order to learn.

Having found these things out, we see it is our business to encourage and to satisfy all these natural impulses of curiosity and activity as far as we can. We don't squelch them and repress them. Instead we provide them with an outlet within reason. If we do this with good judgment, then when we do need to say "no" when we need even arbitrarily to control a situation [which we occasionally do for some reason] our child falls in with our desires because he is not continuously frustrated at other times.

The Housewife

If you have an invalid in your family or if you like to spend time reading in bed in the evening you'll enjoy one of the new back rests that add greatly to one's comfort. They're made much like the affairs you see on the beach in the summer and look like the upper part of a canvas deck chair.

But they are covered with a pretty quilted chintz, not canvas, and their frames are painted to match. We saw a gay red one with a floral chintz in the same color, a soft green one, and combinations of green and gray, and of yellow and gray.

These back rests are light weight and take up much less room than pillows do when not in use. Also, they cost only a couple of dollars.—EDITH WEIGLE.

Radio Portrait of a Dictator: Hitler Speech

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Audio-portrait of a dictator:

From 6 p. m. Sunday [that's when Jack Benny comes on] to 8 [that's when Charlie McCarthy signs off] the family radio is tuned in on a voice that makes more people listen than either of America's favorites—Hitler's.

Hitler's henchmen never overlook anything—Der Fuehrer sees to that. His two hour address is actually given from 7 to 9 a. m. Chicago time, a not-so-good hour for American listeners. So the German shortwave division rebroadcast the whole show in recorded form, with a 40 minute résumé in English following.

For any one who speaks German Hitler puts on a great show. Even to those who do not understand the language his vocal fireworks give a good insight into his character and appeal.

When he came to power his voice too often suggested the angry drill sergeant. It has changed much. Now he is commanding, authoritative, final. He is hard and haughty and there is a note of hostility in his voice for all except his friends in Naziism.

Hitler saves his harshest and bitterest words—and hoarse and throaty guttural tones—for "the Jewish curse of bolshevism." His voice is shot through with hatred as he assails "libels invented by liars to poison the wells of truth."

During the dragon-slaying portions of his address Hitler's sentences are studded with words and phrases calculated to evoke the proper emotional appeal. He starts off with such terms as "libels," "lies," "danger," "injustices," and "betrayal," and then works into such words of flattery, praise, and inspiration as "right," "faith," "loyalty," bravery," "peace and liberty" which in German is the alliterative, "Friede und Freiheit," "high hope" and "eternal glory." They appeal to sentiment and not to sense.

For Austria Hitler has the kindest, the sweetest of words. But he is full of indignation over the millions of Germans still in Czechoslovakia.

Hitler's voice is not remotely like the dulcet cadences of the prominent figures in our public life. To some he may be suggestive of the Rev. Coughlin in his wilder flights of oratory. To others he may recall the lether lunged orators of the Chautauqua era. To youngsters accustomed only to the restrained microphone murmuring of today his voice may sometimes seem the sheerest burlesque, plain funny.

Lindbergh Portraits Are Completed After a Month of Sittings

New York, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh for the last month have been sitting almost daily for portraits in the New York studios of Robert Brackman, Russian born artist.

The famous couple came from the New Jersey estate of Mrs. Lindbergh's mother, Mrs. Dwight Morrow, to Brackman's studios, remaining there most of each day. The portraits, two oils and two pencil drawings, now are completed.

It was understood they arranged for the pictures at the request of Mrs. Morrow. Several artists were consulted and finally Brackman, an associate of the National Academy of Design, was selected.

CLEARANCE 400 SUITS

Included besides the suits of fine domestic worsteds are imported English Flannels and Worsteds—all at a price lower than the special winter clearance prices at which they have been featured.

$33.50

You will seldom find, we believe, suits of these notable fabrics assembled at such a drastically reduced clearance price. As the more distinguished of our imported and domestic clothing fabrics they have received the benefits of expert tailoring and in many instances the added distinction of hand pricked edges. However drastic the sale price may seem, it will take on added significance if you realize that their regular prices were considerably higher than even $39.50, $49.50 and $59.50. It is a sale of compelling interest, affording the man who usually buys this type of clothing the opportunity to buy several suits at this time. In short, stouts, regular, and long sizes.

Minor alterations made without extra charge.

NORTH, SOUTH GOLDEN GLOVERS TO FIGHT TONIGHT

FIERCE BATTLES THRILL CROWD IN LOYOLA GYM

White City Show in Fourth Round.

Golden Gloves Facts

TWO Chicago Golden Gloves sectional tournaments will be operating tonight. Out of town teams for the Tournament of Champions will be named in two cities. The schedule follows:

CHICAGO.

Open division boxers report between 5 and 7 p. m. to be weighed and examined.

Starting time—8 p. m.

OUT OF TOWN.

Green Bay Press-Gazette finals.

Michigan City Dispatch semi-finals.

BY FRENCH LANE.

The last group to get going in the battle for THE TRIBUNE'S Golden Gloves were the boys from along Chicago's north shore. They had waited while the west and northwest sides picked their champions and while the south side got its big tournament under way.

They were so restless and anxious when their turn finally came in the Loyola university gymnasium last night that no time was lost in setting off the biggest fireworks of this year's sectional fighting in Chicago.

Knockouts? A Dime a Dozen.

Sixty-six battles were fought in two rings in less than three hours.

In one period of a minute and thirty seconds three knockouts were recorded.

Tom Clark of Armour Tech dazzled the capacity crowd with the speed he displayed while whipping Billy Johnson of 3221 Montrose avenue. Tom is a middleweight but was faster than any flyweight that crawled through the ropes.

This Club Does All Right.

The Young People's Keenan club sent four boxers into the ring. All won, three of them by knockouts in the first round. Jerry Heffernan, Loyola boxing coach, also coached the Keenan club boys.

Novices did all of last night's fighting. They will be heard from in the Tournament of Champions which opens in Chicago Stadium next Monday.

When the fighting ended the north siders were within two fighting sessions of ending their championship squabbles. They'll fight again tonight in one ring with action starting at 8 o'clock.

South Side Boys Resume.

Golden Gloves battling will be resumed tonight by the boys of the south side sectional territory. Three nights of fighting were held in their tournament last week. There will be three more meetings this week in the White City arena. Quarter-final round matches will make up tonight's program and the semi-finals are set for tomorrow night. On Thursday night the championships will be passed out to the survivors.

Then Chicago will be ready for the Tournament of Champions. Its four sectional teams will have been se-

Arcadia, Cal., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Sixteen 3 year olds, the best that ever have competed in a winter race feature, were named overnight for the renewal of the $50,000 Santa Anita Derby to be run over the Santa Anita track tomorrow afternoon.

A holiday crowd of more than 40,000 is expected. The entry of Sun Egret and Legal Light, owned by A. C. Compton of San Francisco and Ral Parr of Maryland, probably will rule as the post time favorite at odds of 3 to 1.

Second choice in the betting is Sir Raleigh, a son of Sir Gallahad III., which races for the Milisdale stable of Chicago. A brilliant workout here a few mornings ago won Sir Raleigh his big following. Previously he had been beated by a neck by Sun Egret.

The Derby is at a mile and an eighth and post time will be 4:15 o'clock [6:15 Chicago time].

This is the fourth running of the west coast's richest 3 year old stake.

IOWA BEATS N. U.; PURDUE FIVE WINS TO TIE FOR LEAD

Missed Foul Shots Whip Purple, 26 to 25.

Iowa's basketball team, which lost to Chicago last Saturday, came back last night to upset Northwestern, 26 to 25, in a rough-and-tumble game before 5,500 at Patten gymnasium. The defeat dropped Northwestern into a tie for first place with Purdue, which beat Ohio State, 49 to 36.

Failure to score on free throws led to Northwestern's defeat. The Wildcats missed twelve out of fifteen attempts, two of which came in the last 30 seconds of play. Fred Trenkle missed both.

Technical Is Costly.

Iowa, meanwhile, made good on each of its six free throw chances. One was a technical foul called on Jim Currie, Northwestern guard, by Referee George Levis midway in the second half. Currie made a gesture of disgust on an out of bounds ruling. Nile Kinnick, Iowa's back field sensation last fall, made the free throw, which eventually was to decide the game. It brought the score to 17 to 15 in Iowa's favor at the time.

Iowa was equally effective on long shots which enabled it to keep within striking distance all the way. Sam Johnson, forward, rifled in three field goals from near mid-court to share scoring honors with a teammate, Jack Drees, and Jean Smith of Northwestern.

The first half play began slowly with Iowa rolling up a 6 to 2 lead before Trenkle got a rally under way with a one-handed shot from the side. This drive sent Northwestern into a 11 to 6 lead. Iowa tied it up at 12-all on two baskets by Drees and free throws by Stephens and Prasse. McMichael and Suesens scored just before the gun to end the half at 14 to 14.

Iowa Goes Ahead.

Iowa moved into the lead at the start of the second period on Johnson's shot. It maintained a slim margin until midway in the half when Smith scored from the side to narrow the gap to 24 to 21. McMichael hit from far out and Smith followed with a goal from close range to put Northwestern ahead, 25 to 24.

With less than a minute to play Stephens hooked in a one-handed shot from under the basket. The Wildcats, trailing by a point, brought the ball down the court and in a scramble under their basket, Trenkle was fouled by Stephens, who was removed from the game on four personals. Trenkle missed both attempts and before another shot could be made the game ended.

PURDUE MARCHES ON

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Purdue remained in the Big Ten race tonight with a 49 to 36 victory over Ohio State that evened the season's series with the Buckeyes. It was Purdue's seventh victory in nine Big Ten starts and its fifteenth triumph in seventeen games this season.

Although Jewell Young, seeking a three year Big Ten scoring record, paced Purdue with 20 points on nine field goals and two free throws, it was the all around work of Johnny Sines that accounted for the margin of victory.

Sines played the outstanding game of his career. In addition to scoring six field goals his defensive work held Stafford and Lynch scoreless.

Maroons Beat Illini, 43 to 39; 2d Straight

Having learned the long forgotten secret last Saturday, Chicago's Maroons won another Big Ten basketball game last night. The same six men who had downed Iowa to break a chain of thirty-three consecutive conference defeats, last night beat Illinois, 43 to 39 before 2,500 in the Midway fieldhouse.

The game was won in the last minutes of a furious second half which saw Illinois rally to overcome a five point deficit, and Chicago counter with a rally to tie the score. With the count at 38 all, Bob Casells, Maroon forward, emerged from a scramble under the basket and scored the basket which provided the winning points.

A Break for the Fans.

Hapac of Illinois, made good on one of two free throws, but Morris Rossin, Chicago guard, picked up a loose ball close to the Illini goal and poked it in. Lounsbury's free throws, followed by a Chicago stall, gave the Chicago crowd its first view of a Maroon Big Ten victory in exactly three years.

Illinois jumped into a 6 to 2 lead in the first three minutes, Handlon scoring five of the Illinois points. The Maroons then made five straight baskets in three minutes, on a corner shot by Eggemeyer, rebound shots by Mullins, and Cassels, and fast break short shots by Rossin and Mullins.

The Maroons were ahead, 22 to 12, with two minutes to go in the half but Illinois scored five quick points to reduce its half time deficit to five points.

Nisbet Ties It Up.

As the final period opened Tommy Nisbet shoved in two baskets and a free throw in forty-five seconds, to produce a 24 to 24 tie. Illinois forged ahead, 29 to 26, on goals by Nisbet and Dehner, then led, 33 to 28, on shots by Dehner and Hapac.

Short baskets by Eggemeyer, Myer and Rossin gave the lead back to Chicago, but Illinois went ahead on a free throw by Dehner and Nisbet's fifth basket. The score was tied 36-all and at 38-all when Cassels got in his decisive shot.

Grimm Leads Cub Squad to Catalina Camp

To the wabbly strains of "My Wild Irish Rose," played by a five piece band at the special request of Leo [Gabby] Hartnett, the first detachment of Cubs, consisting of nine players, their manager, Charley Grimm, and Trainer Andy Lotshaw, left last night to open spring training at Avalon, Catalina Island, California.

The squad, which consisted of Pitchers Leroy Parmelee, Clay Bryant, Clyde Shoun, Bob Epperly, and Walter Higbe; Catchers Bob Garbark, Ken O'Dea, and Hartnett, and Outfielder Coaker Triplett, was held up fifteen minutes by a plane making connections with the California Limited, but finally pulled out of the Dearborn street station at 10:30 o'clock.

Bobby Mattick, a recruit infielder, and Bob Logan, southpaw pitcher, will join the party at Kansas City this morning. Arrival in Los Angeles is scheduled for noon Thursday, and the group will immediately board a boat for the island. Manager Grimm plans a workout that afternoon.

Grimm made no bold pennant statements, but did stress the fact that the club finished second last year after a series of injuries to key players and said he saw no reason why, with a fair break of luck, it shouldn't be in the running all the way in 1938.

GIVEN CRISLER'S OLD JOB; MAY HIRE CAPPON

Martineau Accepts Michigan Position.

Princeton, N. J., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—E. E. [Tad] Wieman, line coach under Fritz Crisler for the last six years, was named head coach of the Princeton university football team tonight, succeeding Crisler, who resigned recently to accept a similar position at Michigan.

E. E. Wieman.

Wieman's appointment, it was learned, was planned immediately after Crisler's resignation, but was held up pending Wieman's consideration to return to Michigan as an assistant. He had been assistant to Crisler at Minnesota before coming here and at one time was head coach at Michigan.

Negotiations with Crisler fell through, however, and when Wieman notified the athletic council that he was willing to be considered a candidate for the Princeton job his appointment was made immediately.

Played Under Yost.

Wieman was graduated from Michigan in 1921. He played tackle and full back under Fielding Yost. He assisted Yost for six years, then became head coach at Michigan in 1927. After the 1928 season he confined his activities to his duties as assistant athletic director to Yost.

He went to Minnesota in 1930 and remained with Crisler until the latter was transferred to Michigan on Feb. 9.

No announcement was made of the length of his contract and the salary he will be paid. The salary, however, is limited and cannot exceed the $8,000, the maximum paid professors.

Wieman said he had made no decision concerning assistants, except that he had intended to invite all the assistant coaches under Crisler to remain. He did not learn until later that Earl Martineau had been appointed back field coach at Michigan, leaving only End Coach Campbell Dickson, of Crisler's staf.

Severs Business Connections.

Wieman, who has been engaged in the insurance business in Philadelphia, said he had resigned these connections and would devote all his time to coaching. His family will move to Princeton soon, he said.

It was understood tonight that Frank Cappon, assistant athletic director and basketball coach at Michigan, would come to Princeton as Wieman's first assistant. Cappon is known to be Wieman's choice. If he accepts, it is reported Bennie Oosterbaan, former Michigan star, would be named to succeed him as basketball coach at Ann Arbor.

MARTINEAU TO MICHIGAN

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Earl L. Martineau, assistant to Herbert [Fritz] Crisler at Princeton, was named to the Michigan football staf as back field coach today.

Announcement of Martineau's appointment came from Crisler, newly appointed head coach, through officials of the Michigan board of control of physical education.

"Additional announcements of other staf changes" tomorrow or Wednesday were intimated in the statement. It was believed Campbell Dickson, present end coach at Princeton, also would be added to the Michigan staf.

Martineau, as backfield coach, succeeds Walter J. Weber, who in recent years also has worked with Michigan freshmen football candidates. He is a graduate of Minnesota where he won six varsity letters in football and track, captaining the football squad and being named on Walter Camp's All-American team as half back in 1923.

CUNNINGHAM WINS 1,000 YARD SETON HALL RACE

Newark, N. J., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Glenn Cunningham tonight won the 1,000 yard special race, feature of the annual Seton Hall college athletic games. He finished in 2:17.3, 20 yards ahead of Archie San Romani, a fellow Kansan. Bill Ray of the New York Curb exchange was third.

Jim Herbert, New York university colored runner, saw his unbeaten string of nine 600-yard runs broken when Wesley Wallace of Fordham finished 2 feet ahead of him in the Waldron invitational. Wallace was timed in 1:12.8.

Eulace Peacock, Temple university's colored sprinter, was beaten in the 60 yard handicap dash. He spotted an 8-foot handicap to Robert Vanness of the Newark A. C., and was eliminated in the semi-final.

Don Lash of Indiana set a new meet record, winning the 2 mile handicap run in 9:12.6.

Sportsmen Seek Voice in Game Control Activity

BY BOB BECKER.

Condemning the "secret chamber" method of drawing up water fowl hunting regulations, the More Game Birds in America foundation has delivered another blast at the U. S. department of agriculture and biological survey because they ignore state departments of conservation when it comes time to formulate the hunting laws.

John C. Huntington, president of the foundation, recently charged that the secret drafting of migratory bird regulations threatens serious breakdown of enforcement. Asserting that two-thirds of the states have differed with the U. S. bureau of biological survey on important parts of present water fowl regulations, Huntington urged open hearings on future laws before the wild life committee of the house of representatives.

Sportsmen will recall that some years ago the biological survey used to confer with an advisory council regarding the water fowl situation. This council would meet in Washington early in the summer. Members of the organization from all parts of the country would give their views on possible hunting regulations and other subjects pertaining to a sensible code for the hunting season.

This system no longer exists, but many organizations want it restored so states may register their opinions on water fowl regulations.

North Side's Lightweights Steal the Show

A three round slugging match between Walter Collins, lightweight from Armour Tech institute, and James Hamilton, colored representative of the Evanston Y. M. C. A., created the most excitement in the north section Golden Gloves trials in Loyola university gymnasium last night.

Referee Takes a Hand.

In the final round the Evanston southpaw pushed Collins to the canvas and when he got up rubbed the wrist of his right glove across his opponent's nose. Referee Joe McNamara put a stop to Hamilton's amusing antics.

This infuriated James and he threw a left at Collins with such force the impetus caused Hamilton to fall to his knees. Collins won the decision, which was applauded by the spectators.

It Was a Busy Evening.

The battle was one of thirty-two held in the lightweight class. There were also seven in the flyweight division, ten each in the bantamweight and featherweight—twenty-eight in welterweight, twenty in the middleweight, six in the light heavyweight, and five in the heavyweight classes.

Fourteen of the thirty-five scraps scheduled out north tonight will involve the open or more experienced boxers.

Two sets of brothers competed last night. They were John and Barney Johanson of 3130 Greenview avenue, welterweight and middleweight, respectively, and Charles and Thomas Allison, featherweight and 160 pounder. In his first contest Tom was eliminated by Henry Kramen of the Y. M. C. A.

Thomas Gordon, welterweight of the Young People's Keenan club, was forced out of the tournament when he suffered a thumb injury while defeating John Morrison of the Catholic Youth organization.

Sonny Weissman, coach of Armour Tech's team, seconded three of his six representatives who fought last night to victories. The winners of their first round bouts were Bob McMahon, 147 pounds; Walter Collins, 135, and Tom Clark, 160.

COLORADO MEN IN CHICAGO TO HONOR WHIZZER

Byron [Whizzer] White, brilliant half back of the University of Colorado, and Coach Bernard [Bunny] Oakes will be the principal speakers at the Chicago alumni dinner meeting of the university in Lawson Y. M. C. A. on Saturday, March 5. Chicago alumni of Colorado, headed by George Grosvenor of the Chicago Cardinals, George Newton and Harry E. Schubart, who was the Rocky Mountain flyweight champion and an all conference baseball star during his playing days, will turn out in force to welcome Whizzer and Coach Oakes.

White is debating two courses on his graduation from Colorado, a Rhodes scholarship or a $15,000 contract for professional football tendered him by the Pittsburgh club of the National Pro Football league.

ILLINOIS HOCKY TEAM LOSES TO NOTRE DAME, 2-1

Bob Magee, Notre Dame left wing, scored both goals for the Irish, both unassisted, one in the first and the other in the second period. Paul Slater, Illinois center, scored in the second period.

COOPER SCORES 285 AND WINS AT NEW ORLEANS

Leads McSpaden Home by Four Strokes.

New Orleans, La., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Harry Cooper of Chicago, on top from the first nine holes, shot par despite stiff north winds today to beat the field by four strokes and win the $5,000 72-hole Crescent City open tournament and pocket $1,200 first money.

Cooper ground out two final rounds of par 72 for his 285 total, a three under par performance. Rain sodden fairways handicapped him on three of his rounds.

McSpaden Is Second.

Harold [Jug] McSpaden, Winchester, Mass., professional, took second money of $750 with his 289 total. He dropped birdies on the final two holes for a sub par finish of 71, one under city park's 37-35—72 par.

Together in a tie for third place were Sam Snead, of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., winner of three previous winter tourneys, and Ky Laffoon, Chicago professional. Laffoon's two closing rounds of 70, two under par, gave him 292 and the tie with Snead. They received $500 each.

Espinosa Shoots 69.

Veteran Abe Espinosa of Chicago stormed in with a last round 69 which included seven birdies, to tie with Sam Byrd of Philadelphia, former New York Yankee outfielder, with 294 worth $325 each.

By today's victory Cooper became the leading money winner of the year with a total value of $2,678.38. Jimmy Thomson is second with $2,515, and John Revolta, third, with $2,498.33.

Iowa Defeats Purple, 26-25; Purdue Wins

A brief Ohio State rally held Purdue's lead to 21 to 16 at the half. The Buckeyes started the second half as though determined to duplicate their second half rally of a week ago, whittling Purdue's lead to 24 to 22 before Young led an attack that pushed the Boilermakers far out in front.

NOTRE DAME WINS

Notre Dame, Ind., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Notre Dame achieved its 16th victory in 19 starts and its 17th straight at home tonight, defeating Michigan State, 48 to 32, before 5,000.

The game concluded Michigan State's schedule and left it with a record of nine victories and eight defeats. Howard Kraft, senior Michigan State guard, received a wrist watch from a group of Niles, Mich., fans between halves. The presentation was made by Chet Davidson of Niles High school, Kraft's former coach.

Notre Dame took a 6 to 0 lead at the start and maintained a slight advantage until late in the first period, when three long shots by Martin Hutt, State center, tied it at 15-all. Paul Nowak, Notre Dame center and high scorer with 12 points, sent the Irish ahead, 20 to 18, at the half on two free throws. Lineup:

The Mount Carmel junior basketball team took undisputed possession of first place in the south section of the Catholic High School league by defeating De La Salle, which had entered the game tied for the lead, 48 to 35, last night.

It was Mount Carmel's eighth victory against one defeat. The defeat dropped the De La Salle quintet to third place. The St. George juniors routed Weber, 39 to 25, to take over first place in the north section.

Oak Park's frosh-soph five muffed an opportunity to take first place in the Suburban league by losing to New Trier, 27 to 25. The result left Oak Park in a third place tie with Morton at eight victories and three losses.

The Hyde Park-Bowen double-header, scheduled for yesterday, was postponed and will be played tomorrow. Senior lineups:

LEIB APPOINTED IOWA ATHLETIC BOARD CHAIRMAN

Iowa City, Ia., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Prof. Karl E. Leib of the commerce and liberal arts college was appointed chairman of the board in control of athletics at the University of Iowa by President Eugene A. Gilmore today.

Prof. Leib, who served on the athletic board at the University of Washington before coming to Iowa, succeeds C. M. Updegraff, who is on leave of absence from the university.

Hawks Move Onto Maroon Rink Tonight

Games Tonight

Blackhawks at Montreal Maroons.
Montreal Canadiens at New York Rangers.
Toronto at Boston.

MONTREAL, Que., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—The Chicago Blackhawks arrived here tonight to play their last scheduled game on Montreal ice this season with the Maroons. With only the shred of a chance remaining to qualify for the Stanley cup playoffs, Tommy Gorman's once powerful machine is in a desperate mood and Manager Bill Stewart's players can expect no quarter. The Maroons in tomorrow night's battle literally will be fighting for their next season's jobs.

The 1 to 0 defeat handed the Blackhawks by Detroit last night in Chicago was not relished by Manager Stewart and the Hawks, who now lead Detroit by only a game. A victory over the Maroons, a feat the Hawks have not been able to accomplish in two seasons in Montreal, would put them two games up on the Red Wings who are not booked to play tomorrow night.

The schedule following the Montreal clash is a hard one for the Hawks who must meet the high scoring New York Rangers in Madison Square Garden on Thursday and repeat the performance on Sunday in Chicago.

Frank Calder, president of the National hocky league, said today the league probably will broaden the blue lines marking defensive zones on the ice, to twelve inches as the result of an experimental game Saturday night in Toronto.

Maroons Beat Illini, 43 to 39; 2d Straight

After an 18 to 18 deadlock at half time, Minnesota pulled away on long shots by Kundla and Maki and gained a 34 to 29 lead midway in the final period. Indiana was penalized repeatedly for fouling, but baskets in the last 50 seconds by McCreary and Platt almost closed the gap, after the Hoosiers had trailed, 37 to 34. Indiana committed thirteen fouls to twelve for the Gophers. The score was tied eight times in the first half and once in the second.

Kundla and Maki of Minnesota shared scoring honors with 11 points each. It was Minnesota's sixth victory in nine games, and Indiana's sixth setback in nine starts.

LOYOLA LOSES, 40-39

Vermillion, S. D., Feb. 21.—(AP)—A sophomore combination sent into the game midway in the last half overcame an early lead tonight to give South Dakota university a 40 to 39 basketball victory over Loyola of Chicago. An intercepted pass by Evers in the last minute of play led to the winning basket.

Loyola dominated play at the start and was leading, 34 to 20, when Coach Rube Hoy called out his regulars and sent in the sophomores. Loyola led, 23 to 19, at the half.

KIRWAN ACCEPTS COACHING JOB AT U. OF KENTUCKY

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Ab Kirwan, former University of Kentucky football star, said tonight he had accepted an offer to become head football coach at his alma mater, succeeding Chet Wynne, who resigned Thursday. Kirwan has been coach of Du Pont Manual Training school here for several years.

Kirwan said Bernie A. Shively, who was recommended as athletic director today by the university's athletic council, offered him the coachship in a long distance telephone conversation this afternoon.

"And I accepted," he added.

Kirwan said he would go to Lexington tomorrow to talk over details with Shively.

Final action on the recommendation of the athletic council is up to the university's board of trustees, but it is believed both Shively's appointment and his selection of Kirwan will be approved Friday at a meeting of the board.

Kirwan said he expected to take over his duties at Kentucky within the next few days.

Douglas Starts North to Prepare Wisconsin Nine

Waco, Tex., Feb. 21.—(AP)—L. N. Douglas, head of the Baylor university department of physical education, has gone to the University of Wisconsin where he will be head coach of baseball. Douglas led the team to second place in the Big Ten last spring.

RUTH? HUH! YOU SHOULD SEE KID MACHINE AT BAT

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Government scientists produced today the greatest home run hitter in the history of baseball and started it on a two weeks slugging spree.

It Doesn't Need to Run.

"The only thing he can't do," explained Dr. H. L. Dryden, who made the mechanical mauler, "is run the bases and chew tobacco.

"A hitter like that doesn't have to," exclaimed Edward B. Eynon, secretary of the Washington club, "every sock is over the fence."

The fence buster resembles a miniature cannon. The scientists feed it baseballs and then turn a switch. A blast of air releases a hunk of wood the size of a bat and it flies against the ball.

The ball sails into a socket in an all steel pendulum. The scientists then read how far the ball has swung the pendulum and compute the missil's liveliness.

Just Like Babe Ruth.

Every ball—and there are dozens of them—is being hit from three angles:

2—Across one seam.

This indoor home run hitting will continue for two weeks and then the bureau of standards will announce what is called the first comprehensive information on the baseball.

What! No Curve Balls?

"We realize," Dr. Dryden said, "that even these tests have limitations. For instance, a pitcher spins the ball when he throws it. We're hitting the ball when it's not in motion."

The official American, National, and International league ball are being used, as well as some sample balls the manufacturers have sent in.

Eynon said the tests probably would carry great weight when it comes to deciding what designs the leagues will adopt for the 1939 season.

CLAIMS ABSORB $1,577,500 LEFT BY M'KINLOCK

Widow May Get Only Her Award of $25,000.

This was indicated yesterday in the Lake county Probate court when Judge Martin C. Decker approved an uncontested claim of $1,112,629, against the estate for the New England Mutual Life Insurance company.

Mr. McKinlock died Dec. 16, 1936, at the age of 78 in his Palm Beach, Fla., home, where his widow, the former Marion Wallace Rappelye, now is living. Their former home was in Lake Bluff.

Allow Claim for Two Loans.

The claim allowed Randolph Thornton, as attorney for the insurance company, was for two loans, one for $390,000, the other for $650,000. To this was added $72,629 interest.

These loans, said Attorney Denis J. Sullivan Jr., representing the widow, represented mortgages on McKinlock's two largest real estate holdings, the twelve story McKinlock building at 209 West Jackson boulevard, and a seven story garage at 326 South Wells street.

Foreclosure proceedings were begun by the company in the federal district court on Feb. 10, he said, and a receiver for both buildings has been appointed. The next step will be to order their sale.

In the last inventory on Sept. 17 the McKinlock building was appraised at $500,000, Mr. Sullivan said, and the appraisal for the garage was $386,000.

Excluding their total value then—$886,000—Mr. Sullivan said that approximately $200,000 would remain in the estate, after allowances for other claims, expenses of administration and inheritance taxes.

This, by the terms of the will, goes to Mrs. McKinlock. However, Attorney Sullivan said, if the insurance company realizes no more from the sale of the buildings than their appraised value of last fall, the company may come into the Probate court and claim the remaining liquid assets to satisfy the balance of their claim—$226,629.

This evidence of a decline in the value of Mr. McKinlock's estate also indicates why he was unable to fulfill two pledges totaling $300,000 made to Northwestern university, as evidenced in his will. Recently the university announced it would change the name of the downtown campus, named as a memorial for his son, and return $155,717 previously received. The son was Lieut. George A. McKinlock Jr., a naval aviator killed in the world war.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Unhappy About the Whole Thing

KATE F. BECKER WILL LEAVING $202,500 ADMITTED TO PROBATE

Judge Martin C. Decker of Lake county yesterday admitted to probate the will of Mrs. Kate F. Becker leaving a $202,500 estate to her four children. Mrs. Becker, widow of A. G. Becker, investment banker, died Feb. 8. She lived on North St. Johns avenue, Highland Park.

An inheritance tax return filed in the Lake county court disclosed the estate of Mrs. Julia W. Thompson, 151 Mayflower road, Lake Forest, amounts to $212,077. The state tax amounts to $2,364 and the federal tax to $17,634, acording to W. C. Weidert, executor. Three daughters will share the bulk of the estate. Mrs. Thompson died April 30, 1937.

MILLION LOTTERY TICKETS SEIZED IN PRINTING SHOP

More than a million lottery tickets fell into police hands yesterday when detective squads raided the Morris printing and binding shop at 1409 East 61st street.

Six men and three women employés were arrested. All but one were released later. George Graf, 27 years old, 1218 South Kolin avenue, was technically held when police found that he had been in lottery troubles under the name of George K. Shayne in Jersey City, N. J.

The tickets had been printed elsewhere and were to have been bound in the 61st street shop. The raid was made on information by federal agents, who had worked on clews obtained in their investigation of the recent lottery charges against the former Will Rogers hospital.

One Kentucky Derby lottery offered first and second prizes of $10,000 and $4,000 and 62,418 other prizes. The Gold Bond lottery offered $125,000 in its annual Easter Classic. Other lotteries were based on treasury numbers and baseball pools.

GUNMAN SHOT AND CAPTURED.

A colored gunman, who robbed a grocery and meat market at 318 East 53d street of $6.50 yesterday, was shot and captured by Detective Napoleon Sutton of the Wabash avenue station. The shots of John Dixon, a colored clerk, brought Sutton to the scene.

FIELD GRANDSON SUES TO ESCAPE TAX OF $177,000

Arthur Tree Wants Will Construed.

Arthur Ronald Lambert Field Tree, Conservative member of the English parliament, filed suit yesterday in the Superior court to construe the will of his grandfather, the first Marshall Field, pioneer Chicago merchant.

A. R. L. E. Tree. [Photo copyright: by Bassano, Ltd.]

Tree seeks to avoid paying an Illinois inheritance tax of $177,460, including interest on a $1,000,000 trust fund which he inherited from his grandfather through the death of his mother, Lady Ethel Field Beatty.

Sues Trustees of Estate.

The suit contends that the tax should be paid from the residuary estate of Marshall Field, who left a fortune estimated at $120,000,000 when he died in 1906. The suit is directed against the trustees of the residuary estate, the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, George Richardson, and Marshall Field III.

When the old merchant prince drew his will on Feb. 21, 1904, the suit contends, he set up a $1,000,000 trust for his daughter Ethel, then Mrs. Arthur Tree. Mrs. Tree later married the late Admiral Earl Beatty.

Lady Beatty was given the power of appointment to dispose of the trust as she wished upon her death. Mrs. Field's will also provided that she might pass it on to her son, when he reached the age of 40, or that in the event of her death, he was to receive it at that age.

Receives Trust at Age 40.

Lady Beatty died July 17, 1932, leaving the income of the trust to Tree until he became 40, when he was to receive the principal. He reached that age last Sept. 26.

His grandfather, according to the bill, provided that Lady Beatty was to receive the $1,000,000 trust free from all inheritance or legacy taxes. Accordingly, such taxes were paid from the residue of the Field estate in 1910, the suit states.

Tree contends that this provision of Mr. Field's will also applies to the trust as it affects his grandson. Accordingly, he asks that the Field trustees pay from the estate the state tax of $134,729 assessed last fall, plus interest of $42,731 at 6 per cent, which has accrued since his mother's death.

Tree, who is represented by the law firm of Winston, Strawn & Shaw, is not contesting a state tax of $43,353, assessed against the $500,000 share he received from another $2,000,000 trust left by Field to Lady Beatty. This trust did not contain the same provisions for tax exemption.

SUE TO CANCEL 2 MARRIAGES OF YOUNG ELOPERS

In one, filed by Attorney Samuel M. Starr, Mrs. Helen Nelson, 1311 Heath avenue, seeks to dissolve the marriage of her daughter, Eunice, 15 years old, to Arthur Albert Moore, 24, of 2118 Hastings street. Mrs. Nelson charges that Moore induced her daughter to skip classes and marry him on Oct. 10, saying he had a good job as a chauffeur.

The second suit seeks to annul the marriage on Sept. 5 of Edward C. Jacobs, 18 years old, 838 West 34th place, a high school student, and Olive Lamphier Jacobs, 309 East Marquette road. Attorney Albert J. Jennings, who filed the suit for Jacobs' mother, Mary, said the girl is under 16 years old.

Madame Arlee, Character Reader, Wins Trial Delay

Mrs. Delilah Young, known to the residents near her home at 2137 North Clark street as "Mme. Arlee," a character reader, was brought yesterday before Judge Oscar Caplan in Felony court. She won a continuance until Feb. 24 on charges brought by Joseph Modica of 1495 Clybourn avenue, who said she made off with $4,000 belonging to him. She was arrested in Dallas, Tex.

State and City Officials at Rites for Judge David

A large delegation of state officials, led by Gov. Horner, city officials, and most of the judges in the city and county, attended funeral services yesterday for Judge Joseph B. David of the Superior court, who died Thursday at the age of 74. The services were held in Temple Isaiah Israel, Hyde Park boulevard and Greenwood avenue. Burial was in Mount Isaiah cemetery.

GETS FIVE DAYS AFTER AUTO HITS POLICEMAN'S CAR

Fisher Sattisfield, 29 years old, colored, 2329 Walnut street, was sentenced to five days in the county jail in Safety court yesterday for driving while intoxicated. Judge Charles S. Dougherty suspended his driving privileges for sixty days. Sattisfield was seized Friday night after his automobile struck that of Lieut. Anthony De Grazio of the Sheffield police, and kept on going.

Two others lost their driving privileges yesterday and both were jailed in addition. They are:

MILO MEYERS, 30 years old, of Gary, Ind., reckless driving; five days in jail and ninety days' suspension.

Judge Hits Speed Mania; Voids Award of $25,000

Toledo, O., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—The court of appeals here today set aside a verdict of $25,000 awarded Mrs. Zoe Ballmer, in the death of her husband, Ralph Ballmer, on March 11, 1932. Mr. Ballmer was killed when his automobile was struck by a Pennsylvania railroad train in Bucyrus. The court's opinion said: "In this age of numerous and often too speedy motor vehicles on the highways, our courts are not inclined by the judgments to encourage highway travelers to engage in a race with death at railroad grade crossings."

Urges Independent Survey of City's Traction Needs

A recommendation for an independent survey of Chicago's traction needs was made to the City Club of Chicago yesterday by Charles P. Schwartz, counsel for the club's local transportation committee. John F. Roos, a member of the committee, outlined the city plan for transit modernization and unification. Frank A. Hecht, president of the West Central association, said he did not believe the city plan sufficiently broad to solve the traction problem. The meeting was held in the Hotel Sherman.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

The New Farm Law

Article II.

Feb. 21, 1938.

UNDER the federal government's new farm program the secretary of agriculture is expected to ask farmers to plant this year a total of 93,810,000 acres of corn, the same as was grown last year. Normally about 51½ million acres of corn are produced in the commercial area established under the provisions of the new farm law. Last year there were approximately 600 million more bushels of corn raised inside than outside the commercial area. The total crop for the entire country was 2 billion 652 million bushels.

A base acreage will be provided for each corn grower within the commercial corn area. There will be a base acreage on corn for both the coöperating and noncoöperating farmers.

Basis of Allotments.

National, state, and county acreage allotments are to be made on the basis of the number of acres of corn planted during the last ten years. Adjustments will be made for the acreage of corn diverted to other crops under the agricultural adjustment and soil act programs in previous years, and for abnormal weather conditions and trends in acreage.

Then the allotment for any county is to be divided up by local committees of farmers among farms on the basis of tillable acreage, type of soil, topography, and crop producing practices.

The total amount of federal money available for payments this year to coöperating farmers is approximately 440 million dollars. This will be apportioned by the secretary of agriculture among the different sections of the country. The money will be paid to farmers under the soil program for diverting land from such crops as corn and wheat to alfalfa, clovers and similar legumes. Payments also will be made for applying limestone and following other farm practices approved by the government.

Rate of Pay.

The amount to be paid individual farmers is to be determined later. The rate of pay is expected to be similar to that followed under the soil law during the last two years. In Illinois this has amounted to about $220 a year for typical live stock and grain farms of 160 acres.

The payments have amounted to approximately $10 an acre for diverting land from corn and similar crops. But the payments varied. The farmers were not paid for diverting more than 15 per cent of their so-called soil depleting crop base, which is determined by appraisers.

Under a second class of payment farmers have received money for new seedings of legumes. The rate per acre of these payments in Illinois has been as follows: Alfalfa and perennial lespedeza, $2; alsike, sweet and white clovers, and annual lespedeza, $1, and legume mixtures, $1.50. For cowpeas and soy beans plowed under the rate of pay per acre has been $1.50. If a farmer applies two tons of limestone he has been getting $2.50 an acre. He has been paid $5 an acre for planting trees.

When Dole Is Paid.

The only direct government dole from taxpayers' money is to be paid to farmers who comply with this national soil plan directed from Washington. The new law does not include acreage adjustment crop control contracts that were in the original Pope-McGill bill passed by the senate. It does not compel farmers to plant either a minimum or maximum number of acres of corn.

Loans on corn are offered to farmers who coöperate on the soil program. These will be discussed in a later article.

PUBLIC SERVICE (N. J.) 1937 NET $2.67 A SHARE

Tax Rise Offsets Gain in Gross Profit.

Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, which provides utility services to 90 per cent of the population of New Jersey, yesterday reported net income for 1937 was $24,531,606, equal after preferred dividends to $2.67 a common share. Net income in the preceding year was $24,612,933, or $2.68 a share.

T. N. McCarter.

Gross earnings of the corporation increased 3.2 per cent to $129,795,021 last year. Electric sales, totaling 2,268,000,000 kilowatt hours, were the largest in the company's history. An increase of $2,453,000 to $22,309,332 in the total tax bill was a factor in holding down earnings to approximately the level of 1936. Tax payments were equivalent to $3.13 a share on combined preferred and common stocks.

President Reports Revival.

"Among outstanding features of the year," said Thomas N. McCarter, president, in a statement to stockholders, "were a revival of activity in the company's territory, a gratifying growth of demand for electrical energy, an increase of gas sales for building heating as well as for automatic water heating, and a gain in passengers on transportation lines where all-service vehicles were substituted for street cars."

Mead Johnson & Co., manufacturer of infant diet materials, Evansville, Ind., reported net profit in 1937 was $1,573,684, or $8.81 a common share, compared with 1936 profit of $1,575,732, or $8.83 a share. Indicated profit for the second half of last year was $813,856, compared with $759,828 in the first half, and $884,133 in the latter half of 1936.

White Motor Earns Less.

White Motor company experienced a sharp drop in 1937 earnings, brought about, according to Robert F. Black, president, by "substantial operating losses in the last four months of the year caused by the acute business recession." For the year, profit was $65,854, or 10 cents a share, against $681,628, or $1.09 a share in 1936. Indicated net loss for the second half of 1937 was $587,343, compared with profit of $653,197 in the first half, and profit of $394,287 in the second half of 1936.

Sales increased $1,914,689 to $30,694,564, and unit sales rose 623 to 12,118.

Chicago Rivet and Machine company showed net profit last year of $207,960, or $1.38 a share, of capital stock, against profit of $230,786, or $1.53 a share, in 1936.

Net profit of Athey Truss Wheel company for 1937 amounted to $103,050, or 69 cents a share of capital stock, compared with $200,155, or $1.34 a share, in 1936.

Sundstrand Machine Earns Less.

The audited report of the Sundstrand Machine Tool company for 1937 showed net profit of $214,673, or $1.70 a common share, compared with $265,193, or $2.32 a share, in 1936.

Consolidated net profit of the Pitney-Bowes Postage Meter company for 1937 amounted to $614,791, or 69 cents a share, compared with $554,693, or 62 cents a share, in 1936. Indicated net for the quarter ended Dec. 31 was $213,334, against $207,592 in the preceding quarter and $135,429 in the fourth quarter of 1936.

Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation, Ltd., had 1937 net profit of $1,310,828, or $1.56 a share on the class B common stock, compared with $103,844, or 12 cents a share, in 1936.

Du Pont Trims Its Dividend to 50 Cents

A dividend of 50 cents a share was declared yesterday by directors of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Inc., for the first quarter of 1938. This compares with the interim dividend of 75 cents a share for the first quarter of 1937. Total dividends paid last year by the big chemical corporation, which also controls the General Motors corporation, amounted to $6.25 a common share, including $2 Dec. 14.

The Christiana Securities company, an investment company controled by the du Ponts and considered more or less a family holding concern, also reduced its first quarter dividend. The payment to be made March 15 will be $8.25 a common share, compared with $13.50 at this time a year ago, and $17 two years ago. The company paid out a total of $119.80 a share last year on its 150,000 common shares, including a dividend of $39.30 on Dec. 15.

Kellogg to Pay 50 Cents.

W. K. Kellogg, president of the Kellogg company, Battle Creek, Mich., food and cereal maker, announced a dividend of 50 cents a share and took occasion to squelch rumors of the company's purchase by General Foods corporation by saying that his company is not for sale.

Several other regular dividends were declared yesterday, including one of 5 cents by the Goebel Brewing company. Goebel did not add an extra of 5 cents as at this time a year ago, however.

The Mesta Machine company declared a dividend of $1 a share, the same as was paid Jan. 1. Niles Bement Pond ordered a 50 cent payment, the same as last Dec. 15.

Directors of the Bendix Aviation corporation are scheduled to meet Friday in New York to consider action on the dividend normally paid March 12. The company has been paying 25 cents quarterly, but there has been considerable conjecture as to what directors will do, in view of the sharp drop in automobile sales.

2 U. S. AGENCIES AT WAR BEFORE HIGH TRIBUNAL

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Two government agencies—the reconstruction finance corporation and the office of the controler of the currency—are battling each other before the Supreme court.

The RFC wants the tribunal to hold that an insolvent national bank must pay interest on secured funds held in trust until the trust fund has been returned to the owner. A number of insolvent banks owe money to the RFC.

This procedure, attorneys for the controler of the currency contend, would be "shockingly inequitable" and would "encroach upon the rights" of other creditors. The controler is in charge of liquidating national banks. A decision may be delivered next Monday by the court, which was in recess today.

INSURANCE MEN WILL DISCUSS PROFIT PROBLEM

Life insurance companies' problem of maintaining earnings in the face of the low interest rates now in force as a result of federal government policies will be the principal topic of discussion at the mid-winter meeting of the financial section of the American Life Convention which opens today in the Palmer house.

Interest rates have continued low since the depression and it has been increasingly difficult for the insurance companies to get a return on the 26 billion dollars which they hold in trust for approximately 65,000,000 policy holders.

Alex Cunningham, vice president and treasurer of the Western Life Insurance company, Helena, Mont., is chairman of the meeting.

Coffee Destroyed by Brazil Exceeds Exports in 1937

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Brazil destroyed more coffee than it exported in 1937, the commerce department said today. The American commercial attaché at Rio de Janeiro said 17,196,428 bags of coffee were destroyed in Brazil last year under its price raising program, compared with sales of 12,119,474 bags to foreign countries. The exports were about 2,000,000 bags less than in 1936. United States bought 54 per cent of the shipments.

U. S. Automotive Exports Rise to $360,168,528 in '37

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21. [Special.]—Exports of automotive products from the United States in 1937 were valued at $360,168,528, a gain of 43 per cent over the 1936 exports and the fifth consecutive year in which there has been an improvement in the automotive export field, the department of commerce's Automotive World News reported today. The 1937 total was the fourth highest on record.

STOCK PRICES RISE ALTHOUGH TRADE IS LIGHT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 21.—Led by public utility, oil, steel, and some other heavy industry shares, the general list of stocks today recorded gains of as much as 3 points. Trading continued light at 750,000 shares.

Traders were inclined to attribute the improved sentiment, which was a carryover from Saturday, to their hope of improvement in business, not yet borne out in statistics available to the public. European tension created by Chancellor Hitler's speech and changes in the British cabinet had no apparent effect on prices. Expectation of European buying was said to have contributed to the stronger tone, however.

Utilities Are Bright Spot.

Public utility shares were one of the bright spots, even displaying firmness in the initial hour when the remainder of the list was unsettled. American Telephone and Telegraph rose 2½ points, North American ½, Electric Power and Light common ¾, $6 preferred 2, and $7 preferred 3¾. Columbia Gas and United Gas Improvement was fractionally higher.

Standard Oil of New Jersey advanced 1¾ points. Texas corporation and Amerada added 1¾ points each as the leading shares in the oil section.

United States Rubber common and preferred, the trading features of last week, extended their gains. The common closed 1¾ points higher and the preferred jumped 4 points.

U. S. Steel Gains 1⅞.

United States Steel and Bethlehem each rose 1⅞ points. Rails had their best volume in some time and made gains ranging up to 2 points. New York Central advanced ¾, Santa Fe 1, Chesapeake and Ohio 1⅛, Chicago and Northwestern, ⅛.

Chemicals were led by du Pont, up 1½. Other outstanding gainers were American Can common, up 3¼ points, and Woolworth, up 1¼ points. Texas Pacific Land Trust, old, today made its third appearance of the year, selling at $1,075, unchanged.

Arrangements were made for the sale of a seat on the stock exchange for $67,000, unchanged from the preceding sale.

London Stocks Uneven.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Stock traders marked time today awaiting the outcome of the meeting of the house of commons which came after the close of the market. Business was also restricted by other European uncertainties and final prices were irregular.

The gilt-edged group was somewhat easier, and although transatlantic securities maintained a firm tone, closing prices were generally under those of last Friday. Japanese bonds sold off a point while German liens moved up 2 points. The remainder of the list was quiet, with fractional changes.

Paris Bourse Heavy.

PARIS, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Although international securities held firm the remainder of the list was generally heavy in the bourse today, due to European uncertainties. Suez Canal and Bank of France issues finished with small gains. The industrial section was generally lower.

BANKS WILL TAKE 40 MILLION BRIDGE BONDS FROM RFC

New York, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Two banking groups which are headed by Brown, Harriman & Co. and Dillon, Read & Co., have been formed to take over from the Reconstruction Finance corporation between $40,000,000 and $45,000,000 of the San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge bonds acquired by the RFC from the California Toll Bridge authority, it was disclosed today.

The bonds as they stand at present are 4½ per cent obligations maturing in 1968. It was understood a new series will be issued, based on the present issue as collateral and maturing serially as an appeal to a broader investment field.

It was understood the RFC will be ready to receive bids for the issue in about a week, after legal details are completed.

61 REPORT INCOMES ABOVE MILLION IN '36; 41 IN PRECEDING YEAR

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Sixty-one persons with net incomes exceeding $1,000,000 filed income tax returns in the period from January through August, 1937, compared with forty-one in the preceding year, the treasury announced today.

The sixty-one paid $77,138,000 in taxes compared with only $66,282,000 by the persons with net incomes under $5,000, but the latter had total net income $3,395,000,000 larger than the millionaires.

Individuals filing 1936 income tax returns reported incomes totaling $19,069,137,719, an increase of 30.1 per cent over 1935. The number of returns increased 21.8 per cent over those for 1935. Taxable returns increased 39.7 per cent.

The net income shown on taxable 1936 returns was $14,212,402,587, an increase of 42.7 per cent. The net income on nontaxable returns was $4,856,735,132, a rise of 3.5 per cent.

Large Utility Submits to Control Act

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—The Engineers Public Service company of New York, and its two subsidiary public utility holding companies—El Paso Electric company and Western Public Service company—today registered under the public utility holding company act.

The parent company controls properties serving a population of more than 2,250,000 in twelve states in the middle and south Atlantic, southern, midwestern, and Pacific northwestern areas. More than a score of owned or controled operating subsidiaries are included in the system.

40 Per Cent Register.

Chairman William O. Douglas of the Securities and Exchange commission announced that with the $369,679,000 assets of the Engineers Public Service system, more than $6,000,000,000 of assets or approximately 40 per cent of the companies to whom the act applies, have been submitted to federal regulation.

Other SEC officials and Douglas expressed satisfaction over the registration of the large utility system, and indicated that they expected similar action by several other companies soon without waiting for the Supreme court decision on the constitutionality of the act.

Speed Corporate Changes.

Donald C. Barnes, president of Engineers Public Service, said that certain corporate changes "are to be made without further delay." These adjustments will be announced later.

C. W. Kellogg, chairman of Engineers, is also head of the Edison Electric Institute, the statistical and information service of the power industry.

Kennecott Copper corporation of New York asked exemption from the utility holding company act. It told the securities commission its utility interests were incidental to its principal business of producing copper.

STEEL OUTPUT REMAINS CLOSE TO 30 PER CENT

Steel production this week is running at 30.4 per cent of plant capacity, the American Iron and Steel Institute estimated yesterday. This is the fourth consecutive week in which production has varied less than one point.

The institute estimated production at 31 per cent last week, 30.7 per cent two weeks ago, and 30.5 per cent three weeks ago. The industry was operating at 32.7 per cent a month ago, the high mark for 1938 to date.

Production in the Chicago district was scheduled at 23.4 per cent of capacity, compared with 23.5 per cent last week and 23.8 per cent a month ago, according to estimates made by Dow, Jones & Co.

Despite the lack of wide changes in the operating rate, Dow-Jones said there has been a "noticeable upturn in inquiries in practically every line" at one of the leading mills in the district.

ILLINOIS SMALL BUSINESS GROUP TO MEET TONIGHT

About thirty Illinois delegates to the recent conference of small business men at Washington, D. C., will attend a meeting at the Hotel Sherman tonight to set up an Illinois organization.

George F. McKiernan, Chicago printing company official, who called tonight's meeting, said that if a national organization is formed with membership composed of those attending the Washington conference he will urge cooperation and affiliation with it. He expressed belief that the Illinois business men can best use the experience gained at the Washington meeting by working through local organizations.

Norfolk & Western's Net Operating Income Falls

Net operating income of the Norfolk and Western railroad in January showed a sharp decline from the January, 1937 results. That of the Bangor & Aroostook showed an increase. Net operating income is income before the payment of bond interest and other fixed charges. Figures follow:

	January, 1938	1937
Bangor & Aroos.....	$353,039	$ 177,109
Nord. & West.....	760,009	2,365,361

DOLLAR VALUE RISES AS MORE FOREIGN FUNDS FLOW TO U. S.

The American dollar advanced moderately in foreign exchange dealings yesterday as the flow of foreign funds to the United States was renewed on a fairly large scale due to alarm over the European political situation.

After falling sharply early in the day most European currencies recovered partly in later dealings. The recovery was attributed to operations of official control funds.

The British pound closed at $5.01⅞ after dipping as low as $5.00¾. The final quotation was ⅛ of a cent below the Saturday closing quotation but still well below the peak price of $5.03⅛ reached late last week.

The French franc closed 0.00⅛ cent lower at 3.28⅝ cents. The Holland guilder closed 0.03 of a cent lower at 55.95, the Belgium belga, 0.00½ cent lower at 17 cents, and the Swiss franc, 0.01 of a cent lower at 23.21 cents.

TRANSACTION TAX CUT PLEA WON BY BOARD OF TRADE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—The house ways and means committee today finished its reading of the tax revision bill, which is expected to be reported early next week. The committee approved several changes contained in its subcommittee's report and defeated by a vote of 15-10 a resolution to drop the new section providing for a special undistributed profits surtax on corporations owned by a few persons.

After listening to pleas by members of the Chicago Board of Trade the committee voted to lower the present 3 cent transaction tax on trading in commodity futures to 1 cent. However, it voted also to eliminate the present exemption on "scratch sales," a move opposed by pit traders. The so-called "scratch sales" are transactions in which a trader buys and sells at the same price. Because the sale and purchase cancel each other, the trader "scratches" them off and does not pay a tax.

The exemptions from certain taxes on communication lines now allowed newspapers and press associations was extended to radio news services.

BRITONS REACH U. S. ON TRADE TREATY MISSION

New York, Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Arnold E. Overton, second permanent secretary of the British board of trade, and eight other members of the British trade mission to the United States arrived on the liner Queen Mary today on their way to Washington, D. C., to begin discussions of a reciprocal trade agreement.

The importance of the forthcoming negotiations was stressed by Overton, acting as spokesman for the mission, which included F. Grant, N. E. Archer, J. A. Stirring, G. L. Watkinson, W. E. Rhydderch, J. J. Forrester, T. H. Hammond and Miss H. V. Lupton, the delegation's secretary. Two representatives of the British foreign office, Maj. Oliver Steward and C. F. B. Harvey, accompanied them.

"The discussions," Overton said, "involve not only United Kingdom and United States relations but also trade between the United States on the one hand and that of Newfoundland and other members of the British colonial empire not self-governing."

Present Pig Iron Prices Extended to Next Quarter

Leading pig iron producers in the Chicago and Pittsburgh areas yesterday reaffirmed present prices for the second quarter. The base grade foundry price for pig iron is quoted at $24 a ton at Chicago, Toledo, and Erie, and $24.50 at Duluth. The steel companies last week reaffirmed prices for finished steel to extend over the second quarter.

Milwaukee Road Asks Bids on $2,235,000 Certificates

New York, Feb. 21.—[Special.]—The Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad has called for bids March 10 on an issue of $2,235,000 of equipment trust certificates, maturing one to fifteen years and bearing a 3¾ per cent interest rate. The certificates will be secured by equipment to cost about $3,000,000.

Bulk of Banks' Investments in Issues of U. S.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Of the $11,763,004,000 of investments by 5,266 active national banks in the United States, including Alaska, Hawaii, and the Virgin Islands, on Dec. 31, only $3,690,122,000 was represented by other than government or municipal securities. This was revealed in the last call for statements of condition by J. F. T. O'Connor, controler of the currency, the results of which he made public today.

Of the total investments on the call date of $11,763,004,000, the sum of $8,763,895,000 was represented by direct obligations of the United States government and $1,308,987,000 by obligations fully guaranteed by the federal government, a total of more than eight billion. Of the remainder $1,390,656,000 was in obligations of states, counties, and municipalities, and $3,690,122,000 in other bonds, stocks, and securities.

Assets Show Decline.

Total assets of the 5,266 banks on the call date aggregated $30,124,195,000, a decrease of $212,876,000 or 0.7 per cent from the showing on the call of 5,299 banks on June 30, the last call date, and a decline of $946,246,000 or 3.05 per cent from the amount reported a year before.

Other call statistics made public by O'Connor showed:

"Total loans and discounts of $8,809,448,000 represented an increase of $1,666,000 since the previous call and an increase of $542,120,000 since December, 1936.

"Cash in vault of $422,490,000 decreased $22,108,000 and $96,013,000 in the six and twelve month periods, respectively.

Deposits Show Decrease.

"The total deposits on Dec. 31, 1937, were $26,540,694,000, a decrease of $225,219,000 since June 30, 1937, and a decrease of $1,067,703,000 since Dec. 31, 1936.

"The book value of capital stock was $1,577,831,000, representing a par value of $1,582,713,000.

"The percentage of loans and discounts to total deposits on Dec. 31, 1937, was 33.19 in comparison with 32.91 on June 30, 1937, and 29.94 on Dec. 31, 1936."

EMPLOYES BACK STEEL FIRM IN LABOR HEARING

Johnstown, Pa., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Several nonunion workers testified today at the federal labor board hearing of the Bethlehem Steel case that the majority of employés refused to work with certain C. I. O. men after last June's strike. They said the company had nothing to do with the agitation against these strikers.

Company attorneys offered this testimony to refute charges made by some of the strikers that the company discriminated against them in transferring them to less desirable or less remunerative jobs after the strike.

Orval D. Smith, a sealer in the plate mill at Franklin Borough, testified he prepared the petition asking that four men be denied jobs at the mill after the strike. He said "most of the fellows I work with" thought the four "were not fit to work with us," because they had been "traitors" to the great body of workers who did not want to strike.

ORDERS RECEIVED BY CARRIER CORP. EXCEED $1,000,000

L. R. Boulware, vice president and general manager of the Carrier corporation, air conditioning equipment manufacturers, announced yesterday that the firm had received orders for more than $1,000,000 of equipment since Jan. 1, 1938.

The company at present is employing 507 salesmen in the field and 1,489 workers in its plant at Syracuse, N. Y., the total personnel being about 200 short of peak employment. Carrier corporation transferred all operations to the Syracuse plant five months ago. Plants of the corporation located in Newark and New Brunswick, N. J., have been sold, and others in Allentown and Bridgeport, Pa., have been closed.

The move to Syracuse cost $530,000, Boulware said, and rehabilitation and improvement of the plant buildings there necessitated an additional expenditure of $675,000.

U. S. Interest Policy Lashed as Trade Curb

The Roosevelt administration's low interest policy is a force that is working against business recovery because one of the essentials in maintaining low interest is the maintenance of low net profits, Dr. Melchior Palyi yesterday told a conference at the mid-winter meeting of the National Fraternal Congress of America at the Hotel Morrison. Dr. Palyi is a research economist of the University of Chicago.

Dr. Melchior Palyi.

Dr. Palyi said, however, that cheap money cannot be maintained for a very long time even by the influence of inflation, "because if inflation and cheap money policies take hold of the body economic they create a feverish condition of rising prices, rising turnover, growing production and increasing employment—in other words, a boom."

Tells Effects of Boom.

"But in a boom," he added, "interest rates must rise because net profits rise. The more net profits rise the more people who make net profits are willing to pay for loans.

"To maintain cheap money you must keep net profits low. Therefore, the logical consequence of a long run cheap money policy is the keeping of net profits low. This is what the Roosevelt administration has been doing.

"Its necessity of maintaining a cheap money policy compels the Roosevelt administration to put into effect numerous measures which serve to keep down the expectation of high net profits. On the other hand, by keeping the expectation of net profits down, the administration is succeeding in destroying the chances of an upturn.

"There is a contradiction in this cheap money policy—it should create an upturn, that is a situation of rising profits which would in turn raise interest rates.

"Holds Back Business."

"But under the administration's policy interest rates must be kept down. Therefore net profits have to be kept low which in turn helps to keep down money rates. But this also holds back the business upturn."

About 400 delegates are attending the congress, which represents 92 fraternal organizations. These fraternal organizations represent more than 5,000,000 members with a total of 4½ billion dollars of insurance in force. The sessions are divided into groups which include presidents, actuaries, secretaries, field managers and other divisions.

OLD JEWISH BANKS IN GERMANY PASS TO NEW OWNERS

BERLIN, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Two Jewish private banks of long standing in Berlin passed into Gentile hands today with their acquisition by Hardy & Co., Ltd., a German institution, it was disclosed.

The two houses were the S. Bleichroeder bank and Gebreuder Arnhold [Arnhold Brothers], the former founded by Samuel Bleichroeder 135 years ago, and the latter 74 years ago. Bleichroeder's rose to be one of the leading private banks of the empire. It was closely allied with the Rothschild interests and enjoyed at one time the confidence of the "Iron Chancellor," Bismarck. Arnhold Brothers also attained international repute.

Canadian System Orders 2,000 Cars at $7,000,000

Orders for 2,000 box cars to cost approximately $7,000,000 have been placed by the Canadian National railways. The National Steel Car Corporation, Ltd., and the Eastern Car company, Ltd., received orders totaling $2,450,000 each, and the Canadian Car & Foundry company, Ltd., received an order totaling $2,100,000.

EIGHT WEEK'S SALES OF CHICAGO FLEXIBLE SHAFT ARE $1,164,273

The Chicago Flexible Shaft company had sales of $1,164,273 in the eight weeks ended Feb. 19, an increase of 62 per cent over the $716,506 sales in the corresponding 1937 period. H. C. Wright, president, told stockholders at the annual meeting yesterday. He added, however, that he does not think such an increase can be maintained through the rest of the year.

Wright said the company's electric razor, introduced last fall, has been largely responsible for the sales gain. He said the present time is the seasonal low point for sales of the company's regular lines, and that these will assume greater importance from now on, lessening the effect of razor sales. He said November and December business showed a "decided drop" from 1936, $300,000 of normal reorders not being received.

After the meeting Wright took stockholders through the plant for a demonstration of the company's wool woven grinding wheel, which is being produced experimentally and soon will be placed in limited commercial use.

COAL FIRM WINS SECOND VICTORY OVER U. S. BOARD

Commission Ordered to Show Records.

New York, Feb. 21.—[Special.]—The Carter Coal company won another victory today over the national bituminous coal commission when the United States Circuit Court of Appeals granted its motion directing the commission to file a record of its proceedings which resulted in an order fixing bituminous coal prices. The court ordered the records produced on or before March 7.

The coal company contended that the schedules fixed by the commission would cut it off from competition in the New York market because they would necessitate an increase in price of 68 cents a ton. A motion to dismiss the complaint of the company, which operates mines in Virginia and West Virginia, was denied by the court.

Complaints Widespread.

Complaints against the price fixing orders of the coal commission, whose members, it is claimed, have little understanding of the problems of the industry, have been widespread. Illinois companies have pointed out that the prices fixed for coal in that state are so high that their coal cannot be sold in long established markets.

Today's victory by the Carter company was the second it has won over the national bituminous coal commission in less than two weeks. On Feb. 8 the United States Circuit Court of Appeals ruled that the commission had acted irregularly in fixing a new schedule for higher prices.

At the time the court held that the commission had issued its price fixing order illegally in that no testimony had been taken before it so it could arrive at a finding of facts.

The commission was represented by Robert N. Stern, special assistant attorney general.

Setback in Washington.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—(AP)—The government suffered a new setback in its effort to enforce minimum coal prices today when the federal Court of Appeals suspended the prices of 1,462 members of the Associated Industries of New York State, Inc.

Despite the court's far reaching order, however, the national bituminous coal commission decided to try to preserve the remains of its minimum price schedule for the time being, at least.

Judge Harold M. Stephens' order listed all the industrial association's members. Many of the biggest corporations in the nation are involved, some of them having plants scattered over the country.

Other developments in the coal situation:

The city of Atlanta, Ga., asked the Court of Appeals for an order similar to that obtained by the New York association.

Order Hearing on Plea.

The court ordered a hearing Wednesday on a similar petition by the Indiana Gas and Chemical corporation of Terre Haute, Ind.

The federal District court dismissed a similar suit by the city of Chicago on the grounds that the court lacked jurisdiction.

Although some coal lawyers have advised the commission to suspend all minimum prices, and "to start all over again," Chairman Charles F. Hosford Jr. told friends he would not vote for suspension.

Prices for the city of Cleveland, 209 railroads, and the New York association have been suspended in court on the ground that the commission fixed the minimum schedules illegally—without conducting a public hearing on proposed prices before they became effective.

END ARGUMENT IN WHITE, WELD STOCK HEARINGS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Attorneys submitted final arguments to the securities commission today on charges that White, Weld & Co., New York brokerage firm, caused an artificial rise of 27 points in the price of A. O. Smith corporation stock on the New York Curb exchange in 1935. The commission took the case under advisement.

John Lord O'Brian, attorney for White, Weld & Co., said the firm bought Smith stock purely for investment and not to promote speculative activity. He said the firm and its partners still held more than $300,000 of the stock and asserted it was unreasonable to believe that the company would buy securities for itself at "fictitious and artificial prices."

John T. Kelley, commission counsel, replied that White, Weld purchases caused the price to rise in a way to induce the public to buy. He said the firm bought stock on the Curb exchange, where transactions would affect the price, when it could have bought cheaper elsewhere.

HUSTON'S SPLIT WITH FCA TOLD IN LAND BANK CASE

New York, Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Testimony in federal court today in the case of bondholders of the Chicago Joint Stock Land bank against New York state stockholders brought forth a charge that Guy Huston was ousted as president of the institution in 1929 "because he got himself in wrong with the Farm Credit administration." The FCA has jurisdiction over joint stock land banks.

John H. Gertler, head of the former brokerage firm of Gertler, Devet & Co., took the stand before Judge John M. Woolsey and stated that his firm led the unsuccessful proxy fight to reëlect Huston as president of the bank, but liquidated its stock holdings when John B. Gallagher won the post.

The bondholders of the bank have brought action in federal court to have stockholders in New York state assessed 100 per cent of their stockholdings, approximating $1,500,000. The largest stockholder is Cago corporation, whose possible liabilities amount to $793,900. Gallagher, under whose administration the Chicago Joint Stock Land bank entered receivership, was later appointed receiver for the bank.

Today Gertler admitted that 5,592 shares of the bank's stock, which were transferred from his firm to Jean Gertler, his sister, and Selma Devlet, the mother of his partner, found their way into Cago corporation.

24 NEW PLANTS LOCATE ON RAIL IN CHICAGO AREA

Twenty-four new industrial plants were located on the New York Central system's lines in the Chicago area in 1937, W. C. Douglas, assistant general freight traffic manager of the road, said yesterday. In the same period eighteen existing industries expanded their facilities.

Douglas said that among the developments were the erection of a new plant for the Federated Metals division of the American Smelting and Refining company in Whiting, construction of a large addition to the Electro-Motive corporation's plant at La Grange, and the purchase of a former plant site of the Republic Steel corporation by the General American Tank Car corporation at East Chicago.

Monsanto Chemical Stock Listing Is Authorized

New York, Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Listing of 148,524 additional common shares of Monsanto Chemical company was authorized today by the New York Stock exchange. The new issue is being made in connection with the purchase on or before March 6 of the properties and assets of the Riverlioid corporation of Springfield, Mass.

January Internal Revenue Collections Much Higher

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Internal revenue collections totaled $305,388,195 in January, compared with $207,483,011 in January, 1937. Revenues from corporate and individual incomes, estates, gasoline, and matches were higher. Revenues from liquors, cigarets, and tobacco declined.

BUSINESS BITS

Sears, Roebuck & Co. yesterday announced retirement of Gen. W. I. Westervelt as technical director and factory manager. E. P. Brooks, supervisor of departments handling radios and accessories, and dairy and power equipment, will be the new factory manager. He is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, was among the first employés in the Sears retail organization, and first general retail merchandise manager. Gen. Westervelt came to Sears in 1928 after an army career which began with graduation in 1900 from West Point. He became an expert technologist, specializing in ordnance, and was assistant to the chief of artillery in France during the world war.

CATTLE, LAMBS RISE ON BETTER MEAT DEMAND

A better clearance of beef and lamb meat in wholesale channels bolstered the markets for cattle and lambs at the stock yards yesterday. Fresh pork also advanced, but increased supplies of hogs gave buyers the advantage in the trade and swine sold steady to 10 cents lower per 100 pounds.

Although gains were slight in the better grades of beef, packers reported a rather decided upturn in the medium kinds. Advances in some cuts ranged upward to $1.00 per hundred pounds.

Veal and lamb meat sold more actively at last week's closing quotations. Fresh pork ruled strong to 50 cents higher. Top light loins reached $19.00, the highest wholesale price in three months.

The hog supply totaled 24,000 head and was the largest for Monday in five weeks. The average average price for the session moved down 5 cents, to $8.40. The top, $9.10, was 10 cents under Saturday.

Strong to 10 cent higher prices were paid for slaughter lambs, the top at $8.10 reaching the highest level in almost a month. Steers and yearlings sold strong to slightly higher, some showing 10 to 15 cents gain. The top was $10.50.

FUTURES PRICES ON EGGS HIGHER; BUTTER STEADY

Egg futures prices advanced yesterday in light trading on the Chicago mercantile exchange in response to higher cash prices in wholesale markets in both Chicago and New York. February fresh graded first moved up ⅝ cent a dozen to close at 17¾ cents, and Octobers gained ¼ cent at 21⅜ cents. March storage packs closed unchanged at 19⅝ cents. Cash prices were unchanged to ¼ cent higher.

Butter futures closed unchanged. March contracts at 27½ cents a pound, February at 27¾ cents, and November at 29 cents. Cash butter prices also held steady.

The federal surplus commodity commission extended its buying program by the purchase yesterday of 87,500 pounds of 92 score butter at 29½ cents a pound, the same as last week. It announced it would buy about 5,000,000 pounds of surplus dry skim milk and would accept price bids on the proposed purchases.

GANNETT CALLS ON CONGRESS TO WIELD POWERS

Profit sharing in industry and recapture by congress of powers it relinquished to the President were urged as aids to recovery and employment yesterday by Frank E. Gannett, Rochester, N. Y., publisher. In a Washington's birthday address before the Union League club he declared that "what we need is more recovery and jobs for men before more reforms."

Discussing what he described as dangerous legislation, Gannett said the farm bill just signed by the President will give the secretary of agriculture "unheard of powers in controling farm production." "The wage and hour bill, which fortunately was defeated in the special session but may be revived, in its original form would have given the government control over all industry," Gannett added. "What disturbs me is that the public does not realize the signifiance of this trend toward a totalitarian state."

He urged abolition of the surplus profits and capital gains, taxes, reduction of federal spending, an "honest monetary system" and abandonment of an economy of scarcity.

Board of Trade Preparing to Mark Its 90th Birthday

Elaborate plans are being formulated by a special committee of the Chicago Board of Trade to celebrate the 90th birthday of the exchange, April 3. Tentative plans call for a banquet to which a large number of nationally known business men and others will be invited.

Why Incorporate?

"Why the rapid development of the corporate form of business organization, aside from increasing size?" asks an inquirer. This not only calls to mind the various advantages of incorporating a business rather than running it as a partnership, but the question of whether growth brought on the corporate form or whether corporate organization led to growth. In either case the corporate form is advantageous.

A growing company usually requires additional funds. Part of the needed money can be obtained by putting profits back in the business, a sound practice, but it often is not possible to obtain sufficient capital in this way. An unincorporated company must interest other individuals or companies in putting money in its business or obtain bank loans. The corporation has a much easier time, as a rule, in raising capital through sale of bonds or additional stock.

Closely akin to advantages in financing is the matter of liability. In a partnership each partner is liable for company obligations to the full extent of his resources. It is not surprising, therefore, that a man should hesitate to put his money in such a venture, particularly if he is to become a partner. No similar obligation exists in a corporation unless the stock one owns happens to be assessable.

Another advantage of the corporate form lies in its definite organization and limited control. In theory, at least, stockholders elect directors as their representatives in running the business. They can elect other directors if they are dissatisfied. Likewise, directors name officers who can be removed if their management is considered unsatisfactory.

On the other hand, partners are limited to their powers and rights to manage the business only to the extent outlined in the partnership agreement—even to removing their capital from the business. Legal regulations and practices are negligible compared with the comprehensive body of corporation law—which may or may not be considered an advantage, depending on personal viewpoints.

CHICAGO GRAIN FUTURES

	Yesterday.	Saturday.	Yr. ago.
Wheat	.92⅝	$ .93	*
Corn	.59⅝	.60	*
Oats	.31¼	.30⅝	*
Rye	.75¼	.75½	*
Soy beans	1.05¼	1.05¼	*

*Holiday.

Grain markets were somewhat unsettled yesterday. News developments were regarded as generally bearish, causing an early downturn in wheat. However, it rallied more than 1 cent from the low point as the result of fairly persistent buying by cash and commission houses. Closing trades were unchanged to ⅜ cent a bushel lower. Corn futures closed about ½ cent lower.

Although part of the support in wheat was attributed to buying by brokers who frequently act for export interests, no foreign business of consequence was reported. Liverpool futures closed as much as 1⅜ cent a bushel lower and reported pressure of Australian wheat.

Pressure Is Reduced.

Strength in security and commodity markets was said by brokers to have reduced pressure on the grain markets. Outside speculative interest was only fair, but sufficient buying developed around 92 cents a bushel for the May delivery to absorb the offerings in the pit for the sixth consecutive day despite the strong flow of bearish news.

Some professional operators evened up their accounts toward the close because of the Washington birthday holiday. Canadian and European markets will be open as usual today.

Corn Futures Narrow.

Corn futures held within a range of about ½ cent a bushel, and showed considerable resistance to selling pressure early only to ease toward the close on light selling. There was some buying of futures by brokers who frequently act for export interests, but only small sales were said to have been made abroad. The country sold 41,000 bushels for deferred shipment.

The visible supply of corn decreased 1,452,000 bushels last week, which was regarded as unusual for this time of the year. It was regarded as reflecting heavy export clearances. Total stocks were 36,200,000 bushels against 13,129,000 bushels a year ago.

E. I. du Pont de Nemours.

Answer: E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. is a leading manufacturer of chemicals and chemical products. Whereas a comparatively few years ago it was known principally as a manufacturer of explosives, its products now are used in a wide variety of industries and are of growing importance.

An important source of revenue for du Pont is its permanent investment in General Motors corporation common stock. This investment was equivalent at the end of 1937 to 10,000,000 shares, or 22.99 per cent of total General Motors shares issued. Of these shares, 9,843,750 were represented by du Pont's control of General Motors Securities corporation, which owned 11,754,587, or 27.02 per cent, of all issued General Motors common, at the end of 1937. On the average dividends from General Motors contribute a little more than one-third of du Pont's total income.

The company's research staf has been highly successful in developing new products, and a large part of total sales volume is contributed by products which were not on the market a few years ago.

Du Pont's manufacturing operations are divided into eleven departments, or divisions. Ranked in the order of contributions to 1937 sales volume, they are: fabrics and finishes department; organic chemicals department; the rayon division; the Grasselli chemicals department, which makes acids, insecticides, zinc and zinc products, etc.; explosives department; cellophane division; the R. & H. chemicals department, which produces electro-chemicals, ceramic chemicals, etc.; the ammonia department; the plastics department; the Krebs pigments department, and the smokeless powder division.

Du Pont's earnings in the first three-quarters of 1937 ran well ahead of corresponding 1936 periods until the final quarter. Earnings in recent years:

The corporation had 1,092,948 $100 par $6 debenture shares, 500,000 $4.50 no par preferred shares, and 11,032,724 shares of $20 par common stock outstanding at the end of 1937. Common dividends in 1937 totaled $6.25 a share.
